

NO PARTISANSHIP IN FIGHT FOR DECENCY

Great and Enthusiastic Crowd Hears Dr. Lane on Issues of Campaign, and Cheers Statement That His Administration Will Be Run for All the People.

REPUBLICAN TO GIVE DEMOCRATIC LEADER SUPPORT

Flegel Says Contest is Between Red Tickets, Red Lights and Licentiousness, and Decency and Honest Government, and Asks Good Citizens to Support the Right.

An enthusiastic meeting, with a clean-cut issue before it, and speakers who threw down the gauntlet of battle with fearlessness, was held last night in Hibernian hall, when members of Multnomah Democratic club and enough others to crowd the room ratified the nomination of Dr. Harry Lane for mayor and the other candidates on the ticket with him.

C. B. Williams presided and B. E. Haney was secretary. There were men of all factions of the Democratic party, as well as Republicans and Independents, and there was no question that Dr. Lane won them with his personality. Dr. Lane said:

"I want no question about my position in this fight. I want no one to misunderstand what I mean. We are in a campaign in which the opposition draws the solid vote of the wide open element. Let us put the issue squarely to them, and say that if we win, those who want control of government for mercenary and selfish purposes shall not find comfort in our election. I don't want any evasion. I call on the opposition to accept the gaze of battle on these lines. For this is the real issue in this fight."

Cheers for the Candidates.
And the crowd cheered until it became hoarse. Then A. F. Flegel started the enthusiasm anew when he said:

"I am delighted to see the Democratic party fight in this great fight. I am a Democrat, and I am with this movement with all my heart. Let's follow the leadership of Dr. Harry Lane and meet our opponents in the open."

"I believe that in Dr. Lane the people have a candidate who embodies the ideals of our best modern thought on civic affairs. Were he a Republican, he would be the candidate of the highest elements in that party. He stands for that which we want in our city government. It is a question between red tickets and red lights and licentiousness, and decency and good government and law abiding. This is what we must fight. Let us people and convince them, too. It is not an easy thing to win the people of Portland that they would support me for mayor. And that is the spirit in which I go into this fight."

AT THE THEATRES.

Red Feather Tonight.
Tonight at the Marquam Grand theatre Grace Van Stridford will begin an engagement of three nights with a special price matinee Saturday, in De Koven's romantic comic opera success, "Red Feather." Seats are now selling for the entire engagement.

"Parsifal" Returns.
The most novel and successful entertainment given this year at the Marquam was Richard Wagner's masterpiece, "Parsifal." In motting photographs with descriptive lecture by J. Alex Hanna. Owing to a good demand for a repetition, Manager Hellig has made special inducements to Mr. Hanna to present this entertainment again on Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, and a bargain matinee on Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Good Vaudeville.
Joseph J. and Myra Davis Dowling are so well known to patrons of the legitimate stage that the mere announcement that these artists are appearing at the Grand seems all that is necessary to insure a very enjoyable evening's entertainment. The Bell quartet comes in for a good share of applause. Several other good acts make up a very strong bill.

"A Woman's Revenge" Next Week.
All next week starting Monday afternoon, the Empire stock company will give a strong production of "A Woman's Revenge," which is an extremely sensational comedy that has long been a favorite with eastern stock houses.

Big Bill at the Star.
A full brass band, under the direction of D'Urban, is the great feature at the Star will invoke the partisan argument and try to whip the voters into line. But I declare to you that it is a fight between the better and the worse, and we must stand for the better.

"As to my candidacy for councilman at large, I will do just as I have done if I am elected. I stand on the same platform I have occupied for three years and for years before. I want votes on that platform, and won't ask for them on any other."

Justice for All.
Thomas Guinan, candidate for councilman at large, supported the position assumed by the other, adding that he regarded it as a fight between those who stand for justice to the average man and those who have given and will give favors to the rich corporations.

Ed Cahalin, candidate for the council from the fifth ward, endorsed what Councilman Flegel had said, and stated that he had been hearing men every day declare that they would stand for Dr. Lane and his policies, and could not be whipped into line by the old party cry.

Charles Petrain gave a polished address, and said that he wanted to subordinate his own candidacy for municipal judge to that of Dr. Lane for mayor.

R. D. Inman created enthusiasm when he urged the support of Dr. Lane, and called on his friends to get into the fight for him.

G. W. Aiken, president of the Young Men's Democratic club, H. W. Parker, candidate for the council from the sixth ward; Charles Dugan, candidate from the second ward; W. T. Vaughn, from the tenth, and M. G. Munly and Isaac Sweet also spoke. Then John R. James, a Republican, joined the throng and proclaimed his intention of supporting Lane.

The endorsement of Dr. Lane by the Municipal association was referred to by Dr. Lane, while he was speaking.

"I regard this as a very high compliment," said he, "one laying me under additional burdens of duty to see that nothing that I ever do officially on in a private relationship causes those men to blush for their part when they told the people of Portland that they would support me for mayor. And that is the spirit in which I go into this fight."

At the Lyric.
"Kathleen Mavourneen" is breaking all records at the Lyric this week. Seats are at a premium nightly and if applause and enthusiasm are any criterion the greatest of all Irish plays is pleasing nightly. Afternoon, 2:30 o'clock; evenings, 7:30 and 9:15 o'clock.

At the Empire.
"Our Boys," the famous English comedy, which is packing the house this week, has one of the world's records for long successful runs when first presented, and its power to draw a large audience is still our rounds.

UNITED BRETHREN MEET IN TOPEKA

Triennial Conference Opened by Addresses of Welcome by Governor Hoch.

BISHOP NICHOLAS CASTLE OF OREGON IS PRESIDING

Discuss Proposed Union of Church With Congregational and Methodist.

(Journal Special Service.)
Topeka, Kan., May 11.—Between 200 and 300 lay and ministerial delegates, including 20 women, and a large number of other visitors are gathered in Topeka for the triennial meeting of the general conference of the United Brethren church. The general conference is the highest tribunal of the church, and is to define the boundaries of the annual conference, hear and pass upon reports of general church officers, make and repeal rules of discipline, settle cases submitted on appeal from the decisions of annual conferences and elect bishops and other church officers.

In addition to delegates representing all parts of this country and Canada, there are representatives from the ecclesiastical jurisdictions in Germany, Africa, Japan, China and the Philippines.

The conference was formally opened today by Bishop Nicholas Castle of Oregon presiding, and owing to the unusually large amount of important business to come up it will probably be two or three weeks before the sessions are concluded. The sessions are being held in the hall of representatives of the state capitol, where the delegates were formally welcomed today by Governor Hoch and the Rev. Charles M. Sheldon.

An important matter to come before the present conference is the action relative to the proposed union of the Congregational, the Methodist Protestant and the United Brethren churches. This has been a subject of wide interest for some time, and both the Congregational and Methodist Protestant denominations have voted favorably in their general representative meetings. It is believed that the general conference of the United Brethren will likewise favor the proposed union.

Two other matters that will engage the attention of the conference are the election of two new bishops and a revision of the administrative plan of the missionary work. If carried, the latter provision will make the home and foreign missionary department each subject to a board of control and to a secretary of supervision.

The educational, general missionary, women's missionary, evangelistic, Sunday school and young people's work will all be reviewed, and some changes will be made in their plans and methods of work. The reports of the various officers and committees will show the past year to have been one of great activity for the various branches of denominational work. The church in America now has 47 conferences and three million districts, 75 presiding elders, 2,319 preachers, 3,390 organized churches, 3,328 church houses, valued, including grounds, at $7,555,947; 1,640 Young People's Christian union societies, with 63,123 members, and 3,458 Sunday schools, with an enrollment of 272,336. The total amount contributed to all purposes last year was $1,810,875.

Sam'l Rosenblatt & Co.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, May 11.—President Roosevelt left at midnight for Washington, having been the guest of the city for 12 1/2 hours, all of which was given to the public. During the period allotted for rest he received a delegation from the strikers, who protested against the proposed sending of federal troops to Chicago. The president replied, stating that he had received no request for troops, but that law and order must be upheld, and that in suppressing mob violence Mayor Dunne would have his hearty support. Concluding, the president said:

"In every effort of Mayor Dunne to prevent violence by mobs or individuals, to see that the laws are obeyed and that order is preserved, he has the hearty support of the president of the United States, and in my judgment he should have that of every good citizen of the United States."

"The union must obey the law, just as the corporation must obey the law, just as every man, rich or poor, must obey the law."

"Most certainly, if action is called for by me, I shall try to do exact justice under the law to every man, so far as I have power. But the first essential is the preservation of law and order, the suppression of violence by mobs or individuals."

In his speech at the Iroquois club the president spoke upon the Panama canal, railroad rates and the Chicago strike. He was enthusiastically applauded by the 700 Democrats present and the banquet took the form of an ovation. Speaking of the Panama canal, the president said:

"The Panama canal is going to be dug honestly and as cheaply as is compatible with efficiency—but with the efficiency first."

In reference to railroad rates the president stated: "I believe the federal government must take an increasing control over corporations. I believe that the representatives of the nation should lodge in some executive body the power to establish a maximum rate, the power to see that provisions of the law apply in full to the corporations owning private cars just as much as to the railroads themselves. I shall strive to appoint and retain men who will do exactly the same justice to the railroads as they will exact from the railroads."

The president then drifted to the discussion of the strike and pledged Mayor Dunne his hearty support in upholding the law. He said:

"This government is not and never shall be the government of a plutocracy. This government is not and never shall be the government of a mob. I believe in unions, but the union must be kept to a strict accountability to the power of the law."

"If ever the need arises, back of the city stands the state, and back of the state stands the nation. This country shall remain a country of liberty and justice under the forms of law."

STRONG PLEA MADE FOR GRAY'S PARDON

Petition and Prisoner Arrive at Salem Penitentiary on the Same Day.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, May 11.—Woodson Gray, convicted in the circuit court of Union county of killing one Halgarth near Elgin, Oregon, and sentenced to serve a term of five years, was received at the penitentiary yesterday. On the same train with him came Mr. Morelock of Elgin bearing petitions for Gray's pardon with the names of 800 citizens of Union county and personal letters from many prominent citizens. Also personal letters from the governor, secretary of state and the attorney-general of Kentucky, the ex-governor of Montana, and petitions bearing the names of judges of the court of appeals and a very large number of the senators and representatives of Kentucky.

The letters and petitions from Kentucky all pertain to the previous good character and habits of Gray, while those from Oregon assert that the killing was justifiable and done in self-defense. It seems that Gray and his son were attacked by Halgarth and that Gray was forced to shoot him to protect himself and son.

The governor is giving this matter the same careful attention that he does every application for a pardon.

SOME THURSDAY WANT AD NEWS

Farmers, here's a farm that perhaps will likely prove what you're on the lookout for: "240 acres of logged off land in Columbia county; two miles from Westport and one mile from Ross Landing station, Columbia river; land suitable for grazing or cordwood; good road; price $2 per acre. S. Stanley, 620 Junior St., Woodlawn, Oregon." See classification "For Sale—Farms" for other bargains in farms.

Quite a number of persons are looking for a good buy in a rooming house. This ad comes from many in the "Business Chance" column: "For Sale—22-room house, $1,200. Inquire at 263 Madison St." Might be well to find out particulars concerning it.

Here's a home for sale; are you looking for one? This is one from the "For Sale—Real Estate" column: "New 8-room house, 495 East Madison street, one block from car line, $2,750; terms to suit. James N. Davis, owner, 7 First St." How about looking at it?

From the "Male Help Wanted" classification: "Wanted—Two good cabinet-makers; call at 278 Vaughn St." Can you fill one of these positions? If not, mention it to your friend; maybe he can.

The festival will continue until the end of the week. The Chicago orchestra, conducted by Professor Albert A. Stanley and Frederick A. Stock, will take part, and the chorus parts of the opera will be carried by the choral union of the university.
