UMPIRE'S DECISIONS CREATE TROUBLE

Perrine Orders Whalen Off the Field and Threatens Other Players.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, May 19.—San Francisco 6, Portland 3. Batteries—Whalen and Wilson; French, Garvin and McLean. Yesterday's game was full of misuses on the part of the visitors, and wrangling with umpire Perrine, who was the center of many diamond mass meetings during the matinee.

When French and Jamie der Whale started the engagement as the exponent of the pitching art, but neither was destined to shine any length of time, for in the second the Seals took a liking to the southern boy's shoots and drove him to the bench. In the very next session the northern aggregation wasted Jamie some, which aroused the "handsome" lad's ire, and he necessarily had to give vent to his feeling in some manner, and casting about for a suitable object on which to deliver wrath, he fastened his eye on Bull Perrine. Der Whale had just started to elucidate on the rottenness of the official, when he was given the high sign to vamoose, and was succeeded by George Wheeler.

COLLEGE PLAYERS IN BRILLIANT GAME

Notable Contest in Which Princeton and Amherst Men Figured Last Week.

JAPANESE BALL NINE TO PLAY OREGON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, May 19.—Manager Earl of the baseball team was made happy today by receiving a letter from the manager of the Waseda University Japanese baseball team, which is now in Los Angeles, asking for a date with the local ball players on the sixth of June. Also Abe, the manager of the team, wrote that he was very anxious to meet the team from the state university, and asked to be advised at once if the date could be secured. Abe said for the game some time ago, but received no reply until today.

THOMPSON MATCHED TO FIGHT CORBETT. Evansville, Ind., May 19.—Charles Cornwall of St. Louis and Kid Lemmel of this city are slated for a 15-round fight tonight before the Crescent City Boxing club. The mill will be pulled off for a purse of $250 and a side bet. The two are regarded as evenly matched, and the result is awaited with considerable interest among the followers of pugilism.

THOMPSON MATCHED. Butte, Mont., May 19.—Maurice Thompson of this city, and Young Corbett, formerly featherweight champion, were practically matched last night to fight here on June 13. Corbett has written here asking for a match with Thompson at 130 pounds at 6 o'clock and his request has been granted. Thompson signed the articles and they were practically matched last night for Corbett's signature. Thompson is the young lad who recently made an excellent showing in the east, and his chances are well thought of in Butte.

AMHERST CATCHER, ALLOWED ONE OF McRAE'S CURVES TO GET AWAY BACK TO THE GRANDSTAND, AND REID MADE THE BEST OF THE OPPORTUNITY. When Dehaney got the ball Reid was on third. With only one out, here at last was another chance for Princeton to win the game. And Helm was passed to first on a hit-by-pitcher, and stole second. Then Captain Wells got in a slow grounder, which broke up the game. Reid thumped himself and hurried across the plate in a heap, just beating out Kellishar's throw. It was a cloudy day and when Reid's cheerful smile emerged from the dust at 20 minutes to 5 o'clock the shades of night were falling fast. The score:

TIGERS TRIUMPH IN EIGHTEEN INNINGS. During Match Only One Base on Balls Given, But Proved Not Costly. The longest and closest baseball game ever played by a Princeton nine if not the most remarkable contest in the annals of intercollegiate baseball, was that between Princeton and Amherst at University field last week. For 17 1/2 innings neither team could score a run, and it was not till the last half of the eighteenth that Princeton managed to get the single tally that won the game, and even that was unearned, in the technical sense. Up to the twelfth inning neither side reached third base, and during the entire game only three runners got that far—one for Amherst and two for Princeton. This was not because the batters did not hit the ball. Altogether, there were 84 put-outs and 41 assists on balls actually hit by batters, though in safe hits the total record was only 17—10 for Princeton and 7 for Amherst. There were 11 errors, which kept the batsmen from scoring, especially an only one on the mound in the scoring. These statistics show that both teams played well at the bat and at critical times, in the field. But the feature of the game that made it still more remarkable was the uniformly steady pitching and the endurance of Doyle of Princeton and McRae of Amherst, both of whom lasted the entire 18 innings. Every Amherst batter came up seven times. A conservative estimate would put the number of balls delivered to these 63 batters at nearly 400, which gives some idea of the great strain under which a pitcher is placed by such a long game. But during the entire 18 innings Doyle did not give a single base on balls, nor hit a batter, nor deliver a wild pitch. And while he scored only eight strike-outs, he allowed but six safe hits, two of which were scratches. After the sixth, or for 13 innings, the Amherst batters never hit the ball safely. Also Doyle had six assists, two put-outs, no errors, and at the last advanced an evenly matched pitcher, but before that his baseball at Princeton was confined to scrub games on the campus.

McRae's record in this game was also notable. He allowed only one base on balls, hit two batters, scored seven strike-outs, assisted in one double play, had one put-out and eight assists, and no errors. He did not, however, make a safe hit. But finally, in the last half of the eighteenth, D. Dowle reached first on Beach's error and was forced at second by Reid's grounder, the latter, however, being safe at first. Then Dehaney, the HILL MILITARY TO PLAY HIGH SCHOOL. The sixth game of the interscholastic league will be played on Multnomah field Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The competing teams will be the Hill school and Hill Military academy. These teams at the present date are the leading teams in the league. The Hill cadets have been somewhat disabled lately by the loss of Pitcher Clifford, who gave his arm a bad wrench in practice, but he will probably be in the game in other respects the team is in good form. The High school boys are also in good condition. The lineup is as follows:

LACROSSE TEAM WILL BE SWIFT BUNCH. Portland is going to surprise outside lacrosse clubs with the strong team that it will put on the field this year. Even this early in the season, the team shows up 100 per cent better than last year and it is known that several more premier lacrosse players intend to come to Portland within the next few weeks. These men will make Portland their future home and have also signified their intention of playing lacrosse with the locals. Last year at this time there was an average of eight men turning out to practice. Several of these had never handled a lacrosse stick before. Last night 20 seasoned players were out. "Ken" Campbell, the new defenseman, is a star. He is a steady player and always seems to emerge from a scrimmage with the ball on his stick. Fred Lawrence has been in the hospital for some time. Last night he turned out to practice for the first time and showed up in his old style form. Portland's weakest point at present is in goal. Last year Dr. Braden guarded the flags. The doctor's numerous duties prevent him turning out regularly for practice. However, "Doc" is too valuable a man to dispense with. Everybody hopes to see him in his old place next Sunday when the Portlanders play the Shamrocks.

SPORTING GOSSIP

It is reported that Sullivan and Mitchell have been matched for a fight at Tacoma in September. Whoever goes to see those ex-gladiators try to fight must be hard up to see a contest. It should be a fat scrimmage. All had the press agent.

It is hearing the time when the management of the Portland baseball club must awaken to the fact that the Portland nine is not sufficiently strong nor fleet to compete for anything but last and honor in the Pacific Coast league. Portland is decidedly weak at third base, left field and right field, both at fielding and batting. Another pitcher of quality is needed. Jay Hughes is the man that Portland needs to pitch and also to captain the team. Closely played contests look all right in print and for the other fellows, but when Portland is always at the short end, there is a reason for it. Skill Required—One must be very expert in fencing to engage in a duel.
