ADHER RECORD IN WHEAT MARKET

Twenty-Eight Cents is Paid at Corvallis for Lot—Highest Price in Years.

HOP CROP NOT SO BAD SAY THE LATE REPORTS

Eggs Higher With Smaller Stocks and Better Demand—Poultry Tons Better.

Franklin, May 28.—The principal feature of the Portland wholesale markets today are: Hop prospects not so bad. Wheat is dull and nominal. Corn is a larger supply. Car oranges in the morning. Car potatoes and car onions in. Car beefed and unchanged. Highest price is paid for wool. Eggs higher with light receipts. Poultry is firm but unchanged. Veal weaker with warmer weather. Beef coming faster. Salmon receipts continue small. Butter just fair at last week's rate. Cheese market a trifle weaker.

Highest Price is Paid for Wool. And still going up. The wool market is again on the up grade. Prices now being paid are seasonal. In the various markets of the east as well as Europe. Dealers here are excited and do not know just what to offer. Meanwhile some of them are getting their wits about and are going into the market. There are offering an advance over the quoted quotations in order to fill some urgent orders. The following from Corvallis explains the situation in the Willamette valley: Corvallis, May 28.—A sale of wool in the Corvallis market yesterday that has excited much comment, not exactly on account of the price paid, which was 28c per lb. for the highest grade, but because it was the highest price reached in the wool market in Oregon in probably 25 or 30 years, but more particularly on account of the fact that the sale was made by a lot of 24 years of age, who from five head of sheep realized a profit of $18.20. The average per head was $1.84, and the average weight per fleece was 15 pounds. The five sheep were said that the lot had taken special care of, and the sale is about the best reported in this section this season. There are only small lots of wool outstanding here, about at present, and the price related to the only Wednesday, standing at that figure since the war, when it sold at 15c to 20c.

Hop Crop Not So Bad. Late reports to the Journal indicate that the hop crop of Oregon is not so much as had been generally anticipated, especially by the bull-leaders of the market. The reports generally state that many hills are missing, but that the crop is not so much as had been generally anticipated. All reports indicate that on an average the hop crop is now in better condition than it was at this time last year. Some authorities gave their opinion that the yield would be in the neighborhood of 80,000 tons, while this paper has already said that the yield would be over 70,000 or 80,000 tons. The market at the moment is very quiet, and the growers are now being written for the very best reasons. The dealers in the market are very much worried on this subject when it comes to prices. These contracts have been made some time ago, so do not properly represent the present situation. Very conflicting reports as to the present crop continue to come from New York and San Francisco.

Poultry Market in Good Shape. There is a very good tone ruling in the poultry market here. Receipts are material, but increased demand is somewhat better. Everything that now comes to market is cleaned up at prevailing prices. Receipts are material, but increased demand is somewhat better. This market has been successful.

Butter Fair at Last Week's Rate. There was only a fair tone in the creamery butter market today. No changes appear in the prices since the advance quoted in all grades a week ago. The best grades are selling on the street at 22c and this is the price ruling today on city creamery product. Country butter is firmer with no change in values. The demand continues from the city and the cheese market is showing a tendency to weaken and some dealers are making concessions in prices in order to move stocks.

Several Cars of Produce Arrive. Today several cars of produce were unloaded on the street. A car of Mediterranean sweet oranges arrived in a car of some California red onions. The former prices held. A car of potatoes from California is on the track and it is quite likely that it will be here tomorrow morning. Several cars of Minnesota potatoes are drawing near to this city. Apples are fluctuating very badly in value notwithstanding that stocks are just as small as ever.

Veal Weaker With Warmer Weather. The veal market is weaker today on account of the warmer weather. Receipts are larger and prices are being cut in many instances by the market to move.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS HAD THORNS IN THEM

Eight Wives Tell Judge Sears That Their Marriages Were Cruel Failures.

Bitter Tragedies in County Court Today.

Mrs. Eva Hall's Story Arouses Desire in Hearers to Lynch Her Husband.

Eight aggrieved wives told Judge Sears today about their cruel and inhuman husbands, and to each one was spoken the words that unmarried them. The customary quietude of a Friday morning in court, with black-robed judges carrying ponderous tomes and clerks hurrying hither and thither, and uninteresting exparte matters coming up for the judge's rulings, was broken when Court-Crier Powell announced that the honorable circuit court of the state of Oregon for Multnomah county was now in session.

Usually at this moment there is a shuffling of heavy feet and a lot of nonchalant men arise to pay their respects to the judiciary according to the long established custom.

This time it was different. When the first set forth his announcement, there was a rustle of silk skirts and a bobbing of wide-brimmed picture hats, and before the judges on bench, stood an array of feminine beauty such as has not been seen in the dingy old courthouse for many a day.

The judges and lawyers, while not showing their sense of dignity and in nowise violating the traditions of the court presence, nevertheless manifested no little interest in the solid phoanix of the gentle sex who had come to storm the matrimonial barriers that separated them from freedom from a lot of husbands, every one of whom, according to the complaints, had been guilty of cruel and inhuman treatment of their better halves, had deserted them in utter disregard of their marital vows, and in most instances had refused to provide for the support of wives and children.

Judge Sears heard all the cases, and although there might have been some comedy features as viewed by the careless observer, there was plenty of tragedy, as the plaintiffs related their stories of inhumanity.

Eva Hall told Judge Sears, as she previously had recited in her complaint, that she was married at her husband, Eddie Hall, took her to live in a logging camp, and compelled her, a mere child, to perform all sorts of menial duties and to do the washing for him and other members of the logging camp.

Other heartrending tales were related, and at times tears appeared as the wife told how her husband had made false promises against her and made her life miserable by his bad treatment.

The divorces granted were: Eva Hall from Eddie Hall, married in Reiner, Oregon, March 14, 1887; Julia Bell from Charles E. Bell, married in Pittsburg, Kansas, September 23, 1901; Myrtle Conception from John D. Conception, married in Astoria December 16, 1904; Helene Moot from Albert Moot, married at Mount Angel, Oregon, May 20, 1903; Mary Fitzgerald from Michael Fitzgerald, married in Vancouver, Washington, November 27, 1886; Eva R. Brooks from August Edwin Brooks, married in Bidder, Washington, January 30, 1902; M. H. Hossfield from H. Hossfield, married in Portland, November 3, 1898; D. Gee from L. Gee, married March 12, 1884; Many Saleh from Aferi Saleh, married in Boston.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETING AT DALLAS

Large Attendance and Much Enthusiasm at Biennial Convention.

Chicago, May 28.—The biennial convention of the Christian Endeavor union for the west, held in Dallas, Texas, May 28-30, 1906, is now in session.

The convention is the largest ever held in this district. The Thursday evening session was held in the Presbyterian church. There was a large attendance, and the speakers were Professor D. M. Metzger, dean of the Dallas college, is president of the association.

Thursday evening's session was opened at 7:45 o'clock with song service and at 8 o'clock the convention sermon by Rev. J. F. Claycomb of McMinnville, closing with a solo by Professor H. H. Dunkelberger of Dallas.

This morning the session began at 8:30 o'clock with the enrollment of delegates. At 9 o'clock devotional service, conducted by Fred Henry of Clatskanie, followed by business and the appointment of committees. At 9:30 o'clock, "Ways of Attaining the Highest Standard of Spirituality in the Meetings and Work of the Society," by member of Friends' society of Newberg. This was followed by an address, "Ways of Employing and Winning Associate Members," by Miss Bessie Young of Dallas.

At 10 o'clock the convention adjourned until 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, when the convention opened with devotional service, conducted by William Robb of Clatskanie, Oregon. A paper on "Junior Work" was then read by Mrs. Marie Cuts of Newberg, and an address on "Intermediate Work," by O. Arnold of Astoria, followed by a conference on "The Two Subjects Presented," followed by an address, "Informing the Young People About the Church," by Rev. J. A. Brown of Clatskanie.

The evening session and at 8 o'clock adjournment will be taken until 7:45 o'clock. A song service will open the evening session and at 8 o'clock an address by W. H. Boyd of Forest Grove, followed by a song by the Ladies' quartet will close the sessions.

A Step in the Right Direction. That prices in commodities and necessities of mankind are sold as low in price as in any other city in the United States is a fact, but the public is apt to get the idea that prices are high. The Chicago—the big store in the middle of the block, 49-51-73 Third street, between the State and Duane streets, is a special sale of Fine Suits at $11 that cannot be beat anywhere in the United States. Several hundred $15, $16.50 and $18 suits have been placed on separate tables and will be sold at $11 by Chicago. These splendid suits are all high-class hand-tailored in all-wool-serges, clays, tweeds, chevots, homespuns and unfinished worsteds, black, blue, gray, gray mixed, side neat stripes, checks, broken, black and Depper and salt mixtures. The Chicago will show to all visitors that Portland is a city of sharp and live competition, where the highest quality merchandise made in sold at the lowest possible prices. The Chicago invites all judges of clothing to examine the wonderful bargains offered in this grand sale now in progress. No better time for a thrifty man to save his spring suit than right now.
