

COUNCILMEN HAVE CHANGE OF HEART

Two Notify Mayor They Will Support His Veto of Gas Grab Bill.

IMPROVEMENT COMPANY WILL REFUSE TO LEASE

Million-Dollar Street Sweeping Contract Repudiated by Weaver.

(Journal Special Service.) Philadelphia, May 27.—Out of respect to the late Justice Dean, whose funeral takes place Monday, the common pleas court has continued the hearing in the injunction argument on the cause of a depositor against the mayor and new appointees until Wednesday.

Judge Worn by Opponents of Philadelphia Gas Steal.

At a veto of the gas grab bill, Edwards held out until he was waited on by a committee of several hundred citizens. He informed the mayor this morning of his change of heart.

Following a meeting of the directors of the United Gas Improvement company today, President Dolan sent a communication to the council announcing that the company would not accept the proposition to lease the plant if it should be ratified.

Mayor Weaver has repudiated a $1,000,000 contract of the kind that has fattened the Republican machine for many years.

ASSEMBLY WILL HAVE ADVISORY FUNCTIONS

(Journal Special Service.) St. Petersburg, May 27.—According to the latest information, the representative assembly which is to be formed will have advisory functions and will consist of 300 members.

PAY FOR BOISE BUILDING.

(Journal Special Service.) Washington, D. C., May 27.—The secretary of the treasury has sent government warrant for $19,505 to H. A. Ridenbaugh in full payment for erecting the Boise public building. Finances amounting to $23,000, and $7,900 paid out in rental, which Ridenbaugh was liable for, were remitted.

CASHIER DYING.

(Journal Special Service.) Stockton, Cal., May 27.—Cashier Louis Kahn of the wrecked Bank of Oakland, who attempted to commit suicide, is worse this morning. Physicians now say there is no hope for him. The bank commissioner today is going over the books of the bank and will not know how great the failure is until tonight.

MAY GOES TO PARIS.

(Journal Special Service.) Had Neuheim, May 27.—Secretary Hay left today for Paris, where he will be joined by Mrs. Hay and leaves for America next week. He is much improved by the bath, and will abstain from all business for several months.

TRIBUTES TO JUDGE BELLINGER

(Continued From Page One.)

He institutions, and took an active and influential part in whatever was of interest to the community in which he lived.

"He was one of the most widely known and honored citizens of the Pacific coast, a sincere friend and distinguished lawyer and a just and upright judge; therefore:

"Resolved, That the members of this bar share in the public estimate of the character of the deceased and in the universal grief at his loss.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased with our sincere sympathy in their bereavement, and that request be made that they be entered upon the records of this court, and the United States district and circuit courts over which he presided.

"C. A. DOLPH, "GEO. H. WILLIAMS, "FREDERICK V. HOLMAN, "JOHN M. GEARIN, "GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN."

Mr. Dolph's remarks were:

Tribute to the Dead. "May it please the court: In moving these resolutions I need not recount the services of the dead jurist, and was heard with close attention. He said:

"I have been requested by the chairman of the committee to supplement by some words of my own the resolutions which have just been reported to this meeting for adoption. I comply with that request, although there is nothing I can say—nothing any man can say that would adequately express in words the shock of grief which the news of the death of Judge Bellinger brought with it to the members of the Multnomah county bar and the people of the state.

"For over thirty years I knew him, and during most of that time intimately. I met him first in 1873, was his partner afterwards, and his friend always; and during all that time there never was a day, nor an hour, nor a moment of any day or hour when there did not exist between us the warmest feelings of mutual friendship and esteem. His memory is endeared to me now, not only by the business associations and official relations of later years, but still more so by the many, very pleasant and ineffaceable recollections which all the changing scenes of our long acquaintance have left behind them.

Able, Upright and Honest. "I tried cases with him and against him—and before him while he was a judge of this court, and later of the federal court—and I know that I but voice the universal sentiment of the bar when I say that he was an able lawyer, an upright judge and an honest man—greater praise than that can come to no man.

Honored for What He Did. "Why is it that such a tribute of respect and affection should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence. What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

to teach a village school. I was attracted by his charming personality and the chance acquaintances then made with him soon ripened into a close friendship, which endured through all the intervening years, during which our relations, whether as opponents in business, court and bar, associates in business, court and bar, or as friends, were never, so far as I ever knew, marred by a single thought of word or action.

"He left our firm to accept the high office to which he was called reluctantly, and with the understanding that in case, at the expiration of one year's experience on the bench, he found the position distasteful to him, he could, if he so desired, resume his place in the firm.

"To my few friends here I have been so ardently attached. The loss of none do I more sincerely or more profoundly deplore.

"John M. Gearin spoke eloquently on the services of the dead jurist, and was heard with close attention. He said:

"I have been requested by the chairman of the committee to supplement by some words of my own the resolutions which have just been reported to this meeting for adoption. I comply with that request, although there is nothing I can say—nothing any man can say that would adequately express in words the shock of grief which the news of the death of Judge Bellinger brought with it to the members of the Multnomah county bar and the people of the state.

"For over thirty years I knew him, and during most of that time intimately. I met him first in 1873, was his partner afterwards, and his friend always; and during all that time there never was a day, nor an hour, nor a moment of any day or hour when there did not exist between us the warmest feelings of mutual friendship and esteem. His memory is endeared to me now, not only by the business associations and official relations of later years, but still more so by the many, very pleasant and ineffaceable recollections which all the changing scenes of our long acquaintance have left behind them.

Able, Upright and Honest. "I tried cases with him and against him—and before him while he was a judge of this court, and later of the federal court—and I know that I but voice the universal sentiment of the bar when I say that he was an able lawyer, an upright judge and an honest man—greater praise than that can come to no man.

Honored for What He Did. "Why is it that such a tribute of respect and affection should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence. What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

"Ambition leads men on in the pursuit of wealth and fame, and if at last the goal is reached, should be paid to the memory of this man? Every day some citizen of our state is taken from among us, and yet we are apt to give but little thought to the occurrence.

"What was it in the life of Charles J. Bellinger that should cause this universal sorrow? Was it because he occupied a high place and power command respect, and that he was a man of high place, nor power, nor gold can purchase love.

King Alfonso of Spain, Who Is About to Visit France.

record of his life may have earned for him the same respect and regard and tender affection which abides in the heart of each of us this day, and will ever remain there for the memory of Judge Bellinger.

The resolutions of the law school alumni were signed by O. L. Price, F. C. Hoecker, E. H. Cahall, John Van Zante, Sol Bloom, Arthur C. Spencer, John F. Logan, A. L. Vesale, P. G. Greene, C. J. Gantenbein, Lawrence A. McNary, J. F. Boothe, William T. Muir and John M. Pittenger. The resolutions reviewed the 15 years in which Judge Bellinger served as instructor in equity in the law school, and analyzed his good qualities and professed to the family of the departed teacher their sympathy.

CRACKED EGGS IN DEMAND. From the San Francisco Chronicle. Despite the law of supply and demand, the manipulations of speculators or trade changes caused by abnormal advances in prices, there is one food commodity in San Francisco for which the market value never fluctuates one iota, and that commodity is cracked eggs. For many years the price has remained fixed at 10 cents a dozen.

Quite an extensive trade is in progress in this food product, and daily, in that section of the city which houses the wholesale produce firms, may be seen a score of women and children, mostly girls far from their teens, residents of the south side, North Beach, the Telegraph hill district and other of the humbler sections, with small baskets going from one butler and egg cart to another in quest of supplies.

No questions are asked as to the state of freshness of the eggs or how badly they are cracked, but to the demand for cracked eggs the salesman, generally a store porter, replies, in the affirmative or negative, and not very suavely at that. Should there be cracked eggs on hand the buyer will take from one to five dozen, paying the established rate without remark.

There are two seasons when cracked eggs are most plentiful and when the operators in this peculiar trade experience little difficulty in securing whatever quantity they desire. One is during the spring months, when the wholesalers begin their storage operations, which necessitates considerable handling of the eggs in order to make selections that will stand cold storage profitably. The other season is in the fall and winter, when the eggs are withdrawn from the ice plants, candied and graded into "firsts, seconds, thirds and bakers' stock. Naturally, with so much handling there is a good percentage of breakage, but no matter how great it is there is never a surplus of cracked eggs, the steady stream of buyers keeping the market cleaned up hourly.

In the spring there is little chance of receiving stale eggs, but in the fall and winter the buyers are not so fortunate. Unscrupulous dealers, in order to save a total loss on stock that proved unsuitable for storage, purposely crack the bad eggs and realize 10 cents a dozen from these poor customers, who with fresh eggs selling in the neighborhood of 60 cents a dozen, do not seem to mind a little off flavor considering that they were only compelled to pay 10 cents for them.

A side from the white people who purchase cracked eggs, the Chinese are also great customers, but no matter how anxious they are for supplies, having learned the 10-cent price, they will offer no more for them.

Stunted. From Life. "What's the matter with that little Cuban baby?" He looks like par."

"Yes, modern science did it."

"How's that?" "Oh, he was brought up on sterilized cigars."

Son Lost Mother. "Consumption runs in our family, and through it I lost my mother," writes E. H. Reid, of Harmony, Mo. "For the past five years, however, on the slightest sign of a cough or cold, I have taken Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which has saved me from serious lung trouble. My mother's death was a sad loss for me, but I learned that long-tossing coughs and colds are neglected, and how to cure it. Quick relief and cure for coughs and colds, price 25c and $1.00, guaranteed at Rod Cross Pharmacy, 813 and Oak streets, on the way to the postoffice. Trial bottle free.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PRESBYTERIANS ENDED

(Journal Special Service.) Winona Lake, Ind., May 27.—The Presbyterian general assembly ended at noon. The lawyers named to prevent legal entanglements in the consolidation with the Cumberland branch include Justice Harlan, Judge Lansing of New Jersey and Judge McMillan of Washington.

Yesterday afternoon's session closed with a vigorous debate on the resolution offered by the temperance committee and a resolution was passed censuring the management of any college or university permitting students to drink intoxicating liquors. The use of tobacco and the manufacture and sale of cigarettes were condemned.

NO GOVERNMENT INQUIRY. (Journal Special Service.) Washington, May 27.—President Roosevelt has determined that the government has no power to inquire into the operations of the Equitable Life Assurance company and it is doubtful if congress could empower government officials to make such inquiry.

Began at the Top. From the Chicago Journal. Philosopher—Young man, in order to succeed in life you must begin at the bottom and work up.

Young Man—That wasn't my father's motto. He began at the top and worked down.

"And made a failure, I suppose?" "Not at all; he made a fortune coal mining."

WELCOME ALFONSO TO SUNNY FRANCE

Paris Prepares Royal Reception for Young King of Spain on His First Visit.

MONARCH TO SLEEP IN BED USED BY NAPOLEON

Military and Social Entertainments Will Occupy Entire Coming Week.

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, May 27.—Because of the prospect that it may have important political and commercial results, France is awaiting with eagerness the approaching visit of King Alfonso, who accompanied by the Spanish minister of foreign affairs and other distinguished Spanish officials, will cross the Spanish frontier on Tuesday morning. It will be the young king's first journey beyond the confines of his own kingdom. From the frontier until he reaches Paris, King Alfonso and his entourage will see decorations, including the entwined arms of France and Spain, which the enthusiastic French peasants have raised at almost every station.

On the day of his arrival the king will be received at the railway station by President and Mme. Loubet, the presidents of the senate and chamber of deputies, and other high officials of the republic. French soldiers in their standard uniforms will surround the station and stretch in two lines along the flag-bedecked Bois de Boulogne, through the Arc de Triomphe and Champs de Elysees, to the Place de la Concorde, where a battery will add its thunder to the official welcome. Between the lines of troops King Alfonso, accompanied by the French president and Mme. Loubet, will drive to the palace of the ministry of foreign affairs, where he will be lodged during the greater portion of his stay. The apartments have been exquisitely furnished and the king will sleep in the bed used by Napoleon.

On the day of his arrival the king will dine at the Palace of the Elysees, the president's residence. On Wednesday he will drive through the streets of Paris, accompanied by the Spanish ambassador and M. Loubet's aide-de-camp, receiving the Spanish colony at the embassy subsequently. In the evening there will be a gala performance at the opera, in which some of the most distinguished artists in France will appear.

There will be military exercises at the Chateaux school on Thursday, and a reception at the Elysees at night. The king will visit the cavalry school at Saint Cyr, and will return by road by way of Versailles, Saint Cloud and the Bois de Boulogne. A gala performance will be given at the Comedie Francaise, which he will attend with M. Loubet.

On Saturday there will be a review of the Paris garrison and in the evening the king will meet the presidents and ministers at a dinner given by the Spanish ambassador. He will accompany President Loubet to the Auteuil races on Sunday and dine with M. Dolcaux at the Quai d'Orsay, leaving at midnight for Cherbourg, where he will receive salutes from a squadron assembled there.

BIDS FOR PANAMA LUMBER. (Journal Special Service.) Washington, May 27.—Bids for the Panama canal construction for 1,000,000 feet of lumber were opened yesterday. The bids were received from firms as follows:

Eastern & Western Lumber company, Portland, $228,500; Pacific Export-Lumber company, Portland, $221,446; Tacoma Mills, $240,111; Arthur Garwell, Seattle, $257,740; Bellingham Bay Improvement company, $228,917; J. J. Moore, San Francisco, $215,654.

Concert Tonight. Concert tonight at the Marquon for the Travelers Aid society. Tickets now selling at 50 cents. Every dollar's worth of tickets entitles one to reserve seats. Rose Bloch Bauer, Mrs. Walter Reed and May Dearborn Schwab will be the soloists, assisted by full orchestra and a chorus of eighty well-trained voices under Mrs. Edgerton's direction. The public is cordially invited to contribute to this worthy cause.

When questioned in regard to his abandonment of private practice in order to devote himself to the new line of work for humanity, Prof. Hadley said: "Yes, it is true; but I intend to go on curing any one who is ill of any disease, no matter how long it may last. I am able, indeed, where I cured hundreds before, I expect to cure thousands hereafter. I have no fear, neither wealth nor poverty makes any difference in my accepting patients. I have become convinced as a Christian that it is my duty to help the sick and afflicted wherever they may be, whoever they are and whatever the circumstances may be."

"But how about those at a distance?" "Distance makes no difference. I can cure by thousands of those who are as easily as those who come to my office. A letter does just as much good as if I went to them or they came to me."

"Do you really mean that any one who is sick can write to you and be cured, without paying you any money?" "Exactly. I mean just that. All that any one who is ill has to do is to write to me, addressing Wallace Hadley, M. D. office, 252C No. 225 Broadway, New York, telling me the disease they suffer from most and their principal symptoms, and I will send them a course of medicine absolutely free of charge. While I am not a millionaire, and I appreciate the expense this may mean to those who are poor, I have no proving my power to the world, and in showing the uselessness of wasting money on doctors and medicines when it is not necessary."

"THREE PA." At 367 Ankeny street, between Third and Fourth streets, tonight the man from California will read and expound Subject "Three PA."

MYSTERIOUS PANOPATHIC PROFESSOR HEALS HOPELESS INVALIDS.

ROYAL Baking Powder Makes Clean Bread. With Royal Baking Powder there is no mixing with the hands, no sweat of the brow. Perfect cleanliness, greatest facility, sweet, clean, healthful food. Full instructions in the "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook" book for making all kinds of bread, biscuit and cake with Royal Baking Powder. Gratis to any address. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 109 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

Justice Vernon M. Davis, of the New York Supreme Court, Who Declared That Nan Patterson Had Lied on the Witness Stand, and Was Undoubtedly Guilty of the Murder of Caesar Young. His Action Has Roused Discussion as to the Propriety of Expression