MONDAY BARGAINS

"FOOTNOTE"

In accordance with the invariable and time-honored custom of this "Old Homestead" Store of observing ALL holidays by a recess from business duties, we shall, of course, remain closed ALL DAY TUESDAY—"Memorial Day," as a mark of homage and respect to the "Old Guard" who've gone on before to that bourne from which no traveler returns, and their comrades who offered to their Country all that man can give in defense of our Country's flag. Long may they live to enjoy that peace their valor won.

On Thursday, "Lewis and Clark Day"

The store, with its hundreds of helpers, will join with all Portland and thousands of visitors in celebrating OREGON'S natal day at the Exposition, and letting the world know that the "ROSE CITY" is a burgh of "live ones. "STORE CLOSED?" OF COURSE!

GREATEST SPRING MONTH IN THE STORE'S HISTORY. MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY WILL BE BARGAIN DAYS IN A CLASS BY THEMSELVES—PAR EXCELLENCE

"Fortune favors the brave," and it required unquestioned courage to undertake the colossal stunt we shouldered a week ago of handling, on top of already heavy summer stocks, over $100,000 worth additional merchandise; bought even as it was, at such tremendous sacrifice from manufacturers who suffered wholesale cancellations from Chicago's stricken retail houses. And more has arrived. Goods in process of manufacture in the shops and factories when the orders were canceled received finishing touches and were hurried to us by express. Ready tomorrow for our patrons, marked at unprecedented prices that represent but mere fractions of actual worth. 'Twill be easy crowding a week's business into four days—as must be this week—when such bargains abound. Buying will attain tremendous momentum, and every minute bristles with new values. A partial list of Monday bargains are printed today. More will follow in Monday morning's paper.

MEMORIAL DAY

Look from the rear of a rushing train, how the road seems to narrow down—back, back, back, till the tracks seem to come together. The giant rails from 100 pounds to the yard are losing, losing in softer color, as though caught but the charcoal of their creation were left—and that gently losing in intensity.

It's a long cry—back to the horror years of 1861-5; back to the days when brother opposed brother; when even the bonds of church's union did not in all cases stand the strain. Such bitter days—loved ones falling under the deadly fire of an enemy, and that enemy our kinsman in nation and sometimes in very blood. To the combatants then there was nothing of right across the lines. But the years of the Sixties are flung into mellowness. Our keen griefs are become hallowed memories. Our Dead! And the Blue and the Gray, one in blood, one in the Great Beyond where they are now, shall year after year be honored by hush of commerce and act of reverence.

All Goods Bought on Credit Accounts Monday or Wednesday Will Be Charged on June Bills

A Whirlwind Finish to the Biggest May Business Ever Done by Any Portland Store
