

CHAMPIONS OF STATE GRANGE

Evening Star Grange No. 27. Top Row: From Left to Right—Stewart Bryson and Messrs. Spooner, Wester, Thomas, Gibb, Milam, Drake and Harless. Second Row—Messrs. Biner, Bates, Moll, Hicken, West, Hickey, Mrs. Becker, Miss Cochran, Mrs. Wester, Miss Thelma Moll, Miss Lambert, Mrs. Coster, Miss Fabe, Mrs. Jensen, Mrs. Johnson, Mr. Gilmer, Miss Crowell, C. Biner, Mr. Antonson and Mr. Brookman. Third Row—Miss Anna Moll, Mrs. Gates, Miss Myers, Miss Folkman, Miss Anderson, Mr. Welsh, Mr. Smith, Mr. Folkman and Mr. Elliott. Fourth Row—Mrs. Eaton, lady's assistant steward; B. Lee, Eagle, scallop; Professor N. W. Bond, Lecturer; J. Johnson, Master; Miss Anna Moll, Steward; Miss Julia Spooner, Clerk; Miss C. Malick, Sumner; Mrs. C. Milam, Treasurer; Miss Elliott; E. T. Peterson, assistant steward. Browning Bros. photo.

A large number of Grange members were in attendance Thursday at Forest Grove when the contest was held. The big university hall was arranged for the work. The contest was to be the star drill and harvest scene combined. This gave opportunity for the 44 members of the local lodge to appear to best advantage. Three prizes were offered for a drill contest less than a year ago. The Evening Star team did not begin to drill, however, until a month ago. At that time Master Johnson received his instructions to name a team and put it at work. Since then the drilling has been steady. When they lined up at Forest Grove they were confident. So perfectly had the local lodge taken up its part that there was not a ritualistic mistake of any kind, for which the team received high ratings. The evolutions were equally excellent. Resolutions were unanimously passed by the grange complimenting the victors.

BELASCO OPENING POSITIVE TRIUMPH

New Stock Company Walks Into Favor in a Night. "B-l-a-s-c-o." It was spelled in big letters of fire that stretched across the main thoroughfare and it blazed the way to the old Columbia theatre last night for the benefit of half of Portland—so it seemed. Within the shallow walls of the town's newest theatre we came face to face with a stock company's production—a real production—and I dare say that playgoers will agree on the one distinguishing point. Portland has never known a resident organization which could hold the proverbial candle to this one. The house was packed. That was to be expected. But the brilliant appearance of the audience—the glitter of jewels in the hair and the handsome attire of the women—was something extraordinary. Out in the lobby Mr. Belasco was signing receipts for telegrams. They all conveyed best wishes, and during the night more than 20 came to hand. Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Fluke, David Belasco, Blanche Bates, Florence Roberts, Ben Roder, Julia Marlowe, John C. Fischer, everybody in the profession, evidently knew of the opening and wired messages of good cheer. Not only that. The box-office was a mass of flowers and two bushels or more went over the footlights, for none of which the management paid a cent.

CHAMINADE CLUB MAKES WARM FRIENDS

That the Travelers Aid association has strong friends and the Chaminaide club strong admirers was shown last night by the attendance at the concert at the Marquam. The company of some 30 young singers made a pretty appearance all robed in white with pink rosebuds on their bodices. The numbers called forth unbounded enthusiasm, and the speeches explaining the purposes of the "Travelers Aid" were made. Two short cantatas were given. In "Twilight Pictures" (Brewer) Mrs. Rose Bloch-Bauer and Mrs. Walter Reed took the solo parts. Orchestral accompaniment added to the charm of Cowen's "A Daughter of the Sea." Mrs. May Dearborn-Schwab sang a lyric soprano solo in this.

SORRY TO LOSE YOU, MR. WORTHINGTON

That is Keynote of Speakers at Banquet to Departing Railroad Man. The main parlors in the east wing of the Portland hotel were transformed last night into a green grotto, in which was spread a banquet, given by Portland railroad men in honor of B. A. Worthington, retired vice president of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company, and general manager of the Harriman lines in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. It was strictly a railroad family affair. Every guest was a local official or employee of the O. R. & N. and the Southern Pacific companies. A large table, around which 32 men gathered, was laid in the north alcove, but the entire parlors were heavily draped with Oregon greens. Masses of smilax hung from the ceilings, the walls were banked with maple boughs and the columns entwined with vines and green boughs. Everywhere parti-colored electric lights twinkled. In an alcove to the north, concealed behind a bank of green extending from the floor to the ceiling,

AUTHOR OF TRAIL IS MRS. LINDSLEY

Mrs. A. A. Lindsley. "John Malcom Graham," the winner of the $100 cash prize offered by I. N. Fleischer, vice-president of the Lewis and Clark fair corporation and chairman of the committee on publicity and promotion, for the best poem on "The Trail," is Mrs. A. A. Lindsley of this city, wife of former Treasurer A. A. Lindsley of the state of Washington, and a well-known business man of Portland. While on a recent trip to her old home in Olympia, Washington, Mrs.

an orchestra played. The floral decorations were red roses. The guests were: B. A. Worthington, H. F. Conner, the legal department of the O. R. & N., W. P. O'Brien, general superintendent Harriman lines; R. B. Miller, general freight agent O. R. & N.; Dr. George F. Wilson, Southern Pacific medical department; Richard Kocher, purchasing agent, Harriman lines; Captain Conway, superintendent water lines; D. B. Smith, superintendent Ilwaco Railroad & Navigation company; E. C. Judson, industrial agent O. R. & N.; H. Cunningham, storekeeper; R. L. Donald, resident engineer; E. Kimpel, superintendent telegraph; T. W. Younger, Southern Pacific master mechanic; Harry M. Adams, assistant general freight agent O. R. & N.; W. E. Combs, general freight and passenger agent Southern Pacific; W. W. Griswold, private secretary to Mr. Worthington; G. W. Boschke, chief engineer; J. P. Graham, superintendent motive power; Dr. George Ainalis, medical department; L. R. Fields, division superintendent Southern Pacific; J. P. Newell, resident engineer O. R. & N.; J. F. Meyer, car service agent; J. H. Robb, resident engineer O. R. & N.; James Langley, master mechanic O. R. & N.; J. W. Morrow, tax commissioner and right of way agent; M. J. Buckley, division superintendent O. R. & N.; H. J. Sterling, auditor O. R. & N.; Dr. K. A. J. MacKenzie, medical department; E. E. Lytle, president Columbia Southern; Colonel William Crooks, chief clerk to Mr. Worthington; W. D. Fenton, general counsel Southern Pacific. Mr. Conner was toastmaster, and after the fact that our unfortunate lack of political sagacity had caused the formal speeches were made, in which the railroad men talked shop, told stories, congratulated Mr. Worthington, and consoled with each other over their loss at his departure from the Pacific northwest. The speakers included Mr. O'Brien, Mr. Miller, Mr. Worthington, Mr. Adams, Mr. Coman, Mr. Boschke, Mr. Graham, Mr. Sterling, Mr. Lytle, Colonel Crooks and Mr. Fenton. The menu card was a handsome souvenir 10 by 12 inches, bound in red velvet, illuminated with the lines: "O. R. & N. and S. P. Lines in Oregon; to Mr. Worthington."

AN OPEN LETTER. An open letter to the executive committee of the Municipal League. I beg to address you from the standpoint of a candidate for the office of mayor of this city, representing a political party that stands consistently, conspicuously and alone for precisely the ideals for which, theoretically at least, you are supposed to be striving, notwithstanding the fact that through some inexplicable and unreasonable inconsistency your indorsement and support is being given to the candidate of an opposing party which represents no principles of moral reform. This anomalous situation, taken together with the fact that criticisms (more or less public in their nature) have been made by members of your committee relative to my candidacy, seems to require a word from me in order that the public may clearly understand, and an open letter seems play a picturesque part in this contest, I avail myself of this method in order to state my position. With reference to your suggestion that my candidacy is dividing to some extent the reform forces, allow me to remind you that at the close of the primary election I was positively the only reform candidate before the people, and I charge you with the sole responsibility of having first led the reform forces into a partisan campaign against my strenuous protest and for now continuing this division by having indorsed the Democratic candidate and asked your constituents to join in the political somewhat involved in this new departure. With regard to your criticism relative to my participation in the Citizens' meeting and an imaginary obligation to resign my own nomination and support all the nominees of that gathering, permit me to say that the suggestion comes with very poor grace from an organization that participated in a Republican primary and is now supporting a Democratic candidate, and it is therefore hardly entitled to any consideration. I may say, however, that the printed call for that meeting invited all advocates for reform in our city affairs, and stated one of the objects was to indorse candidates, in view of which I attended the meeting for the specific purpose of securing such indorsements for candidates standing on the Prohibition platform and pledged to such reform. The success that attended this effort is evidenced by the goodly number of Prohibition candidates who secured such recognition. Allow me to remind you that I was, however, a member of another political

LET US HELP

NO doubt you'll need lots of little things to complete your housefurnishing for the Exposition. A rug or new carpet here, draperies or curtains there and an extra chair for the guest room. Perhaps it'll be extra silverware or table linen, or a table and chairs for the dining room. Whatever your needs may be they can be economically supplied here. The credit price is just the same as cash—so why not open an account here?

WE TRUST YOU

Iron and Brass Beds. A variety of styles are shown, colors to match the scheme of any room, whites, greens and blues. Prices up to $3.50.

Folding & Mantel Beds. No need to dwell on the virtues of a Folding Bed where room is at a premium, as it will be in many homes this summer. A folding bed is the only solution. Prices up from $17.00.

Silverware. You'll not find better bargains in this line of goods this side of Chicago. Our stock is complete.

Table Linens. You can't own too much Table Linen especially when it can be bought at the price ours are selling.

Morris Chairs. Quite an array of styles to select from. This one has a heavy frame, beautifully polished, reclining back with new head rest. The seat is of durable construction, upholstery is well done. Prices up from $9.50.

Carpets. Ingrains PER YARD 25c UP FROM. Velvets PER YARD 1.15 UP FROM. Roxburys PER YARD 1.35 UP FROM. Brussels PER YARD .90c UP FROM. MADE, LAID AND LINED FREE.

Cobbler Seat Rocker. Golden Oak and Mahogany, well made. Not to be confounded with the cheap chairs used as leaders by furniture houses. Prices up from $2.50.

Eastern Outfitting Co. 390 Washington Street

Advertisement for 'Kaiser' Patent Finger Tipped Silk Gloves. Includes an illustration of a hand wearing a glove and text: 'LOOK IN THE HEM', 'A guarantee ticket with every pair All shades and styles', 'The merchant who says he has "JUST AS GOOD" as the "KAYSER" has a reason.', 'THE KIND THAT DON'T WEAR OUT at the finger ends. If you find the name Kaiser you have the genuine, unquestionably the best silk glove ever made.'

NEWBERG'S PICNIC WAS AN ENJOYABLE EVENT. Newberg held one of the largest picnics in its history Friday under the auspices of the Newberg uniform rank, Woodmen of the World. It was attended by at least 4,000 people. Colonel

DR. T. F. WISE. We do crown and bridge work without pain. Our 18 years' experience in plate work enables us to fit your mouth comfortably. Dr. W. A. Wise has found a safe way to extract teeth, absolutely without pain. Dr. T. F. Wise is an expert at gold filling and crown and bridge work. Extracting free when plates or bridges are ordered.

DR. W. A. WISE. WISE BROS., Dentists. Folding Building, Cor. Third and Wash Sts. Open evenings till 9 P. M. Sundays from 9 to 12. Or. Main 2020.

PACIFIC TENT & AWNING CO. 37 NORTH FIRST ST. Est. Burnside & Couch. Awnings for stores and residences. Tents and camping outfit. Get our prices. Phone Main 1961.

IN MEMORIAM. Judge Cleland has appointed a committee of the bar association to draft a memorial of Benton Killin, who died Friday afternoon—J. C. Morrison, Richard Williams, Ellis C. Hughes, Warren B. Thomas and H. W. Hogan.