New York, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—The announcement today that Booker T. Washington has been chosen to make the chief oration at the Independence day celebration in Montclair, New Jersey, has caused a revolt among the volunteer firemen, who were to take part in the parade and who also stirred up a lively anti-negro sentiment in that town.

New York, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—The men who had made the celebration arrangements are among the wealthiest and most influential residents of Montclair. The chairman of the executive committee is the Rev. Horace Porter of the Congregational church of Montclair. His assistants are Edward H. Holmes, Charles Olcott, Charles H. Baker, Charles W. Anderson and Charles T. Ives. Frank Halpin, cashier of the Chemical bank, is to be the grand marshal of the parade.

New York, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—All of these men are greatly disturbed by the dissatisfaction that has arisen, but find that they cannot quell the opposition. One of the best known residents of Montclair said tonight:

New York, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—There are about 18,000 inhabitants in this town and 3,500 of them are negroes. On Sunday they crowd Bloomfield avenue, our finest street, and all of the other good thoroughfares, and are offensive to the whites. They crowd the trolley cars and the feeling against them has grown steadily. It was very unwise for the committee to invite Mr. Washington to speak here on Tuesday. It promises to spoil the elaborate program that has been made and may even end in blood.

New York, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—Late tonight the committee had no intention of making any change in their program.

McMinnville, Or., July 1.—(Bulletin.)—After the county court had regularly adjourned, the county judge and one commissioner verbally notified the clerk that the proper petition had been filed and ordered the election in regular session, as court held that its own order was valid and refused to order the prohibition law enforced. Mandamus proceedings were filed to compel the enforcement of the order.

BEEF TRUST MILLIONAIRES INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Armour, Cudahy, Swift, Morris and Others Accused of Violating Sherman Law.

Chicago, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—Eighteen of the barons of the beef trust—men who control the markets for live United States beef in the meat industries and whose gigantic packing plants face the armies of the world—are facing prison on a charge of forming and conducting conspiracies in restraint of trade, in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. They were indicted by the federal grand jury which ended its three months of delving into the secrets of the beef trust by returning before Judge Beetha in the United States district court today two general true bills which brought peace and consternation into the camp of the trust magnates.

Chicago, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—The indicted men will not be arrested as in the usual form. By agreement between United States District Attorney Morrison and attorneys for the packers, a truce was declared until Monday night to give the trust lawyers time to bring in the defendants and their bondsmen. No capias will be issued until Monday night, but it was declared by Mr. Morrison that the truce would not be extended beyond that time.

Chicago, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—The scene in Judge Beetha's court was not as spectacular or impressive as had been anticipated by the hundreds who crowded the corridors and struggled for entrance to the courtroom. District Attorney Morrison and his assistant, Mr. Pagan, emerged from the grand jury room a few minutes after 2 o'clock. They had been closeted with the jury for an hour. Mr. Morrison held the 70-page typewritten report containing the two true bills and all the information which the lawyers and other spectators were so anxious to hear.

Washington, July 1.—The interstate commerce commission has branded as illegal the practice of the Northern Pacific railroad of issuing special rates to travelers through Yellowstone park. It was the habit of the road to issue tickets that provided travelers with stage accommodations in the park and also hotel accommodations. This hurt the independent stage line operated by W. M. Wills. He made a test case and when the commission holding that the road, in order to get public business, entered into an agreement with the hotel and stage keepers and had split regular tariffs and thus gave unusual and illegal assistance to the hotel managers and the stage companies singled out as agents.

FAIR ADMITTED OVER SEVENTEEN THOUSAND

POPE AND HUMBERT MAY COME TO TERMS

Rome, July 1.—Negotiations are now pending between the Vatican authorities and the Italian officials, which forecast a complete scheme of reconciliation between the Italian government and the holy see. These negotiations cover all points of difference existing so long between the two authorities and the special details necessary to guarantee the pope's complete independence and support on the part of the Italian government. They constitute, in fact, the basis of a concordat, to be agreed upon by the two powers concerned, and if successfully conducted will put an end to the long existing conflict of the Vatican with the Quirinal over the question of temporal power and the personal independence of the pope.

STARTLES DEFENSE

Henev Says Another Indictment Was Voted Against Mitchell

HE WILL SUE KRIBS TO RECOVER LANDS

Statute of Limitations Saves Letter on Other Charges—Case Will Not Reach Jury Till Monday.

Portland, July 1.—(Bulletin.)—In replying to Senator Thurston's challenge for an explanation of why the real land thieves had been let go, while the government concentrated its attack upon Senator Mitchell, District Attorney Henev made two sensational disclosures. He said that in the rush of work at the close of the famous grand jury several indictments were voted but not drawn, because of limited time, and amongst these was one against Senator Mitchell. He was dwelling on the subornation of perjury charge of which the senator is guilty, if he sided in framing the defense outlined by Judge Cannon in his testimony. In the other indictment Henev said the jury could treat him in bringing civil actions to recover for the government the 25,000 acres of timber land Frederick A. Kribs had obtained fraudulently.
