THE WORLD'S NEWS OF THE WEEK IN BRIEF

INDUSTRIAL.

Wants Commerce.

Canada Wants Commerce.

To open the great lakes to the commerce of the seas by means of a deep sea ship canal is an old dream soon to be realized. The Canadian government has designs on the commerce that moves on the American continent, and to divert, that commercial stream has authorized and is just completing a survey and estimate of an all-water Canadian route from the lakes to the Atlantic. The project is for a connecting link between Georgian bay and the waters of the Ottawa and St. Lawrence rivers, flowing northeast into the Atlantic. The distance by canal is not great and the cost has been officially estimated at $65,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Brook Trout Farm.

Brook Trout Farm.

That a farmer can derive profit from raising brook trout for the market has been demonstrated by Lewis J. Johnson of West Battleboro, Vermont, who has a fish preserve on his farm. By using the clear spring water running through his farm, by his own ingenuity, and with a little hired assistance he has established an inexpensive hatchery, where he has succeeded in growing a large number of brook trout with which he has partly supplied the local markets besides furnishing thousands of small fish for stocking streams in adjoining towns.

RELIGIOUS.

Queen Donation Party.

Queen Donation Party.

Worse than a donation party is the offering in the South Sea islands. In some parts there is little cash in circulation among the natives, who hold to their crude currency. Many of these have been converted, and the collection box suggests a rummage sale when it is returned to the altar. Among the tokems are strings of white or red beads, armilets, tortoise shells, bamboo boxes used by betel chewers, native cloth and fishhooks. One collection recently taken up on a special occasion was sold for $162.50, and weighed almost 200 pounds.

Building for 16 Centuries.

Building for 16 Centuries.

At Troyes, France, recently was solemnly inaugurated a church which has taken 18 centuries to build, for it was begun in the third century and was completed but recently. This is St. Urban's church, built by order of Pope Urbanus on the site of the house in which he was born. Only the foundations were laid during Pope Urbanus lifetime, and though the building has long been consecrated the last remaining stones were laid this year. The value, is a gem he Gothic architecture. Friting

FOREIGN.

Islands for Sale.

The Canto Islands, situated near the Adores, which have been in the possession of a Portuguese family for more than two centuries, are offered for sale. It is said that the United States government has made an offer, as the Islands would make a convenient coaling station in mid-Atlantic. The islands are now owned by Senhor H. Abreu, Lisbon. They are 859 miles from Lisbon and 2,170 miles from New York. Offers are also said to have been made by England and Portugal. The channel between the two islands forms a convenient harbor. They were visited in 1903 by the American warships Brocklyn and Illinois.

Season's First Cotton.

Manuel Guerrero, a planter of the Rio Grande valley, June 24 shipped to Galveston the first bale of this year's cotton crop in the United States. The bale will make the rounds of the cotton exchanges of Galveston, New Orleans, Memphis and New York and will be auctioned off at each place, the proceeds going to charity.

Teddy in London.

The Cariton club of London has accepted the offer of John Wanamaker to present a portrait of President Roosevelt to the club in appreciation of the honor conferred upon Mr. Wanamaker in electing him an honorary member. Mr. Wanamaker was elected a member of the club in 1904, being the first foreigner to be so honored by it.

E. Leopold Very Rich.

King Leopoid will leave a fortune of $10,000,000, most of which will go to the Belgian people for works of public utility. He regards his daughters as Lear came to regard Regan and Goneril. The daughters will get about $40,000

LEGAL AND CRIMINAL.

Woman Was Forewoman.

After trying in vain to escape jury duty Mrs. Mary E. Lapier of Cripple Creek, Colorado, was chosen forewoman of a jury that tried a divorce case there. She was the first of her sex in Colorado to serve in that capacity.

Mrs. George Holman of Springfield, the Cocur d'Alenes, the Yaki- Illinois, is said to have wafted a kiss

Griffiths said nothing, but Griffiths said nothing, but slipped the stone into his pocket. He obtained a lanterm and returned to the spot after dark to collect more of the rock. By the aid of his assayer's outfit he proved the rock to be worth over $900 a ton, and, associated with friends, he bought a beavy interest in the property. National Bank Mining company. It is reported that Griffiths has refused $25,000 for his stock.

to a male admirer over the telephone, and her husband demanded a diverce. Mr. Holman often scolded his wife, and she flied a cross bill because of that. But a jury in the Sangamon county circuit court did not consider telephone kissing adequate ground, nor frequent scolding sufficient, and both cases were thrown out of court. hrown out of court.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Ethnologists Hunting Adam.

Ethnologists flunting Adam.

Ethnologists are continually making excavations in caves in the hope of discovering evidences of a race of men supposed to have inhabited North America in prehistoric times. One of the recent investigations has been completed by Dr. Charles Peabody of Phillips academy, Andover, Massachusetts. A large cave at Cavetown, Maryland, was the scene of the exploration, and Dr. Peabody, with Warren Moorehead and 10 men, dug for more than a month.

Has Trained Fish.

Lovine Schaeffer, a truck farmer living at Limeport, Pennsylvania, thinks he has the only trained fish in the world. It is a carp, 24 inches long, weighing eight pounds. Mr. Schaeffer caught it in a mill dam near his home two years ago, when it weighed six pounds. With two others he placed it in the spring in his yard. The fish, which is called John, seems to have intelligence approaching that of a dog. When called by Mr. Schaeffner or any member of his family it comes, to be surface to be fed and petted.

Writes Indian Shorthand.

In the employ of the Dawes commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory, is a young Choctaw who is one of the few stenographers in the United States who can take dictation in shorthand in three languages. This is L. J. Collins. He speaks Choctaw and Chickasaw with as much fluency as he does English. He is about 30 years old. His father was a fullblood Choctaw Indian and his mother a Chickasaw. daughter, brought up as a southern gendaughter, brought up as a southern gen-tlewoman with servants and galiant so-ciety, lived for 20 years as the wife of a railroad engineer, doing the work of a large household—for she was the mother of nine children. All this was the finish of nine children. All this was the mother of an elepement which stirred up the society of North Carolina in its time.

Patriotism on the Boom.

Patriotism has become the basis of a great American industry. Because of the amazing increase of patriotic sentiment in this country during the last decade the manufacture of American flags has quadrupled. More than 2,000,000 star-spangled banners annually are made of silk and bunting, but these form only a small portion of the total number of United States flags that are born, that live and die between January and January. In remote farming districts where 10 years ago the national colors were rarely seen every suitable colors were rarely seen every suitable occasion witnesses a flag display. The flag has been added to the household goods from Maine to California, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Cana-

Guards Paine's Tomb.

Captain George W. Lloyd, the aged custodian of the monument of "Thomas Paine in North street, New Rochelle, New York, is circulating a petition asking that the city of New Rochelle assume the task that he has been performing gratuitously for many years. Captain Lloyd has reached his 86th year, and now that the infirmities of age are beginning to tell on his once rugged constitution he feels himself compelled to retire.

Founds "Doggie" Home.

Unwilling to see the "dear little dog-gies" caught at the dog pound and killed. Miss Amy Bonham, a young woman of York, Pennsylvania, has pur-chased a building in East York. There she will provide a home for homeless dogs until some one can be found who will be responsible for them.

coming into favor for purposes of dec-oration. Eight or ten years ago the idea had some vogue. Then it died out. Now the department stores have on sale packages of canceled stamps for use in fancy work, and young women are studying out new ways of stamp deco-rating, although in the majority of in-stances they are content with the usual plate or plaque designs.

Long-Lived Family.

A remarkable instance of longevity and one probably without parallel in and one probably without parallel in Maine, if not in New England, is illustrated in the family of Mrs. Deborah Chase of Chase Lake. Mrs. Chase is $4 years old, in excellent health, and has 16 living children, the youngest being 45 years old. The only death in this family for a period of 50 years was that of Mr. Chase, about 30 years ago. There are 25 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Newspapers Married Her.

Mme. Schumann-Heink-Rapp's eight children need not be disturbed by the last marriage of their popular mother. They are not going to lose any part of their expectation on account of it. "I married because the newspapers kept saying every day that I was going to," she said the other day, "and it was easier to do it than have to explain every day why I didn't." So I got married. But I explained to my husband that he was not going to get any band that he was not going to get any of my savings. They are for my chil-dren. He just keeps right on getting the same old salary. The money goes to them."

Sand Shoe Soles.

Appreciating the rapidity with which leather soles wear out, an inventor now comes forward with a "rock bottom" shoe which he declares to be practically indestructible. His invention consists of a cement for coating the under side of the usual leather sole with fine quartz sand. His process is said to leave the sole as flexible as ordinary leather, and yet there is no danger of the cement cracking and chipping off.

Champion Pie-Eater,

Trumpeter Gordon. Troop E. at Fort Des Moines, thinks he made a pie-esting record by eating a well-filled apple pie in 55 seconds. He was declared the winner of the contest. The trumpeter felt no ill effects from the gorging of pie, but. on the contrary, declared he could eat another. The record was made at the athletic entertainment given in the avenuasium at Fort Des Moines. in the gymnasium at Fort Des Moines under the direction of Chaplain Waring.
