

ESCAPED CONVICTS STILL AT LARGE

Nothing Heard of Eight Deperades Who Broke Prison at McNeill's Island.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS REWARD FOR CAPTURE

Poses in Search With Orders to Shoot if Resistance is Offered.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Tacoma, July 5.—Nothing has been heard of the eight convicts who escaped from the federal prison at McNeill's island early Tuesday morning by making a tunnel through the ceiling and climbing down the stone wall. They are supposed to be lurking in the woods in the outskirts of Tacoma and several posses are searching for them.

The prisoners left the island by means of two rowboats after having made a fruitless attempt to leave by taking the prison launch which they disabled by breaking the dynamo. All the escaped prisoners are garbed in their striped prison suits, and officials expect to hear at any moment of the raising of some of the numerous traps to which the men could have hid their way.

Fifteen other prisoners confined in the same tier with the escaped convicts refused to take the daring chance of escape.

George Wade, who is one of the most daring criminals in the country, is generally believed to be the leader of the party. The men were all desperate criminals serving terms of from one to 20 years. The escape was not discovered until 6 o'clock the following morning and the posses have instructions to shoot down the men should they offer the slightest resistance. The government has authorized a reward for the capture of any of the convicts. The following is the description of the convicts:

J. H. Malone was convicted of the crime of rape in Alaska, August 5, 1904. His time would be out December 4, 1908. He is of light complexion, smooth shaven, blue eyes, is 5 feet 7 inches in height, and weighs 160 pounds.

FINAL SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE

(Journal Special Service.) Paris, July 5.—Complete freedom of religious belief is provided under the church and state separation bill as passed by the chamber of deputies. Since its introduction the bill has been almost entirely revised, but it has left the state entirely untrammelled in connection with any religion or sect, the republic neither recognizing stipend or subsidies of any sort. The proposition to convey the priceless riches of the church, consisting of a collection of paintings, tapestries and statuary, to the state was modified so that civil organizations retain the goods of the church.

WIFE'S VICTIM TO BE BURIED IN SEATTLE

Body of Thomas J. Dodgson Will Be Taken North by His Brother.

SUICIDE LIES FRIENDLESS AT CORONER'S OFFICE

Woman Had Prepared for the Slaughter Some Days Before Its Commission.

The body of Thomas J. Dodgson, who was shot and killed by his wife in front of the Hotel Northern at Twelfth and Northrup streets, yesterday morning, will be taken to Seattle for interment on the 11:45 o'clock train tonight by his brother, who arrived this morning. Dodgson's mother and brother live at 415 Cedar street, Seattle.

That Mrs. Dodgson, who committed suicide after killing her husband, had contemplated the deed for two or three days, is shown by the statement of Mrs. Beatie Reyer, who had done all in her power to effect a reconciliation of the Dodgsons. Mrs. Dodgson's body is at the undertaking rooms of Coroner Finley and no disposition will be made of it until word is received from her sister, Mrs. Lisale Burger, of Rexburg, Idaho. Coroner Finley wired her last night, but up to a late hour today no reply had been received.

A marriage certificate among Mrs. Dodgson's effects shows that she was united to her husband at Salt Lake City in 1903. Her maiden name was Wilson. The residence of her parents is not known to the authorities.

According to Mrs. Reyer, the revolver with which the deed was committed was purchased by Mrs. Dodgson a few days ago, and when the jealous woman visited the Revers at the Hotel Northern yesterday morning she announced her intention of killing herself. She also wanted to go to her husband's room at 408 Everett street, and frighten him with the revolver, but was dissuaded from this and the weapon was taken from her and hidden. She regained possession of it without the knowledge of Mrs. Reyer or her husband.

After breakfasting together the couple started for a stroll, and it was expected they would go to the Oaks in company with Mr. and Mrs. Reyer. The stroll terminated in the double tragedy while the Revers were dressing for the excursion, happy in the belief that they had effected a reconciliation between Dodgson and his wife.

Dodgson had an ambition to become an actor, and traveled with a small troupe through various Oregon cities. It is said his wife's jealousy was aroused by the attentions he paid the leading woman of the troupe. Certain persons are accused of carrying tales to cause trouble. In a letter written her sister, which was never sent, Mrs. Dodgson told of her love for her husband and said she was "pining her heart away for him."

A small wallet carried by Dodgson a pledge made by him to abstain from the use of vile language was discovered. It was written in ink on the back of an advertising card issued by a firm of Kansas City, Missouri, and reads as follows:

"To whom it may concern: This is to certify that I, Thomas J. Dodgson, will from this day on abstain from the use of vile language. Witnessed by Mrs. N. G. Dodgson this 15th day of March, 1905, at 4:35 p. m. (Signed) Thomas J. Dodgson."

The deceased was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America. If his beneficiary certificate was made out in favor of his wife, the order will have to pay nothing; if in favor of his mother, she will receive the amount of the insurance.

BALANCE OF POWER LEAGUE FORMED

Temperance and Enforcement of Law People Will Be Active in Politics.

NON-PARTISAN AND WANTS ONLY BEST MEN IN OFFICE

Movement Has Approval of Many Counties and Will Become State Issue.

By exercising the balance of power, concentrating the forces of temperance and law enforcement on candidates meeting the approval of a new league, determined effort is being made throughout the state to guard against such a close margin as defeated the Jayne bill at the last session of the legislature.

A balance of Power league is being organized in the various counties. There is a county chairman and precinct and municipal chairmen. These have the duty of organizing the fight to control the primaries and elections to secure the best available men for all the tickets. This league announces that it is strictly non-partisan, so far as existing party affiliations go. Its mission is to get the best men available and direct the strongest vote possible for these candidates, in behalf of the cause for which the league has been organized. After the nominations have been made, the county chairman will call together the municipal and precinct chairmen and make a careful canvass of the list of men presented by the opposing parties for popular favor. The candidates that stand most squarely on the platform of temperance and law enforcement are to receive the support of the league in that county.

Dr. G. L. Tufts, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league of this state, has returned from 30 days' speaking in eastern Oregon, in which period he organized the league in Umatilla, Union and Baker counties. He says the plan is received with great favor.

Senator Pierce of Pendleton had been inaugurated, it would give the league control of the state," said Dr. Tufts this morning. "The three counties named have begun vigorous work. In Pendleton the crusade is against gambling, and is having marked success. In Union county the officers are accomplishing excellent results also. In Baker, Sheriff Brown and District Attorney Lomax have secured more than 100 indictments, and have law enforcement there in high favor. The people of those communities receive the plan with enthusiasm, and assure effective co-operation."

"We are determined that the men of the last legislature who stood by the people demanding that the will of the voter be enforced, shall not be defeated. The liquor interests boast that they lost the Jayne bill by but one vote, and have started forth to put men in the legislature next session who will change this margin in their favor. We are working to see that the people shall remain in control, and that because a man has the courage to demand enforcement of the laws enacted by the people, he shall not be defeated by an aggressive minority."

Dr. Tufts spoke 30 times in the 30 days of his absence, and addressed many large audiences. He is highly encouraged with the showing in eastern Oregon, and calls special attention to the fact that the cause of temperance has five out of the eleven precincts in Wheeler county, and 11 precincts in Wasco.

GAS RANGE COOKING

HOW TO BE ECONOMICAL

"Be thoughtful. There are so many little ways of saving gas, and just as many ways to waste it. Follow these three simple rules, which cover almost the entire question of economy:

- "1. Never light the gas until everything is ready."
- "2. Never use a stronger flame than is necessary."
- "3. Turn the gas out the instant cooking is finished."
