AGED SALEM WOMAN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. J. H. Albert Victim of Automobile Accident That May Prove Fatal.

GEORGE LAUTH MUST HANG JULY THIRTEENTH

Hoffman, the Alleged Woodburn Bank Robber, Pleads Not Guilty.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 2.—Mrs. Albert, the wife of John H. Albert, of this city, was very seriously injured in an automobile accident last evening. Mr. Albert and his wife and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harry Albert, were riding in a touring car on which he had just had a hill-climbing attachment placed. They had crossed the Willamette river bridge into Polk county and started up a steep hill on a side road leading to an abandoned stone quarry. When part way up the hill-climbing apparatus ceased to work and the machine started to back down the hill. Before it had gone many feet it ran over one side of the embankment and pitched the occupants out onto a pile of rocks. The elder woman was the only one to receive serious injury. Her collar bone was broken and three ribs and her jawbone were fractured. Her head was also badly bruised and she sustained internal injuries. Mrs. Albert is between 60 and 70 years of age. She has been ill for months and there is danger that the shock will prove fatal.
George Lauth's last hope for life has vanished and July 13 he will be hanged. At an early hour this morning he was informed that the governor had refused to interfere with the sentence. He received the news with the same quietness that has marked his demeanor in prison.
The prison management, acting under orders from the governor, has adopted can be cured. To those afflicted this conveys a wonderful message. Though quite common it is only a short time since it was considered incurable. The discovery that it was purely a nervous disorder has led to the application of the great nerve restorer,

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve
with the happy result that thousands have been completely cured, and others are being cured every day.
"In the year '92 I was stricken with epilepsy. Doctors treated me for several years, but I grew worse. I would have such awful fits. I cannot tell my awful sufferings. A druggist recommended Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and I bought a bottle, and found it helped me, and took three more and am cured. I had only one light spell after I commenced taking it. I do hope the time will come when everybody will know that your medicine cures these awful fits."
—Mrs. L. C. Clifton, Pa.
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is sold under a guarantee that your druggist will refund the money if you do not feel better.

SUICIDE ENDS CAREER OF WELL KNOWN MAN

Robert D. McGonigle, Who Gave Away Fortune, Found Dead From Poison.

(Journal Special Service.)
Pittsburg, Pa., July 2.—What promises to be a sensational case of suicide was brought to light late last evening, when it became public that Robert D. McGonigle, famous throughout the United States as an author, philanthropist, clubman and lecturer, was found dead at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the fashionable Hotel Lincoln, where he lived. Every effort was made to keep his death secret, although the coroner's office was notified.
McGonigle was last seen alive when he went to his room early in the evening, apparently in the best of spirits. When he failed to leave his room next morning the door was forced open and he was found dead in bed, and an empty phial stood on the dresser, which contained a solution of chloral. McGonigle was 53 years of age. A few years ago his fortune was estimated at several millions. He had devoted almost his entire life to charity.
The greater part of his money he gave away. He recently lost $100,000 in an unwise speculation. Then friends deserted him and he became morose. Some months ago he made a trip to the Pacific coast with John Tindal, a son-in-law of Senator Keok.

CHAMPION JEFF LOSES THOUSANDS GAMBLING

(Journal Special Service.)
Reno, Nev., July 2.—James J. Jeffries, ex-heavyweight champion of the world, spent a few hours in the city after refereeing the Hart-Hoot fight, backing the games in one of the largest gambling houses of the city. The play ran high and it is reported he lost in the neighborhood of $5,000. He made bets ranging from $50 to several hundred, and before he had been playing an hour he was the center of attraction.
Jeffries placed his wagers with a light spirit and when several hundred dollars would be raked in by the dealer he would smile and double the bet he had lost. He is known to have drawn a large check—several thousand dollars.
Cheyenne Dancing.

NEW NORTHERN PACIFIC DEPOT FOR SPOKANE

STATE'S OPPOSITION TO IRRIGATION WITHDRAWN

(Journal Special Service.)
North Yakima, Wash., July 2.—At a meeting held here yesterday between representatives of the different commercial bodies of the Yakima valley, Governor Mead and Land Commissioner Ross, the state officials, decided to withdraw from the field in the matter of the state's selection of lands under the Carey act.

CARLOAD OF FIREWORKS DESTROYED BY FLAMES

(Journal Special Service.)
Reno, Nev., July 2.—While standing in the railroad yards at Floriston last night, a carload of fireworks burst into flames and the inhabitants of the little mountain town were entertained with some beautiful pyrotechnics, free of charge. The car was attached to a train containing several cars of dynamite, and for a time it was feared the flames would spread and cause an explosion.
There is no regular fire company at Floriston, but a volunteer company bravely fought the flames and succeeded in confining them to a single car. The cars containing the powder were finally cut loose from the car containing the exploding fireworks and rolled down the hill to a safe distance.
At a conference of railroad officials and the city council today a proposition of shadowing that had no parallel in railroad history. By the employment of 25 men, all of whom have been discharged, President Ramsey was enabled to place a spy on every important official employe of the Wabash railroad.
For years the men were subjected to an espionage which began when they arose in the morning and ended only when the lights went out in their bedrooms. The system became so irksome that resignations on the Wabash due to it in years past had been many. In vain did the officials protest.
It is understood that the secret service organization became so strong that many members began trafficking in railroad transportation. This practice grew to such an extent that it became almost an open scandal.

PIGEON FLIES FROM OREGON TO OAKLAND

(Journal Special Service.)
Oakland, Cal., July 2.—An Oakland homing pigeon released at Oregon City, June 21 arrived here last night, making the trip in 11 days, a distance of 500 miles on an air line. The pigeon had to cross the Blackfoot mountains 5,000 feet high. This is the first time after 15 years' experiments that a bird has succeeded in making the flight.
Teachers Talk Shop.
(Journal Special Service.)
Asbury Park, N. J., July 2.—The National Educational association in annual session today had another busy day of it. Even the attractions of the surf were not sufficient to lure many of the teachers and all of the sectional conferences were well attended. No general session was held, but the departmental meetings listened to scores of interesting papers and discussions covering a wide field of educational work. The open meeting tonight will be addressed by William Barclay Parsons, the famous New York engineer; Frank A. Vanderbilt, vice-president of the National City bank of New York; and Lorenzo D. Harvey, superintendent of the school of Menomonie, Wisconsin.

DUNNE OUTLINES PLAN FOR CITY OWNERSHIP

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, July 2.—Mayor Dunne outlined last night his plan for municipal ownership of the traction companies to the city council. It provides for the incorporation of a company managed by five men who command the confidence of the people of Chicago. The company will be granted a 20-year franchise covering the streets in which the rights of the old company have expired. The stock is to be prevented with a trust company so as to prevent the purchase of it by outside interests. The stock is to be sold by popular subscription. The city may take over the property at any time it chooses.
