Oregon's Largest Irrigation Scheme Shown in Relief at Exposition.

Options Obtained on Present Canal System

Eighty-Five Per Cent of the Private Lands Now Signed Up Under the Project.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., July 15.—Numerous unique engineering problems are encountered in the Klamath reclamation project, which embraces the largest area of irrigable land embraced in any of the numerous government irrigation enterprises bearing a construction stamp.

During the current quarter, in addition to the survey work which has been continuously prosecuted, much has been accomplished in the matter of purchase of necessary reservoir and dam sites, and in the amicable settlement with the various canal companies.

Canal Options Obtained. The option for the purchase of the Ankeny canal at a cost of $50,000 and the recognition of the water right now vested in the 1,739 acres of land now owned by the proprietors of the canal was extended to June 1 and, although this option has now lapsed, Mr. Ankeny is completing abstracts of title to the property preparatory to making transfer to the United States.

Reservoir Site Purchased. Terms of settlement have been agreed upon for the purchase of the Clear Lake reservoir site embracing some 25,000 acres of lake and lands riparian thereto, together with riparian rights on Tulare river, 12 miles of existing canal, rights of way for new canals, etc., and the final steps for the transfer of this property to the United States are now under way.

Final topographic work to control final location of the distributary system had been in progress since April 15, and some 70 square miles have already been mapped. These maps are made on a scale of one inch to the mile, with contour intervals of 2 1/2 inches, 5 inches and 10 inches, depending upon steepness of slope, and from present indications will cost less than $10 per square mile.

Stream gaugings and evaporation observations have been continued, and in addition the work of lake and river sounding has been taken up in more detail than heretofore.

RAILROAD BUILDING TO BEGIN IN KLAMATH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., July 15.—The McCloud people now promise to have their road in operation to Laird's Landing on the Lower Klamath lake within one year, and the California Northwestern has filed articles of incorporation with a capital of $5,000,000, assuring that within the year 1909 it will have trains running into Klamath Falls.

EATS WATERMELONS AND DIES AT LA GRANDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., July 15.—L. Harris, one of the best known Jewish inhabitants of this city, aged 47 years, died last night from an acute attack of Bright's disease brought on by eating melon which had been out and left in an ice box for several days.

CHARGED WITH SELLING LIQUOR ILLEGALLY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., July 15.—Oliver Chowing of Dilley, in this county, was brought before the justice of the peace here yesterday on two charges of selling liquor without license. The accused was held to appear at the circuit court. His bond in each case was $250.

MOY CHOOSE NEW SITE FOR SCHOOL

City Board Meets Monday to Again Consider Location of New High School.

DANGER OF CROWDING HELD TO BE SERIOUS

Proximity of Hawthorne Building Would Allow Room Neither for Play Grounds or Expansion.

The new east side high school may not be built on the vacant block adjoining the Hawthorne school, which was the site selected by the taxpayers at the annual meeting in December and later approved by the city board of school directors. Many prominent citizens who are interested in educational work, including Dr. Stephen S. Wise and Dr. T. L. Elliot, have been instrumental in having the school board call a meeting for 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, at which time the former action of the board may be reconsidered and a new site selected.

During the meeting of the taxpayers in December there has been a marked change of sentiment regarding the site of the high school. Because the city owned the block adjoining the Hawthorne school the taxpayers thought the new school building should be located at that place without taking into consideration the evils which might arise from having two crowded schools in such close proximity.

Director H. Wittenberg has always opposed the present location and has favored the purchase of two blocks at Twelfth and Davis streets, which he said could be secured for about $25,000. He has succeeded in interesting many of the most prominent citizens and there is a probability that the site of the proposed building will be changed Monday afternoon.

JUDGE L. R. WEBSTER VISITS KLAMATH FALLS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., July 15.—Judge L. R. Webster of Portland is here in the interest of the Klamath Indian reclamation company, which is disputing the county's right to collect some $2,500 tax on its land in the Klamath Indian reservation. Since the court here has decided against them, it is probable the case will be carried up to the state supreme court.

WOMAN BOUND OVER TO SUPERIOR COURT

(Journal Special Service.) Walla Walla, Wash., July 15.—Following a trial held in the room of the injured woman at St. Mary's hospital, Judge Huffman yesterday bound over to the superior court Mrs. Pauline Blunt, who shot Mrs. Frank Allisio through the head with a revolver on the morning of June 21. The shooting occurred on the Whitney farm, where the husbands of the two women are employed as gardeners. Mrs. Allisio was shot ill to appear in court yesterday and Judge Huffman consented to hold the hearing at the hospital. The evidence showed that the woman had had trouble several times.

BIG ATTENDANCE AT ASHLAND CHAUTAUQUA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Ashland, Or., July 15.—The thirteenth annual assembly of the Southern Oregon Chautauqua association, which opened here this week, has had an attendance above that of previous years. The assembly building, recently enlarged to seat about 2,000 people, was filled the first night to hear the concert given by the Cassmore family, and last night a great crowd was present to hear Bishop Hamilton of San Francisco. A large tented village sprang up in a day in Chautauqua grove.

MR. AND MRS. GREEN FREED AT TOLEDO

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Toledo, Or., July 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Green, arrested last February on the charge of murdering E. G. Sharrett, the Lutzen merchant and postmaster, have been discharged after an exhaustive investigation by the grand jury, a not true bill being brought in. Mrs. Green was arrested by Sheriff Tom Ward in Portland and her husband was taken into custody at Lutzen.

DISPUTE ENLIVENS CLOSING SESSION

Food Convention Ends With Pennsylvania Withdrawing Because of Scandal.

The National Pure Food convention adjourned yesterday afternoon, but not before Commissioner Critchfield of Pennsylvania had withdrawn his state's representation on the ground that there was something wrong in the conduct of an investigation as to the printing of the proceedings of the convention two years ago.

A Chicago firm had the contract for the printing at that time and it was charged that efforts of immunity from prosecution were made by it to prospective advertisers in case they violated the pure food law. An investigation was ordered and Mr. Critchfield wanted to know yesterday if it had been taken up. The secretary replied that it had been neglected. H. B. Myers, the Chicago printer, made a denial of the charges and declared that every cent received for advertising had been turned over to the treasurer. Then there was a discussion and the withdrawal of Mr. Critchfield ended the session.

Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: J. B. Noble, Connecticut, president; Professor Elton Fulmer, Washington, first vice-president; E. W. Burke, Idaho, second vice-president; Mrs. Mary Wright, Colorado, third vice-president; R. M. Allen, Kentucky, secretary. The executive committee consists of J. L. Emery, Wisconsin; F. J. H. Kraeke, New York; T. E. Bruner, North Carolina; and Horace Ankeny, Ohio.
