The law has been so strictly enforced and the penalties imposed have been so heavy that the professional counterfeiters seem to have retired from business. Occasionally, of course, we have a small counterfeiter to look after and we have to run him down.

"But at the same time I wish to repeat the warning given by The Journal in regard to counterfeit and raised bills. Portland has never been so flooded with bills as it is at present. ## LOCAL CHINESE GIVE HALF

Subscribe This Amount to New Road Planned to Connect Chief Cities of Empire.

Chin Gee Hee of Canton province left Portland yesterday for Seattle, after conferences with Twin Wo and other prominent Portland Chinamen relative to subscriptions in the stock of the great Chinese railway that is to be constructed connecting the principal cities of the empire. He has made a tour of the United Stotes and has found that American Chinamen are ready to take stock to the amount of $2,000,000. Of this amount about $500,000 is subscribed by Portland Chinamen.

The railroad will, it is said, be comcommenced at Sun Ning, about 40 miles from Canton, and then extended to many other large cities. The present plan embraces about 2,000 miles of railway. Chin Gee Hee says there are the brightest prospects for the enterprise. Money is plentiful in China, and in this country he finds many prosperous Money is plentiful in China, and in this country he finds many prosperous Chinamen who are willing to take stock. Twin Wo was made the Portland agent for the undertaking. The company is composed of many of the principal merchants of the empire, of which Chin Gee Hee is a representative. He visited Chicago and negotiated for the materials for the railway. He made all his contracts contingent, it is said, on an adjustment of the Chinese boycott against American goods.
