A Simile With a Difference

As he was riding up to Wellesley college one Sunday morning in the late spring when he was due to preach there, Bishop Lawrence espied a small boy trotting along with fishing rod and tackle in his hand. Telling the driver to stop he leaned out of his carriage and called: "Little boy! Little boy!" "Yes, sir?" the urchin answered. "Do you know where little boys go who go fishing on Sunday?" "Yes, sir. They go up the Charlies here about a mile, near the Cheney place." If you should ask some of Portland's youngsters where boys and girls go who buy their Shoes and Stockings at OLDS, WORTMAN & KING'S, they would quickly tell you that they go up to the "OAKS," with all expenses paid by this progressive house—outfitters to Young America and all mankind. If you doubt this statement—ask some youngster. The elders are reminded that new bargains are cropping out every day during the great August sales, just run your eye thro' the store announcements daily, if you don't see a mention of what you have in mind just run down to the store yourself and ask for it. You'll be surprised at how little you'll be asked to pay for what you need. We haven't room on this page to mention a hundredth part of the really amazing values that await a meeting with you in person. A hint of what you may expect to read on the price tickets scattered thro' the store is listed below. Ready Thursday morning.

Black and Summer Silks

BETTER THAN GOOD VALUES. THESE SPLENDID STAPLE DRESS GOODS UNDERPRICED.

The "Fabric Salesrooms"—Fifth Street Annex—First Floor. There's more or less missing from the usual prices of these black silks as well as from the more "seasonable" stuffs. This is very out-of-the-ordinary news, whenever we can tell it, for black silks are staple fabrics, good the year 'round; and prices seldom vary. One buys a dress pattern (when there's less than usual to pay) to lay aside if not needed at present, for a Black Silk is a safe investment—a good one, that is. These today are the standard qualities and makes that we sell year in and year out. The summery silks and the dress goods are equally wanted and parallel values.

POSITIVELY LAST GREAT SALE OF THE SEASON OF

Women's Summer Shirtwaists

A Sweeping Clean-Up of the Season's Waists at Tremendous Sacrifice.

Pretty and Serviceable $1.50 Waists 39c

Here's a last opportunity to secure the Summer Shirtwaist at less than cost of actual making. We've resolved to effect a whirlwind clean-up of all remaining summer shirtwaists. There's a long wearing season ahead—six weeks, at least, of summer, and a long indoor retreat, when shirtwaists are indispensable. In fact, such waists as these we shall offer tomorrow at the absurdly low price of 39¢ each are needed the year 'round in every woman's wardrobe, and a plenty of them. So better plan to select a year's supply; we don't believe you'll be offered an equal bargain in waists with this for at least a twelvemonth—if ever—for stores do not plan such losses, they only come in the clean-ups—such as this tomorrow. The waists, dainty, handsome percales and serviceable sateen. Colors, blues, grays, reds, tans, neat striped effects and dotted designs; also plain blacks (no whites). Splendid values up to $1.50, and you may choose all day, but THURSDAY ONLY, at each..... 39¢
