Francis S. Monnett, who when attorney-general of Ohio framed the anti-trust law directed at the Standard Oil company, and who assisted Attorney-General Coleman of Kansas in enforcing the anti-trust law of that state, is a visitor to the exposition. He arrived yesterday and intended to remain only a few hours, but was induced to stay until Saturday to attend the civits conference, at which he will make an address on municipal ownership of public utilities.

John Bates Parker, a pioneer of 1843, died at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Carrie V., Hall, 517 Guild avenue, yesterday, aged 70 years. Death was due to cancer of the stomach, from which he had suffered for two years. Mr. Parker was a native of Missouri and came to Oregon with his parents, who settled at Parker's landing on the Columbia river. Four children survive him—Frank, a resident of the east side; Henry A. of 329 Oak street, Mrs. F. A. Schappe and Mrs. Hall.

Owing to the increased business of the juvenile court a room in the court-house will have to be assigned to Robert Galloway, district attorney for the court. At present Mr. Galloway is using Judge Cleland's courtroom as a place for hearing testimony, but as the September term will soon open he will have to look for new quarters. He has asked for one of the rooms formerly occupied by County Assessor Bigler, and his request will probably be granted by the county court.

Deputy United States Marshal Clark which place he took A. G. Leonard, who was wanted on a charge of robbing the mails. In the few days that he was in Denver, Mr. Clark says he met hundreds of people who had purchased tickets to Postland and other points in the northwest, but who found it impossible to obtain sleeping car berths unless reservations were made two days before leaving Denver.

A party of 30 South Carolina editors, in a special buffet sleeping car, departed today for home, after having spent four days seeing the exposition and Portland. Their route is over the Union Pacific system, and they are accompanied to Huntington by R. M. Hall, advertising agent of the O. R. & N. Co.

Edward Dekum, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Portland for the past six weeks, will leave tonight for Honolulu, where he has lived for the past 12 years. He came with an excursion party of 50 residents of Hawaii, nearly all of whom came to see the fair.

The Consumers' league will meet at 11 o'clock Friday, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, 255 Eleventh street. John Graham Brooks of Massachusetts, president of the national league, who is connected with the civic meetings at the fair, will address the meeting.

G. A. Gregory, who was arrested for assault with intent to kill John Burkwick, one of the owners of the Arleta Lumber company, was released from the county jail yesterday by an agreement between the lawyers.

The Gould railway system is coming o Oregon for lumber and materials or construction of the Western Pa-fic, and the Booth-Kelly Lumber comsific, and the Booth-Kelly Lumber com-pany at Eugene, and local mills, are submitting bids. The system is pushing work on the main line of the Western Pacific to San Francisco, and is project-ing ejectric feeder lines in central Call-fornia. Some of these will reach into Dregon. It is said by railroad men that the Gould people will before long be at work on a main line to reach Portland, sapping Klamath county and central Dregon.

Practically every building along the Trail at the exposition was decorated in purple today in honor of the B. P. O. E., as were many of the booths in the exhibit buildings and places outside the fair grounds. Besides the stuffed elk, which were numerous, the animals from the diving elk show went out to the car line to meet the antiered humans. So did a large body of the Centennial guard, whose commander, Major McDoneil is exalted ruler of the order.

Men Seeking Work Shy Violently , When Implements Are Pre-sented to Them.

CITY NEEDS LABORERS WHO ARE VERY SCARCE

Easy Places With Large Salaries m to Be Among the Things That the Majority of Idle People Are Looking For.

Many men are seeking work in the city, but they are particular about the cert they would do. Yesterday over 100 men applied at the office of the municipal civil service commission for positions, but when the nature of the services required was explained not more than a dozen filed applications.

"We have had at least 125 inquiries regarding work today," said Secretary O. L. McPherson yesterday, "but very few of the men will accept positions after finding what is expected of them. Few desire to work, but are seeking soft snaps."

while he was speaking three young men sauntered into the room. They were well built, but from all appearances were not used to hard work. Two carried the lines of dissipation on their faces and their clothes showed considerable wear. The spokesman stated that he had heard that the city was easiling amployed and they had come to
