SHANAHAN'S

Second week of the sale that turned the retail dry goods market topsy-turvy. No time within the memory of Pacific Coast store events has there ever been so large and grand a stock of reasonable and fall wearing apparel, etc., offered at a bona-fide sacrifice as this grand, great and true blue Salvage Sale of the Boston stock, which gives to the consumer a buying opportunity that for quality and low price will not be equaled in the commercial events of this state for a lifetime.

Remarks

The Boston Store was a Portland dry goods establishment for more than a score of years. It was tried and found true. The class of merchandise sold by the Boston was of the most reliable and trustworthy kinds appealing to all classes, from the staple, reliable kinds to the qualities demanded by millionaires. The Boston Store, on account of lease difficulties, has closed its doors, for it was one of the most popular and successful dry goods houses in Portland. Shanahan is selling out the stock, and it's going at prices that never have been an equal. New fall stocks are now in transit and room must be had to show and sell fall goods. LET THE LOSS BE WHAT IT MAY.
