Quick Meal Ranges

Quick Meal Steel Ranges are built just as heavy as a necessary with the metal distributed in the manner that will do the most good. The walls are so well lined with asbestos that no heat is lost, but is radiated to points where it is most needed. Almost every part of Quick Meal Ranges is of steel, making the range lighter, stronger and less liable to breakage than would be possible with any other method of construction.

Quick Meal Steel Ranges are distinctly different from other ranges inasmuch as they possess all the good features of any other make with many special features not found in other ranges. SPECIAL PRICE THIS WEEK..... $34.50

A WELCOME THAT IS GENUINE

An advertising critic in a recently published article says that in store advertising generally there is a great lack of feeling displayed, and none especially the fact that the word WELCOME is very seldom used. This writer, however, finds several exceptions among the best-known and most popular stores, undoubtedly having in mind this "Old Homestead Store" for one. We have ever endeavored to impress upon the public how genuinely welcome they are to come and see us, to go through the store, to ask questions and to make themselves generally at home. We wish this invitation to apply especially to visitors in the city. Avail yourselves of our many accommodations, and remember that the welcome is genuine.
