All Motor-Boats Must Carry Freed From Duties of Admin-Them is Judiciary Committee's Recommendation.

NO CHANGE IS MADE IN RUSHLIGHT'S ORDINANCE

United States Guaranty & Fidelity Company, on Bond of R. M. Riner & Son, Do Not Get Money Claim for Extras.

Councilman Rushlight's ordinance pro-viding that lifepreservers and lifebuoys shall be kept on all motor-boats in the harbor has been recommended for pas-sage to the city council by the judiciary committee. One lifepreserver will be required for each passenger in the boat, and there shall be one lifebuoy on every loss under 25 feet long, two on hosts boat under 25 feet long; two on boats from 25 to 40 feet in length, and three on boats over 40 feet in length. A light shall be maintained on board at night In a place where it can easily be seen.

The point under discussion was the number of lifepreservers which should be required. The boatmen argued that one preserver for every four passengers would be sufficient, but the committee thought that every passenger should be supplied with a means of reaching safety in case a boat sank.

The committee did not allow the claim of the United States Guaranty & Fidelity company on the bond of R. M. Riner & Son, contractors on the Tanner creek sewer, for $1,000, which was said to be due for extras put in the sewer and not called for in the plans and specifica-tions. The Portland Consolidated Railway company will be given a hearing on the proposed ordinance to force it to maintain guardrails on the sees of open cars.

The shots missed their mark, and the assailant fied. Moody called up the police station and told Captain Moore what had happened. This morning he asw Chief Gritzmacher and asserted his belief that the builets had been fired by an agent of R. Green, his mother-in-law's husband. He wanted Green taken into custody, but the police did not believe the evidence would warrant such action.

Moody went to police headquarters some time ago and asked protection from Green, stating that his wife's stepfather was insane.

Green told Chief Gritzmacher that his allegations against Moody were true.

"He thinks more of my wife than he does of her daughter, his own wife," declared Green.
Shortly afterward Moody had Green arrested on a charge of insanity. Green was given the benefit of a doubt and discharged from custody. Then came the attempted assassination last night. Moody saw his assailant and is sure it was not Green, but feels satisfied, so be says, that it was somebody his wife's stepfather is on good terms with.

istering Jansen Estate Because of Testimony.

> COURTESIES OF STATE JOB AS COUNSELLOR

Court Does Not Pass on Actions of Former Bailiff Upton but Rebukes by Written Decree Methods Used in Settling Estates.

County Judge L. R. Webster today removed R. C. Scott from the adminis-tratorahip of the estate of Rudolph Jan-sen and appointed Endre M. Cederburgh n and appointed Endre M. Cederburgh his place. This carries with it the moval of H. H. Riddell as counsel for in his place. This carries with it the removal of H. H. Riddell as counsel for the administrator. The court refused to vacate the order which he originally signed authorizing Administrator Scott to employ H. H. Riddell to settle the claim against the Portland Consolidated Railway company for the death of Jansen ugon a contingent fee of "not more than 50 per cent of the amount collected." It also refused to set aside the settlement of the claim for $2,500.

Judge Webster's decision, contrary to his usual practice, was written. In it he first recited the history of the case from the records of the court, and then said it was not proper for the court to go outside the issues that had been raised by the petition of Herman Jansen, brother of the deceased, and Mr. Cederburgh, in which they asked for the removal of Scott and Ridden, the vacation of the order authorizing the 50 per cent contingent fee and the settlement of the claim for $2,500.

Text of Decisios.

"It is true," said Judge Webster, "that the evidence adduced at the several hearings took a much wider range than the allegations of this petition, and much of it was irrelevant under the issues. Early in the investigation evidence appeared of such a character as in my opinion warranted the court in going into a thorough investigation of the matter."

Janson Was Victim

Jansen Was Victim,

There was, according to the court's finding, evidence to show that Jansen had been taken advantage of by R. W. Ruffin, but the court "is powerless in this proceeding to make any order in reference to any agreement between Jansen and Ruffin."

Judge Webster also decides that he will not allow the 50 per cent claim of Riddell for settling the claim with the rallway company. He sets forth that he signed an order authorizing the payment by Administrator Scott of not more than 50 per cent, but that he finds from the evidence that the railway company did not contest the claim, and the labor of the attorney was only to confer with the company regarding what sum The decision makes no reference to the fact that Jay H. Upton, formerly bailiff of the court, signed Judge Webster's name to a telegram to Herman Jansen, nor is there any reference to the fact finally admitted by Riddell that he had made a contract with Scott for 60 per cent of the sum collected from the railway company.

In short, the decision of the court does not go into any of the extraneous matters that were brought out in the hearings, and therefore there is nothing to indicate the attitude of mind of the

Why Scott Was Ousted.

That portion of the decision in which he dismisses Scott and appoints Ceder-burgh bases the action on the fact that Scott was not a relative or creditor of deceased and that a relative—Herman Jansen—has come into court asking for the removal of the one first appointed. The officials believed that John Erickson, the young Swede employed by Ruffin to get business for him, according to the testimony, was about to leave for San Francisco, whither Rufin went last Sunday, and a suppoens was at once served on him. Ha will be before District Attorney Manning this afternoon, as the first witness in the inquiry that is now to begin, and that is intended to probe all matters relating to the Jansen and other estates of which facts have been elicited that are not regular on the surface.

Olive Jeannette Goes to Pieces Also-Heroes on Steamer Sevonia Rescued by Tug-Four of Crew Drowned in Small Boat.

(Journal Special Service.)
Duluth, Minn., Sept. 5.—As a result of he gale that has swept over Lake Su-the gale that has swept over Lake Superior the last two days 15 or 20 lives have been lost and $500,000 worth of property deatroyed.

It is believed that in addition to the steel steamer Sevonia, which broke in two on Sand island reef, the schooners Pretoria of Bay City, Michigan, and Olive Jeannette went to the bottom.

The big schooner of the Davidson, fleet was being towed when the line broke and the vessel foundered near Apostic island, 100 miles from Duluth. Five of her crew of 10 were drowned by the capsiging of a yawl in which they took refuge when the boat began to sink. The five survivors were rescued by the heroic efforts of John Irvine, keeper of the outer light, and his assistants, clinging to the overturned boat. The Pretoria had a cargo of iron ore and was valued at $150,000.

boat. The Pretoria had a cargo of iron ore and was valued at $150,000.

A mass of wreckage was sighted 10 miles from Portage Entry by the steamer Waneta and it is presumed it was the Olive Jeannette.

Lafer developments show that only four of the crew of the steamer Sevonia were drowned by the wreck on Sand island reef, the 18 others being saved, including the remainder of the crew and four women. The seven of the crew that offered their lives as a sacrifice by remaining on board whits the others took the boats were rescued by a tug. Four of the crew who took the second boat were lost. The monetary loss is $170,000.

The storm was the severest in recent years and many steamers were forced to seek shelter in battered condition. The steel steamer Stackhouse was badly sprung and one of her crew was washed overboard. The steamer Samuel Mathe also lost one of her crew. Grave-fears are enterteined that the record of deaths and disasters will reach much greater proportion than the present estimates.
