YOUNG CORBETT THINKS JIMMY BRITT WILL WIN

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Sept. 6.—"To start with," said Young Corbett yesterday, "you want to take it for granted that Jeffries is absolutely on the level..."

"As far as boxing and general work goes, Britt is Nelson's superior by miles, and is therefore the class of the fight."

"Now, to get down to the real hand-capping, there is no chance for an argument on the fact that Britt is a great offensive and defensive boxer..."

"It is a clinch that with that tucked-up shoulder and blocking combined with that long left-hand work, Britt will have the edge on the fight as long as he is on his feet..."

The date of the return match is near at hand and in my opinion it will be mainly a question of condition again. I might attach more weight to Britt's superiority in the matter of clean hitting...

It is in no sense a forecast, being merely a story covering some of the points that are being discussed where sporting men foregather. Now a word about the betting. A good many will tell you that Britt is a favorite at odds of 10 to 6...

Another thing. Don't regard all the opinions you see in print as sincere. If they are uttered in good faith, the better of Nelson would be justified in expecting 2 to 1 against their money.

Among the lists of Britt men in the local press I have read the names of some who I know believe that Nelson will win.
