

SHORT DAYS MAKE NEW SCHEDULE

Steamer Spencer Will Make Run to The Dalles Three Times a Week.

CAPTAIN SAYS RAPIDS ARE DANGEROUS IN THE DARK

Remarkable Record Made by the Speedy Craft for the Hundred and Twenty Days She Has Been on the Run.

Beginning next Monday the steamer Charles R. Spencer will make only three round trips a week...

Captain Spencer says the change in schedule was decided on because of the short days. He explains that it has been impossible for the past week for her to get through the rapids on the return trip until after dark.

For the past four months the Spencer has been making daily round trips between Portland and The Dalles. In looking over his logbook this morning the skipper says he learned that she has made a remarkable record, feeling off an average of 13 miles an hour for every hour she has run during the past 120 days.

How to Find Out.

THE BACKBONE OF OUR NATIONAL LIFE is the farmer. All wealth proceeds from the soil, and that nation which neglects to make agriculture a chief concern among all its industries cannot maintain a first rank in the family of nations.

"THE RIDE OF HIS LIFE"

by Sewell Ford. It is a clever thing in Mr. Ford's best vein, replete with fine humor. Among other good things, this issue contains the story of "THE LAST WAR OF THE CATTLE RANGE." This is full of the romance and vigor and action of those pioneer days of the West when men were killed before breakfast and no especial concern was had as to their burial.

"OUTLAW HUNTERS OF RUSSIA"

Agnes C. Lant gives the second paper in this series, and one that is full of adventure and human interest. The pictures accompanying this are remarkable as being the actual ones taken by the Siberian exiles so many years ago. Besides all the above, the September number contains "THE FALLACIES OF ROUGHING IT," a story of the woods. "PHEASANT SHOOTING IN CHINA," a paper for the sportsman. "WHERE TWO GREAT RIVERS MEET," a story of human life, with a strong, especial appeal to the Middle West.
