

SAVE A PINK TEA TO TEACHERS

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay Entertains Forty School Marmas at Her Home.

INAUGURATES HER WORK AS TRUSTEE WITH PARTY

Talks Methods and Plans Over With Instructors Who Predict a Fine Future for the Roslyn Scholars Under New Regime.

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) New York, Sept. 16.—The first of a series of teas to be given by Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay was participated in by 40 teachers from the public schools of Roslyn and Glenview at Harbor Hill today. Mrs. Mackay, beautifully gowned, conversed intimately with each on educational topics, calling from each talk the individual teacher's pet schemes for educating the young.

In return Mrs. Mackay told the teachers of her plans, frankly discussing them and asking for criticisms. The criticisms given by the teachers were highly prized by the attentive hostess because, while she is devoting all the time she can spare to her work as a school trustee, she feels that her experience has been short as compared with that of the teachers.

WOULD GARRISON FORTS WITH OFFICERS' FAMILIES

(Special Dispatch by Leased Wire to The Journal) Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—General Grant's proposition to garrison the unused and abandoned forts with the wives and children of the army and navy officers who have foreign duty does not meet with the favor of government officials, who are supposed to be experts on this particular subject.

business was to manage the campaign with the material at his disposal. Attempts of the states to regulate campaign expenditures have not been invariably successful, because the opportunities of evasion are so great, but it is thought that a federal law might be effective. The party having the most money is likely to move vigorously for the reform and if it should do so in good faith it would find support on the other side, right thinking people realizing the evils which follow high-priced campaigns. It brings into evidence newspapers whose chief object is to be bought up and in general the tribes of political mercenaries, already too large.

C. F. SWIGERT MAY LOSE

(Continued from Page One.) the subject had been brought to their attention. All appeared to believe that Mr. Swigert would continue to retain the position, notwithstanding the fact that he intends to be absent for a year. When Commissioner Spencer failed to attend the meetings of the board regularly last winter his position was declared vacant. The captain appeared at the next regular meeting of the commission, however, and on promise that he would make it a point to be present at the gatherings he was re-elected. The board is composed of C. F. Swigert, John Driscoll, C. F. Adams, A. L. Pease, J. C. Alsworth, F. L. Willis and G. S. Thomas. It is pointed out that seven members are needed on the board; if there are only six a tie vote would likely result when some question of importance came up for settlement. Frequently the president has been obliged to cast the deciding vote.
