

VETERAN CONSUL WILSON DIES

Man Who Represented Russia Here for Twenty Years Succumbs to Old Age.

WAS FIGHTER IN EARLY WARS WITH INDIANS

Also Had a Record as Sailor, Miner, Office-Holder and Business Man—He Was a Mason, Too, of High Degree.

Gustaf Wilson, one of the most prominent of the Oregon pioneers and for 20 years Russian vice-consul at this place, died at 2:35 o'clock this morning at Good Samaritan hospital. Death resulted from ailments incident to old age. Four years ago he resigned the vice-consulate because of his advanced age and has been falling gradually since that time. During the past six months his ailments became more alarming and he was removed to the Good Samaritan hospital August 4. His decline was rapid from then until the end.

Gustaf Wilson was born in Uleaborg, a town in the northern part of Finland, June 2, 1827. At the age of 15 he went to sea as cabin boy, but at the expiration of two years ran away in London. From that place he shipped as a seaman on an American vessel and landed in New York, where he remained for a short time before shipping on another vessel bound for San Francisco. He went around Cape Horn and finally reached his destination.

He remained in San Francisco only a short time and went into southern Oregon, where he prospected and became interested in various mining enterprises. He confined his operations to Jackson and Josephine counties and was elected coroner of Josephine county in 1855. He was twice re-elected to that position and held the office for six years.

In 1853 he enlisted in the army as a volunteer and served during the Indian troubles of 1855-56. In 1858 he was elected county clerk of Josephine county, and in 1860 moved to Portland. He engaged in mercantile business for a time and in 1883 was appointed vice-consul of the Russian empire in this city. He resigned in 1901. In 1874 he was married to Mrs. Christina Wilson of this city. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Alice E. Wilson, who is his only relative in this country.

For many years he was prominent in the political affairs of his county and was affiliated with the Democratic party. When McKinley became a candidate for the presidency, however, he became a Republican.

In Masonic circles he was prominent for years. He was a member of the grand lodge since 1858 and attained the thirty-second degree in the Scottish Rite. He was past master and vice-senior warden of the grand lodge.

He was also a member of the Oregon Pioneers association, a member of the Indian War Veterans' association, and also of the Oregon Historical society. For the past 23 years he and his daughter had lived with the family of C. F. Pearson, 615 Marshall street.

The body is at Holman's undertaking establishment and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

COAST REPRESENTED IN ELKS GRAND LODGE

In the appointments of standing committees and the official roster of the grand lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks this year the Pacific coast has stronger representation than ever before. Grand Exalted Ruler Robert Brown of Louisville, Kentucky, has issued his appointments for the coming term. He has named Governor George B. Chamberlain of Oregon as a member of the committee on charities, with August Hermann of Cincinnati, and D. J. Hogan, a Chicago lawyer.

IRVINGTON SEWER BIDS TO BE OPENED FRIDAY

Bids for the Irvington district sewer will be opened by the city executive board tomorrow. The estimated cost of the drain is $122,644, but it is expected that bids will be made under this sum. The sewer will be 2 1/2 miles long and will run through one of the most rapidly growing districts of the east side and drain 528 acres of territory. The first 2,500 feet of the drain will be circular and 4 feet 8 inches in diameter. The remainder of the sewer will be egg-shaped and will vary from 5 feet 6 inches wide and 8 feet 3 inches high to 2 feet 5 inches wide and 3 feet 8 inches high. A large portion of the drain will be built in a tunnel, while the remainder will be laid in a deep cut.

FLOYD IS TIRED OF PRISON QUARTERS

Attorney John F. Watts this morning asked Presiding Judge Frazer for a writ of habeas corpus for H. E. Floyd, held in this city on a fugitive warrant from Eureka, California, on the ground that he had been held in the city jail since September 12 without trial. Judge Frazer will hear arguments tomorrow at 1 o'clock. Floyd is wanted in Eureka to answer the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It is said he sold a half interest in the patent rights of an oil generator for $275, and that he had previously sold the complete rights to another person.

AS NEVER SEEN

Portland Day at Exposition Will Be Celebrated on Saturday, September Thirtieth.

PROTESTS OF MERCHANTS UNHEEDED BY OFFICIALS

President Goode Issues Statement of Reasons for Choosing Last Day of Week and Wonders Why Objections Were Not Made Earlier.

President Goode of the Lewis and Clark exposition has definitely decided that no change will be made in the date for Portland day at the fair. He met Mayor Lane this morning and the latter presented the objection of the merchants against proclaiming September 30 as a holiday, and their reasons for asking that the date be changed.

President Goode said the objections of the merchants had come a little late. Although it has been stated that the principal merchants in the city, with the exception of the Jewish merchants, had signed the compact to keep their stores open on September 30, and advertised the day throughout the country as a great trading day, Mr. Goode was of the opinion that the merchants would object if an appeal were made to their patriotism to observe the day by closing their places and uniting in an effort to make it the greatest day at the exposition.

President Goode issued a formal letter to the people of Portland, in which he says in part: "In the selection of a Saturday for Portland day the guiding facts were the following: "First—Saturday is to a large extent a half-holiday in this city, and more people are at leisure than on any other day of the week.

"Second—All banks close at noon on Saturdays, and the principal wholesale houses close from noon on to 3 p. m. on Saturdays. The public and private schools are closed all day on Saturday.

"Fourth—Manufacturers favored Saturday as being most satisfactory to their employes upon the whole. The day will largely depend for patronage on Portland day.

"Fifth—Nearly all offices, such as insurance, lawyers, real estate and others, close on Saturdays.

"Sixth—The general offices of the railroads close early on Saturday afternoon.

"Seventh—Numbers of traveling men employed by business houses come to Portland on Saturday to spend Sunday with their families.

"Eighth—There is always considerable travel from near by points into Portland on Saturday.

"Ninth—Portland day on a Saturday would cause less disturbance to the working forces of the town than any other day would, for the reason that employes would have the following Sunday for rest and be ready to take up their work again on Monday morning."

President Goode states, too, that as early as April 20 it was announced that Portland day would fall on a Saturday and that until within a few days no protest was heard. Meanwhile September 30 has been exploited as the great day of the fair. He inquires why there was no objection raised in the five months that the fact was known. Before concluding Mr. Goode said that the attendance on their special day at least 100,000.

Each passerholder is expected to pay his way into the grounds at least once on Portland day. The protesting merchants have issued a statement which follows:

Protest of Merchants.
We, the undersigned, leading merchants of Portland, most cordially invite all the people of the northwest to combine business with pleasure and come to our city on Saturday, September 30, the day designated as "Portland day" at the Lewis and Clark exposition. Our stores will be wide open to receive, welcome and accommodate all visitors. Most attractive displays will be made of the autumn season's newest and brightest merchandise and special bargains will be offered so that those who wish to do the season's shopping may save the entire expense of their trip.

The Colonel's Waterloo.
Colonel John M. Fuller of Honey Grove, Texas, nearly met his Waterloo from a river. He received the following recent letter he says: "I was nearly dead of these complaints, and although I tried my family doctor, he did me no good. So I got a 50c bottle of your great Electric Bitters, which cured me. I consider them the best medicine on earth, and thank God who gave you the ingredients to make them. Sold and guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Kidney Disease. Kidney Drug Co., 131 Third street, at 50c a bottle."

PACIFIC UNIVERSITY BEGINS REGISTRATIONS
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Forest Grove, Or., Sept. 21.—Pacific university opened its doors today with a registration much larger than that of a year ago. Portland furnishes a large quota of students and eastern Oregon is well represented. At the opening session President W. N. Ferrin welcomed the new student body and introduced Dr. Fond of San Francisco, who led the devotional services. He was followed by President McLean of the Pacific Theological seminary, who spoke of "College Life." Rev. Dr. Nicholas of Marietta, Ohio, spoke on college education from a moral aspect, contrasting it with the usual commercial idea.

DISFIGURING RUSSIAN

—Doctor Said Lady Would Be Disfigured for Life.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

"I suffered with eczema all over my body. My face was covered; my eyebrows came out. I had tried three doctors, but did not get any better. I then went to another doctor. He thought my face would be marked for life, but my brother-in-law told me to get Cuticura. I washed with Cuticura Soap, applied Cuticura Ointment, and took Cuticura Resolvent as directed. I could brush the scales off my face like powder. Now my face is just as clean as it ever was.—Mrs. Emma White, 649 Cherrier Place, Camden, N. J., April 25, '05."

ACTRESS PUT OFF STAGE IN MIDS OF A PLAY

Audience Hisses Act and Applauds Leading Lady Who Makes an Address.

(Journal Special Service.)
Troy, N. Y., Sept. 21.—The audience of the Lyceum theatre last night witnessed a scene not on the program when Travers Vail, manager of the Mortimer Snow company, presenting "The Crisis," stepped from behind the scenes and grabbed Miss Rose Tapley, of New York, the leading woman, and put her off the stage after a violent struggle. The audience hissed the actor.

The accounts were the culmination of a dispute between the actress and Manager Vail. It is said that he declared Miss Tapley incompetent and forbade her from appearing. Miss Tapley determined to appear. Following her ejection she stepped from behind the scenes and addressed the audience.

Subsequently she ejected the audience from the auditorium, and was loudly applauded. Vail was arrested on the charge of assault.

Miss Tapley appeared in "The Bonnie Briar Bush" and with Chauncey Olcott.

CRACK SHOTS GATHER FOR MEDFORD TOURNAMENT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Medford, Or., Sept. 21.—The leading sporting event of the season in southern Oregon will be the trap shoot at Medford tomorrow and Saturday. The team which upheld American credit at the international contest in England in 1901, headed by Tom Marshall of Keithsburg, Ill., W. C. Carter, of Chicago, the famous fancy rifle shot; C. Plank, the youngest professional shot in the United States, and the representatives of the different firearms companies.

In addition to entrance money, there will be $400 in added money and special purses offered during the two days, and a general average event for gentlemen of $100, for ladies of $50 and a long list of special prizes, subscriptions to sporting papers, etc.

A daily free lunch of fruits and other native products will be served to the shooters and their wives, and tables have been provided at the grounds of the tournament. A button worn by the local representatives at the recent Interstate shoot, depicting a hunting scene of southern Oregon, will be worn by all the contestants.

Numerous hunting and fishing excursions have been arranged for by friends of the shoot, to the Rogue river and its tributaries.

BEGIN RAILROAD WORK AT DIFFERENT PLACES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
The Dalles, Or., Sept. 21.—The Portland and Seattle railroad has established construction camps at Wind Mountain and just above Life, where a great deal of heavy rock work has to be done. With the exception of Cape Horn, these are the most difficult places on the proposed new railroad. Great cliffs of rock have to be tunneled or blasted off entirely at Life, while at Wind Mountain the builders have to contend with a gigantic slide formed by broken rock.

From 20 to 25 men are working from each camp establishing a grade. More men are being added as fast as they can be obtained, the company finding labor scarce, and hiring every man who asks for work.
