"The best laid plans of mice an' men
Gang aft a-gley;

For promised joy."

"THERE WAS A METHOD IN HIS MADNESS, MY MASTER."

As heretofore stated, this store will join with ALL OF PORTLAND'S BEST STORES IN KEEPING OPEN HOUSE FOR THE RECEPTION OF THE CITY'S VISITORS AND THEIR ENTERTAINMENT WHILE DOWN TOWN ON "PORTLAND DAY."

Notwithstanding the strenuous and desperate efforts of a small coterie of local merchants who have an interest in guarding an absolutely selfish nature in refusing to keep their stores open and acting as a downtown committee to receive and care for the city's guests upon their arrival in town on Saturday—"Portland Day"—THE STORES WILL BE WIDE OPEN FROM 8 A. M. TO 6 P. M. AND OUR ARMY OF LOYAL HELPERS WILL NOT AS to receive and attend upon the wants of the multitudes who come to the city on that day for attendance upon the Exposition. As a great public utility our duty is pointed out to us and we should be false indeed to every principle of hospitality as such did we close our doors and go away to help darken the city. To thousands of the visitors a visit to Portland would be incomplete without a tour of the "Big Stores" and a peep at the wonders they contain. Really a part of the great Exposition. We do not propose to deny anyone that privilege. Indeed, the sights here on Saturday will be unusual, grand, magnificent! The full season style shows will be on, and the lessons to be gleaned from the stupendous and matchless displays of merchandise will be invaluable. A full day will allow of all enjoying the sights of the Expo and of the stores. All the great public utilities will be running at full pressure.

COME TO PORTLAND, RAIN OR SHINE!

While the weather records show that such a thing as rain has been known on September 29, we know that every possible influence has been exerted upon the weather man to refuse Jupiter Pluvius admission thru the city's gates on "PORTLAND DAY." If he does land it will be by means of an airship, and Beachey, the intrepid, will guard the ozone above us well that day. We cannot quite agree with the very able editor of a leading city daily who "hoped for rain that Portland might show her extreme loyalty." We have no fear for Portland loyalty—RAIN OR SHINE—but we do sincerely hope for sunshine to bring in the visitors from abroad that may not possess that loyalty for our city so much as for their own. THE COMMON SENSE OF IT ALL IS—We must provide all the attractions that Portland possesses on Saturday. AND PORTLAND'S BIG STORES ARE POWERFUL ATTRACTIVE. The city must and will be OPEN. The only "open" places not open that we know of are cemeteries. They are "open," but hardly inviting, and the tombs tightly closed and locked, would afford little shelter, even to those who might be driven to them for cover. We will not be party to sending thousands back to their homes next Saturday night, or later, with the impression firmly wedged in their mind that "Portland is a 'dead 'un' or a 'deserted village.'" Only the "dead 'uns" will be closed, friends—COME INTO TOWN ON PORTLAND DAY AND WE'LL SHOW YOU ALL OF PORTLAND'S BEST STORES WIDE OPEN AND AT THEIR VERY BEST FOR YOUR RECEPTION. Come rain or shine; if it rains in the morning be sure it will clear long before noon. It's a characteristic of Portland weather. There's shelter here for 10,000 people, even if it does rain; the store is in the heart of the city on the direct line of streetcars to the fair, running every minute. There's shelter and hospitality here—rain or shine.
