Everything for Housekeeping

Housekeepers' Exchange

THIRD AND FOURTH FLOORS

"Everything for Housekeeping" has been made a subject of earnest study for nigh onto thirty-one years by this "Old Homestead" Store.

quiste cut glass, in which America excels; the ordinary china and glassware, lamps for the kitchen and parlor; brushes and other requisites for the bathroom; enamel ware, sad irons, clothes-wringers, bread-mixers, meat-choppers, knives, forks and spoons for the kitchen, laundry helps and everything else that may be required for the modern house.

The dual advantage of getting "Everything for Housekeeping" in one store, from an insignificant article for the humblest apartment in the house to the carpets, curtains and hangings for the humble home of the wage-earner or the most pretentious city mansion, is a convenience that has kept pace with the steady advancement of present-day methods of doing business.
