CORVALLIS WILL MEET INDIANS TOMORROW

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Corvalis, Oct. 6.—Signal practice is the order out on O. A. C. field each night now, in preparation for the game tomorrow with Chemawa. At the practice last night several new men, intely arrived in Corvallis, took a hand in the mixups. One of these was Frank Pendergrass, from near Amity, who weighs about 185, and who will try for a position as guard. Pendergrass played as guard. Pendergrass played kle and end on the Fort Stevens team two years and has the making of good man. Another new player is Kinnon of La Grande, who had a ce last year on the second team at A. C. for a part of the season. Downker, the well known last year All-Walker, the well known last year All-Northwest center, lined up on O. A. C. team for the first time this season last evening. Another promising man who was out last night is John Allen, who has played tackle and half on the Baker City High school team for two years. Allen weighs 180. He will try here for position as quarter and half. Abraham, be found at the emperor of Austria's who has just returned to O. A. C., lined palace at Schoenbrunn.

up last night as fullback, and Lawrence, a new man who has been filling the place, took a position in the line as tackle. There is practice every night out, on O. A. C. field, and as there are 35 men who don the padded suits, it is safe to assert that among the number there are enough to make interesting games for those who go up against the aggregation this season.

The game with Chemawa next Saturday, while it will attract the usual crowd, is not expected to be a very hard victory for the local eleven, although Reuben Saunders, the old veteran who plays for all there is in it, and several other Chemawa men, are expected to make things interesting.

HOUSEHOLDER'S HOMER SCORES FOUR RUNS

(Journal Special Service.)

San Francisco, Oct. 6.—The Seals had no charity for "Spider" Baum yesterday, touching him up for a dozen hits and nine runs. The feature of the game was the terrific batting of Eddie Householder, who was released by Portland because he didn't know how to bat properly." In the seventh inning, with the bases filled, Householder connected with one of Baum's choicest and drove it a mile over the fence for a home run, scoring three men and himself. Eddie got the glad hand on his way round the circuit. Hitt was stendy at all times The score:

Jimmy Declares That Public Will Compel Dane to Give Him a Match.

WOULD MEET BATTLING AT LIGHTWEIGHT TERMS

Same Terms as Nelson Had With Britt Will Be Acceptable to Lowell Boxer-In Meantime Gardner Will Not Need to Remain Idle.

Jimmy Gardner says that public Jimmy Gardner says that public opinion is going to force Battling Nelson to give him a fight. The public is pretty good at the game of getting what it wants if it perseveres and has right on its side, as was the case in bringing about the recent match with Britt, and no doubt it will do as much for Gardner, but there are a few points upon which the Durable Dane will have to be consulted. One of these is the weight.

which the Durable Dane will have to be consulted. One of these is the weight.

Nelson has said that he is willing to fight Gardner, but he sees no reason why he should go out of his class to fight a heavier man. He will fight Gardner at the lightweight limit, 133 pounds ringside, but Gardner wants 133 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, which will give him five hours to pick up the weight needed for his natural noth—135. That's the advantage the champion does not want to give such a clever fellow as Gardner.

In holding out for making weight in the afternoon Gardner declares that it is on the same terms upon which Nelson met Britt. But it must be remembered that Britt is a legitimate 133-pound man, and, furthermore, that he dictated the terms to Nelson. Now Nelson is the dictator and can, if he chooses, make terms that will prevent his meeting a man weighing 135 or 136 pounds in the ring, and in that particular publim opinion will not do much forcing. ilm opinion will not do much forcing.

At no time is Bat as big a man as Jimmy. He can do 120 with greater ease than Gardner can do 137, and he can't afford to take chances by boosting the scale in the other man's favor.

If terms that are just to Nelson in ing the scale in the other man's favor.

If terms that are just to Nelson in the straight lightweight class can be made, the match would prove popular with every follower of the game, and it might prove a greater fight than the one in which the Dane won the championship, but from appearances such a go cannot be counted on for the immediate future. Nelson, with the glamor of victory still holding him in the center of the pugliistic stage, is entitled to reap all the easy profits attendant upon his fame. He is now on a 12 weeks' theatrical trip, and there are other engagements awaiting him in the east

In the east.

The chances are that a half year will pass before he looks ringward again, and Goubtless by that time the Britt contingent will be making strenuous importunities for a return match. Nelson already considers this one of the strongest possibilities of the future, and strongest possibilities of the future, and ne realizes that those who saw the last flight and many who did not, would break their necks to see it repeated.

In the meantimes Gardner need not remain idle. He can keep his hand in by taking on Mike (Twin) Sullivan or Jack O'Keefe and still prove a drawing card while ruminating upon the advisability of meeting the Dane at the right weight—133 ringside.

ALBANY WILL HAVE FOOTBALL THIS YEAR

Albany, Oct. 6.—While Albany college will not have so strong a football team in the field as the one playing under the name of the college last year, this city will not be deprived of the sport, for the young men of the college ast evening began the practice for the season's playing, under the coaching of Charles Stewart, who was also in charge of last season's eleven. The team this year will not be in the class to play the big colleges, but good material for a light team is there, and last evening a healthy lot of youngsters appeared for their first work. Charles Monteith, who made quite a record as a player while at the high school, has been chosen captain, and a good business manager will be chosen in the near fu-Albany, Oct. 6.-While Albany colnanager will be chosen in the near fu-ure. Salem, Corvallis and Eugene high chools have been asked for games, and he Hill Military academy and other cams of similar strength will be invited teams of similar strength will be invited to accept defeat at the hands of the Albany college team, and the boys promise to play a good article of college football. The candidates for the several positions are: M. Lennan, center; Rogoway and Stalnaker, guards; Stevens and R. Stewart, tackles; Wallace, Simpson and Curran, ends; Crews and Schultz, halfbacks; Fortmiller, quarter, and Monseth, cantain and full. All of the playteith, captain and full. WILLAMETTE'S ELEVEN RUSHED THE CARDINALS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Palo Alto, Cal., Oct. 6.—On Wednesday afternoon the Willamette varsity football team lined up for practice against the Stanford freshmen team.
Willamette went into the game with a rush that carried the freshmen off a rush that carried the freshmen off their feet, and by steady bucking, the ball was forced into the freshmen territory. If the 'varsity men play with such determination and spirit against the University of California as they did against the freshmen) Berkeley will get a good run for her money tomorrow.

Coleman, who has been playing right half, was switched over to left end. He put up a great defensive game and blocked all the attempts at runs around his end. Two other changes have been made in Williamette's lineup for the game with University of California. Rader, who has been playing quarterback, will play right half, and Patton, who has been playing left end, will play quarterback. This change in the lineup will strengthen the team considerably.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

If no more rain drops between now and the appointed time, the cute little Gients will meet the trim Tacoma tour-tests at Recreation park this afternoon. The elements have been rather kind or unkind to Portland this week. Which way, no one knows.

Earnest Inquirer: The championship of the United States is practically the championship of the world. While there has been no one game perhaps played for such a championship, there have been numerous series to decide the honer. In 1885 and 1886 the Chicago Gould.

played St. Louis (A. A.) in 1888, and New York won five out of the first six games. The remaining four games were practically farces. Brooklyn (A. A.) played New York (N. L.) in 1888, New York won six of the nine games played. In 1890 Brooklyn (N. L.) played Louisville (A. A.). Each team won three games, and the seventh was a draw. The interest in the series was so slight that the tie was never settled. In 1891 the American Association broke away from the national agreement, and there was no world's series. Then came the one big 12-club major organization in 1902, the champions of which had no rival for world's honors until the organization of the American League, in 1901. There was a series between the respective champions—Pittsburg (N. L.) and Boston (A. L.) for world's honors after the regular season of 1902 was over, and the Boston club won the majority of even games, but, as the leagues were at war, the games were not recognized as official Last year New York declined to play Boston. This year the Philadelphia Atnietics will play the post season finals with the New York Giants.

His denial was not sufficiently impressive, however, and President Roosevelt issued a signed statement of a thousand words, declaring that the whole story was a "wicked falsehood."
