ALL BOUND TO SEND A GIRL TO HAWAII

Active Voting for Candidates Who Seek to Be The Journal's Guests on Free Trip to the Islands of the Summer Sea.

Very heavy voting has marked The Journal's Hawaiian trip contest during the past two days. In the second district the returns have been exceedingly heavy, particularly those from Pendleton, and that city has forged far to the front. Miss Agnes Fletcher has made a gain of something like 3,000 and leads the second district with 27,351 votes to her credit. Miss Pearl Harris, another of Pendleton's popular young ladies, has developed great strength and has jumped into second place in her home town. Miss Harris' gain for two days being 4,354 votes. The race in the second district continues to be between Pendleton and La Grande. While Pendleton has the leadership, Miss Katie Nash of La Grande is second with 22,374 votes. Five new candidates from Walla Walla, who have been nominated in this district are Misses Ivy McAllister, Roxy Young, Luella Barr, May Callahan and Hattie Brown.

Miss Minnie Roy of Dallas comes third with 11,945 votes.

TOY LOY RUNS FAST BUT NOT FAST ENOUGH

How to run fast, though a Chinaman, was exemplified for the amusement of about 1,000 people yesterday afternoon by Toy Loy, employed at the Owl saloon as porter. Tripped by a mischievous messenger boy at Fourth and Alder, he gave chase to the lad and two companions, and after running several blocks was about to capture them, when they dived into the Western Union office at Third and Stark streets and escaped him temporarily.

Toy went to police headquarters and entered a complaint. Acting Detective Silver was detailed to find the lads and took into custody James Nolan, aged 15, and Raymond Cobb, aged 15. Both boys declared that another messenger, called "Scotchie," was the culprit. His real name they did not know. The police now look for "Scotchie." When Toy fell, on being shown by "Scotchie," he dropped a dollar. The money was picked up by somebody while Toy was chasing his tormentors. "If I catch 'em I kick," exclaimed the bellicose Chinaman when making a report of the affair to Chief Gritzmacher. He meant what he said. When the lads were taken to the police station Toy had to be restrained from pouncing on them and giving them a beating. "I good 'Melton myself," said Toy. "Don't let anybody make me fall."

BEING A JAP BEAR HIS NAME IS TOGO

"Togo," the bear brought from Japan by Captain Henry of the British steamship Coulson, was turned over to the city park yesterday afternoon. He is only about six months old and one of the most interesting cubs ever seen in Portland. Although he has not been trained, "Togo" is a performer of difficult tricks of no mean ability. He is perfectly tame, and while on the ship was permitted to play about the deck like a dog. The only time he exhibits a savage disposition is when he is fed fresh meat. Then it is unsafe to get into a close argument with him, nothing eating any other kind of food Togo is docile as a kitten.

Togo bears a strong resemblance to the cinnamon bear found in this country, although he is no so clumsy as that species. Park Commissioner Hawkins considers him a fine addition to the animal collection at the park.

A PORTLAND FAIR AT LEWISTON

Business Men's Excursion Will Take Inland Empire Metropolitan by Storm.

NO ROOM LEFT FOR MANY WHO WOULD GO

Excursion Will Be Run With System and Precision of a Business Engagement, With No Hitch to Mar the Success of the Trip.

Portland day at the Lewiston fair will be memorable. If the management of the local excursion to Lewiston and adjacent points had time for further preparations, the number of men who would attend the inland empire metropolis fair on Portland day would be much greater. There already a large "waiting list" at the Commercial club, composed of business men who are anxious to go. It probably would be easy to double the number of the business men's excursion. Every one seems to want a berth on the one train, which was intended primarily as an accommodation for a few business men who might be able to get away. This excursion will be the best opportunity ever given from Portland. Taking as a precedent the admirable business arrangements of the California promotion committee when it came north the present year, the Commercial club will see that the trip is conducted with the system and precision of a business engagement. Manager Tom Richardson said this morning that every preliminary was finished. Members of the excursion will pay their own expenses, and do not expect the cities visited to entertain them. Breakfast, luncheon and dinner will be served at given periods; trains will arrive within at least a few moments of schedule time; five minutes before the time for departure, every member is to be at the depot; close connection will be had with the home city at all times, so that dispatches, letters and any form of communication may be prompt. And the excursion of Portland's leading business men will be a model of exactness and business order. Lewiston is enthusing over Portland day in a most gratifying manner. Manager Richardson has received from the fair management badges for the Portland delegation, but it seems that there will not be enough to go around. The Lewiston people have a warm spot for Portland and are anxious to see the success of the events of the successful fair that is being held there. Tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock the excursion is to depart from this city. All members are asked to be on hand early.

LOCAL COMPANY AWARDED BIG PIPE CONTRACT

San Francisco Firm Dissatisfied and May Protest Action of Water Board.

Contracts for providing the pipe and laying the mains of the high-pressure water service on the east side were let yesterday by the municipal water board. The Oregon Iron & Steel company is awarded the contract for supplying 21,600 feet of 24-inch cast iron pipe for $131,705, and 5,400 feet of 20-inch and 2,500 feet of 16-inch cast iron pipe for $21,343.40, or a total of $152,888.40. The contract for laying the mains was awarded to Paquet, Guibet & Joplin for $34,525. The entire system must be finished and ready for acceptance by July 1, 1906. The bid of the Martin Pipe & Foundry company of San Francisco was somewhat less than that of the Oregon Iron & Steel company, but was irregular, as the bidder did not follow the specifications in his figures. The bid further provided that the pipe should be inspected by a representative of the water board at Birmingham, Alabama, which would cause additional expense. George C. Strow, agent for the Martin Pipe & Foundry company, was highly incensed because his company was not awarded the contract and may protest the action of the board. Bids were also received for steel riveted pipe, but it was thought that, although this sort of pipe could be purchased more cheaply, the cast iron pipe was the more durable, and therefore would be more satisfactory to the property-owners. The lowest bidder for steel riveted pipe was the Shaw-Batcher company of Sacramento, California, which agreed to furnish the material for $34,000 less than the cost of cast iron pipe.

NO TRACE OF WOMAN WHO CONQUERS DEATH

Clackamas Woman Thinks She Has Revivifying Power, But Otherwise Is Sane.

Friends and relatives have failed in their efforts to locate Mrs. Ella J. Longcoy of Clackamas, who disappeared two weeks ago, and who believes that she is endowed with power to raise the dead. She is perfectly rational upon all subjects except that of her supposed revivifying power. She is about 35 years of age and until her disappearance lived with her husband and father near Clackamas station. For several years she has visited homes in the neighborhood where death had entered. When she disappeared friends traced Mrs. Longcoy to Portland, where she visited many bereaved families and insisted on being permitted to bring the departed ones back to life. The woman visits the graveyards and undertakes establishments, as well, and does not confine her efforts to her circle of friends or acquaintances, but tries her supposed power on strangers also who have died. Since Mrs. Longcoy's departure her husband has received a number of letters from her, but none reveals where she is. They were written on trains and no two were sent from the same vicinity. The local detective force has been trying to find the woman, but she has succeeded in eluding their search.
