

ROOSEVELT HEARTILY WELCOMED TO SERIOUS CHARGES PREFERRED

MOTHER'S OLD HOME

President Given Ovation in Atlanta and Roswell Where He Speaks to Crowds.

GREETED OLD NEGROES AS IF THEY WERE GOVERNORS

Meets Many People Who Knew Parent as a Girl and Who Were Her Schoolmates—Makes Address at State Fair in Capital of Georgia.

(Journal Special Service.) Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—This is a great day for Atlanta and the many thousands of visitors which the state fair and the visit of President Roosevelt had attracted. The special train bearing President Roosevelt and his party arrived here promptly at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Several thousand people were assembled at the station to welcome the president upon his arrival and they cheered and waved their hats and handkerchiefs in a manner which left no doubt as to the president's popularity.

A committee consisting of the mayor and 15 prominent citizens greeted President Roosevelt and escorted him to his carriage. The other members of the president's party, accompanied by members of the reception committee, also occupied carriages and then the whole party started on a drive through the city. The president's carriage was surrounded by a mounted escort consisting of a detail from Georgia Military academy at College Park. After an extended drive through the most beautiful parts of the city, the president was taken to the clubhouse of the Piedmont Driving club, where he was the guest of honor at a reception, followed by a luncheon. Only 400 citizens had been invited to the reception and only a few of the most prominent men attended the luncheon.

In the afternoon President Roosevelt reviewed the Seventeenth infantry, United States army, now stationed at Fort McPherson; the Fifth regiment of Georgia state troops and several companies from other parts of the state. Colonel Van Orsdale of the seventh infantry commanded the regular and state troops at the review and Colonel Clifford L. Anderson of the Fifth Georgia acted as President Roosevelt's aide. After the review, President Roosevelt was escorted to the speakers' stand, which had been erected opposite the grandstand of the race course, and delivered an address to the enormous crowd assembled on and in front of the grandstand.

At 7 o'clock this evening the president will leave Atlanta in his special train to continue his tour. He will reach Macon at 10 o'clock tonight, but will only stop there five minutes to address a few words to the crowd which will greet him upon the arrival of the train in the station. Then the train will continue its journey, reaching Jessup, Georgia, at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The next long stop will be made at Jacksonville, Florida.

VISITS MOTHER'S HOME.

President Shakes Hands With Colored Servants and Speaks to Georgians.

(Journal Special Service.) Roswell, Ga., Oct. 20.—Half the population of this town was assembled at the station at 7:30 o'clock this morning when the special train with the president and his party on board arrived. Senator Clay, who had met the president's train at Chamblee and had come back with the president, taking breakfast with him on the train, acted as master of ceremonies upon the arrival of the train.

When the train rolled into the station, which is decorated with American flags and bunting in the national colors, the crowd assembled in the station began to cheer and hats and handkerchiefs were waved when the president, accompanied by Senator Clay, appeared on the platform. The committee of reception, consisting of Mayor Sherman, S. Y. Stripling and S. Crowley was awaiting the president at the station, and after President Roosevelt had shaken hands all around, he and the members of the reception committee took seats in a carriage and drove through the handsomely decorated streets of the town to Barrington hall, the residence of Mrs. Baker, who was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of President Roosevelt's mother. Mrs. Baker invited President Roosevelt to breakfast, but owing to the fact that his time was too limited, President Roosevelt was compelled to decline the hospitable invitation of his mother's friend. He remained at the house but a short time and was delighted at meeting "Uncle Grace," an old colored woman, who had been his mother's maid. The old woman volubly expressed her joy over her "Miss Mittie's boy" and never tired of "chattering" whenever "Mama Theodora" addressed her. The president also met and shook hands with "Uncle Billy Jackson," who also had been a slave of the Bulloch family.

From Barrington hall the president drove to his mother's old home, Bulloch hall, a charming old colonial mansion, now owned and occupied by J. B. Wing. After a short inspection of the house and grounds, President Roosevelt returned to his carriage and drove to the City park where a stand had been erected for the president. He was received with an enthusiastic ovation, and after he had been introduced by young Charles Reed, one of Roswell's promising young men, at present a student in Mercer university, delivered a short address. Then he returned to the station and at 8:30 continued his journey to Atlanta.

GREETED OLD MAMMY.

President Treats Mother's Servants As If They Were Governors of States.

(Journal Special Service.) Roswell, Ga., Oct. 20.—The president met many here who knew his mother as a girl. He visited the Presbyterian church, where she worshipped and where her father, Major James Bulloch, dropped dead while teaching his Sunday school class. He shook hands with the aged pastor and many townspeople.

The president greeted his mother's old colored mammy and other servants as if they were governors of states. Warren E. Crockett, a member of the president's regiment, was marshal of the parade. When the president saw him he bubbled over with merriment and greeted Crockett heartily and told the townspeople an amusing incident of how Crockett got out of digging trenches by having good coffee which he made for the men.

The president made a short address at the village park and left Roswell half an hour late on account of hand shaking and greetings. He said he wished he could stay for hours.

SCHOOLMAMMS FIND SALARIES WELCOME

More than 300 schoolmams appeared at the rooms of the city board of school directors this afternoon to receive the first pay they have had since last June. It was an eager crowd that gathered, for many of the teachers had spent all their last year's earnings during their vacation, and several found it necessary to apply for temporary relief before pay day.

There was considerable elbowing and jostling about, but Captain Allen, clerk of the board, ordered them to "keep in line" or he would have the policeman look after them. Patrolman Quantin was on hand to lend assistance, but his services were not required.

Several New Houses.

Building permits have been issued to A. E. Helms, chicken house, East Couch street, between East Thirty-first and Thirty-second streets, $25; William Upson, dwelling, on East First street, between Pacific and Holladay avenues, $1,900; J. F. Pillman, dwelling on "Loretta" street, between Washington and Everett streets, $2,750; J. D. Hewitt, two dwellings on Clinton street, Richmond, in addition, and two on Ravensview street, same addition, each costing $1,600, total $5,400; W. M. and Margaret Laforce, dwelling, on Nehalem street, between East Sixth and East Seventh streets, $1,600.

Repair permits have been issued to W. S. Lightner, two dwellings on North Fifteenth street, between Marshall and Lovejoy streets, $125 each, total $250.

Assault of Ben Ely Will Be Accused of Assault With Intent to Kill.

ATTACK IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN VICIOUS

Witnesses to Encounter Say That "Jointly" Higgins Felled the Baseball Club Secretary and Kicked Him Repeatedly.

Confined to his home, 167 Eleventh street, as the result of what eye witnesses declare was an unprovoked and cowardly assault on the part of "Jointly" Higgins, groundskeeper at the baseball park, Secretary Ben C. Ely of the Portland baseball club was unable to make his appearance in the police court this morning. Mrs. Lucy Ely, his wife, however, preferred a charge of assault with intent to kill against Higgins, the complaint being drafted by Deputy District Attorney H. B. Adams.

Higgins is a Vancouver saloon-keeper, and it is said that he has paid far more attention to his liquor interests than he has to the baseball grounds. He retained his position, it is said, largely through the influence of Walter McCredie, manager of the club, who, with A. M. Brown, signed a bond in the amount of $250 for the release of Ely's assailant. McCredie is married to Higgins' sister.

The preliminary examination of Higgins on the charge of assault with intent to kill will be heard by Judge Cameron tomorrow. A charge of fighting, under the city ordinance, has also been laid against him. He was arrested on the latter charge last night and gave a cash bond.

The assault was committed immediately after yesterday's baseball game. Higgins is a big, muscular man and Ely is not only of much smaller physique, but has for some time been in ill health. Ely was in the box office figuring up the day's receipts, when Higgins walked in and peremptorily demanded his check. He was told to wait a moment until a column of figures had been footed, when, it is said, without warning he struck Ely above the left eye, cutting a deep gash and felling him to the floor.

Before Colonel Dodge, Ely's assistant, could interfere, Higgins is said to have kicked the prostrate man viciously in the back, and, as he was attempting to regain his feet, to have kicked him a second time, in the stomach. Ely again fell and was again kicked in the back. It is said, when Policeman Anderson, ticket-seller Healy and Colonel Dodge caught and held Higgins.

Numerous complaints have been filed regarding the condition of the baseball grounds, it is said, by both players and spectators. Higgins was notified by Ely several times to repair the grounds, but is said to have paid no attention to the order.

GETTING READY FOR THE UPIDEE SEASON

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Oct. 20.—The glee club of the University of Oregon resumed practice for the coming season and Manager Edward Lister is now busy arranging a tour of the Willamette valley, eastern Oregon and also southern Oregon. It is the intention of the club to give an entertainment on Thanksgiving evening in Portland, when many of the varsity students will see the annual Multnomah-Oregon game. The glee club this year is composed of 15 well trained voices, under the leadership of Louis Henderson of Hood River. The Mandolin club is under the leadership of Lloyd Bellman and will have in its ranks 11 men, six more than last year, as follows: Mandolins—Lloyd Bellman, Robin Nelson, Portland; Leroy Kern, Dennis Pillsbury, Portland; Webster Kincaid, Moore, Portland; Elmer Paine, Charles Cleveland, Guitars—Clifford Brown, Paul Vanscoy, Horace Feinton, Portland.

Lloyd Bellman.

MUCH BETTER FIRE PROTECTION ASKED

Proprietors and managers of the big manufacturing plants in North Portland are seeking better fire protection. Engine number 6, located in that district, is 30 years old and worthless in case of a big fire. They have been making demands on the city officials to take immediate action to supply them with a fire engine to guard their district, as the nearest engine excepting number 6 is more than a mile away.

The last party to petition the city for relief from the situation was the Eastern & Western Lumber company, which made a request of the council Wednesday to appropriate funds with which to purchase a new engine to replace engine 6.

The fire committee of the executive board has made an investigation of the fire apparatus at the Lewis and Clark exposition, consisting of a first-class engine, a combination hose and chemical wagon and a hook and ladder truck, eight horses and a fire alarm system, and will report to the city executive board today. Many of the officials are of the opinion that the city should purchase this property, as it can be secured at a reduced figure.

If the engine at the fair grounds is purchased, it will be placed in engine company 4 and the engine now there will be placed in North Portland.

The Greatest Clothing House in the Northwest

Boys' Suits Overcoats and Cravenettes

Mothers frequently under-estimate the importance of well fitting, well made, stylish looking clothes for boys. We have selected the choicest from exclusive makers of children's fine clothing. They represent the best fashions and the very best values.

Suits $2.15 and Up
Overcoats $3.50 and Up
Cravenettes $9.50 and Up

Boys' Hats and Caps

We offer an especially well selected line of hats and caps for little men. All new shades in the popular four-tent and telescope shapes.

Tam O'Shanter and Sailors for juveniles and children. All novelties of the season in waiting.

Boys' Furnishings

Complete lines of Underwear from the American Hosiery Co. and Norfolk and New Brunswick—woolens, cassimeres and fine merinos. Our underwear prices are correct.

Our Children's Toggery Department is rich in Blouses, Shirts, Neckwear, Gloves, etc.

Misses' Tailor Made Suits

A. D. Steinbach & Co.

Misses' Tailor Made Coats

SHOES FOR WOMEN

Popular priced shoes with the custom made style. A fit for every foot.

THIS is one of the season's smartest styles. Patent coil and kid leathers, extension welt soles, spade shape, viscolized to keep water out; Cuban heels, lace or button $3.50

FULLAM
283-85 MORRISON ST

Belton for Museum.

The Stewart collection of Indian relics, which attracted so much attention at the exposition, has been placed in the fourth story of the city hall in connection with the city museum. It will remain in the city museum until it is disposed of. It is said to be the finest collection of Indian curios on the coast.

Judge Williams Better.

Judge Williams is reported much improved today. Dr. A. S. Nichols, his physician, said that he would permit his patient to sit up for an hour. Unless he suffers a relapse, the judge will be about in a few days.

House Hunting

And hunting for work used to mean lots of walking around. Nowadays people read want ads, and reduce that "walking around" to the simple matter of "going somewhere." Journal want ads produce the quickest results.

READ THEM IN TODAY'S PAPER

THE STORE THAT

FIRST AND TAYLOR STS

SATURDAY SPECIAL---ALL DAY

FIRST AND TAYLOR STS

P
O
W
E
R
S

P
O
W
E
R
S

Mahogany finish and quarter-sawed oak CENTER TABLES, reg. $6.00, Special $2.95

SATURDAY SPECIAL---6 to 9:30 P. M.

MUSLIN COVERED

Silk Floss Sofa Cushion 22x22, regular 30c, Special 20c

FIRST AND TAYLOR STS

SAVES YOU MONEY

SPECIAL TOMORROW FOX BOAS $12.50
REGULAR PRICE $15.00

Handsome two-skin Fox Boas in rich sable tint. Made full length and lined with squirrel or fox. Finished at ends with two natural brush tails. Two yards long and very rich in appearance. On sale tomorrow only.

FOX SCARFS
Handsome Scarfs made of rich, glossy fur, in Isabella and sable tints, fur lined and finished at ends with natural brush tails. New fall designs, too—no old pieces.
$6.50 Special Tomorrow $6.50

H. Liebes & Co.
288 Morrison St.
JOHN BLAGEMANN MGR.