Detectives Have Good Description, However, and Are Making Vigorous Search.

MAN IS WANTED ON A SERIOUS CHARGE

Bybee, Who Was Victim of Murderous Assault Wednesday Night, Is Located and Tells Story of the Attack Made on Him.

Detectives are continuing their search for the highwayman who assaulted and attempted to rob J. A. Bybee of Clatsop, Washington, at Seaside and Columbia, Wednesday night. They have succeeded in locating Bybee, who was not killed but wounded, but the man who lured him to the dark spot where the assault was committed has eluded the search with vigor.

The police assert that the assailant of Bybee is wanted for another serious crime. They have obtained a good description of the man and will prosecute the search with vigor.

Bybee has recovered his money and the certificate of deposit for $75 that was found by Mrs. Ed Piggott, whose wife for assistance prevented the robbery at the time of the assault. He identified the purse and its contents and told the story of the assault.

"I don't remember just where or when it was that I recovered my money," he said. "About midnight I found myself in Blazer's place with blood all over my face and a number of wounds on the back of my head and my face was badly bruised. I was partly drunk when the man tried to rob me, but he was sober. We had been together the greater part of the evening."

BOURNE SAYS MINE HAS NOT BEEN SOLD

Wyatt has been compelled by ill-health to resign the office of local manager and this may possibly have given rise to the rumor of a change of ownership. It will be succeeded by Engineer Kivinedy."

President Says That Poverty-Stricken Countries Are Not Bothered by Corporations.

WARNS PEOPLE TO SHUN WORSHIP OF MERE RICHES

Corporations Must Be Held Accountable to Federal Government—Would Exclude Chinese Coolie Class but Admit Students.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 25.—In his speech at the fair grounds this afternoon, President Roosevelt said: "Corporations need regulation, but we must not forget that there are no troubles about corporations which the poverty of the country is such that it is not worth while to form corporations. There is no difficulty in regulating railroads where resources are so few that it does not pay to build railroads. The growth of the corporations means the growth of industrial fortunes."

"The growth of wealth has some very unfortunate accompaniments, but it seems to me that the worst damage that people of wealth can do to the rest of us is the awakening in our breasts of either the mean view of worshipping mere wealth or of viewing with rancorous envy and hatred every man of wealth merely because he is wealthy."

"The corporation is the creature of state and should always be held accountable to the sovereign, and this accountability should be real and not sham. Therefore, in my judgment, corporations must be held accountable to the federal government. But we should not strive to limit nor to prevent corporate activity."

STEEL MADE FROM OCEAN SAND

The First Electric Furnace Ever Worked in Northwest Tested at Exposition Yesterday.

EXPERIMENT ANNOUNCED AS COMPLETE SUCCESS

Four Hours All the Time Required to Transform Wet Sand Into Pigs of Excellent Grade and Entire Plant Works Perfectly.

Steel was made in this city yesterday afternoon in an electric smelting furnace, for the first time in the northwest. A great crowd of prominent men witnessed the work, which was at the pavillion of the geological survey, on the exposition grounds, under the direction of Dr. David T. Day.

Steel pigs were made from the black sands of this coast, the concentrating plant of the government being used to separate the magnetite from the iron-bearing minerals occurring with black sand. A portion of the sand was received from the California coast, and a portion came from the Hammond property, on the Oregon coast, near the mouth of the Columbia. The steel was polished and had the appearance of being an excellent grade. It will be sent east for further and more elaborate tests in the government plants.

C. E. Wilson of Virginia, who is an expert in electric smelting, had charge of the experimental work. Just one week ago he came to this city, with nothing to aid him in his efforts save his experience and the carbon pencils. In that brief time an elaborate electric furnace has been completed entirely out of Portland materials and the product to be handled was secured entirely from coast sands. The success of Mr. Wilson's work is highly encouraging, and Dr. Day is arranging to have a larger furnace constructed, which will be used here for several weeks in making more exhaustive tests in the manufacture of cast iron and all grades of the metal up to steel.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., Oct. 25.—A cow belonging to M. Force yesterday went through the door in the boiler-room on the Vancouver ferry, dropped 10 feet into the fire pit and was hauled through the wood hatchway uninjured. With four other cattle she was driven on the ferry to the way to Port Moody. Putting her head through the small doorway, which was less than two and one half feet wide, she suddenly jumped through into the boiler pit, 10 feet below. Had this unusual behavior of the cow occurred 10 minutes earlier, Charles Marshall of the ferry-boat would have been instantly killed, as he had just ascended from the pit where the cow fell. The accident so excited Marshall that he was unable to talk for a few minutes.

EXPOSITION SHOW JUST A SHOW

Demand is Made That Corporation Pay Regular Quarterly Amusement License.

EXHIBITORS GRANTED PERMISSION TO SELL

If License Demanded Is Collected, Stockholders Who Made Fair a Possibility Will Have to Bear the Additional Expense.

City officials have demanded of the Lewis and Clark exposition management payment of $300 license, for charging admissions for entrance to the grounds for the two weeks between closing of the fair and final closing of work next Saturday evening.

This morning License Officer Joe Hutchinson made the demand, and the fair management is considering the proposition. The officer explained that he had no option in the premises, revocation of the blanket ordinance by the council made it his peremptory duty to collect the regular show license if the management of the fair continued to charge admissions thereafter.

At the closing of the fair Director of Concessions and Admissions Wakefield thought there would be a number of persons who would be glad to pay a small admission for visit to the grounds, especially before the buildings were dismantled completely. It was estimated that by charging this admission for two weeks enough money would be realized to pay most of the post-fair expenses, so that the payment to the stockholders would be larger than the estimate made at the close of the fair, October 14.
