

MURPHY IS FLAYED BY JEROME

Tammany Boss Called a Selfish Crafter, Shadow of a Mighty Man, Croker.

DENIES THAT HE SOUGHT DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

Politics in New York Reaching the Boiling Point—Hearst Denounces Administration as the Most Corrupt Since the Days of Tweed.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Oct. 29.—The municipal campaign is in full swing in New York. Mayor George R. McChesney, who in a speech before Tammany hall formally accepted his nomination for mayor and was enthusiastically received by his partisans. W. R. Hearst, candidate for the municipal ownership ticket is making a tour of the various sections of the city denouncing the present administration as the most corrupt New York has seen since the days of Boss Tweed. Mr. Hearst, the Republican nominee, is also busy shaking hands and speech-making. Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, last night asserted that District Attorney W. T. Jerome, who is running for mayor as an independent, sought nomination at the hands of Tammany, which Mr. Jerome states is a lie. In his speeches last night Jerome was bitter against Murphy, whom he compared disparagingly to Richard Croker, saying:

"A real man, a man with a jaw, a man that stood up and never lied to a friend; a man who stood good and true when he gave you his word and told you he would or would not, and then did as he said. Croker was my friend, though I fought him for 20 years. That kind of man I could deal with—not that miserable kind of a man from Good ground."

"Richard Croker, driven man that he was, was practically brave from that town by the one question, 'Where did you get it?' Where did this recrudescence of Croker, this faint imprint, this shadow of a mighty man, get it? I have served this people in public office something like 15 years, in places where the 'stuff' was if you were willing to take it. But I live today in as humble an apartment as any of you. Joint debate is a cheap thing to offer me, but, God helping me, I would like it better than a joint debate with Charlie Murphy. He has asked questions not out of range of the criminal law, and that weak shadow of a strong man would be effaced from the globe."

"I am offering to you in my weak person an honest opinion, that when I stop to think I had the audacity to raise it, I tremble at my temerity. I have given you the clean-cut issue, clean as it has never been before in this or any other community, between the selfish grasping boss and the plain people whom Abraham Lincoln loved and trusted, and I go forward to the 7th of November regardless of results, for I believe, as I stand here tonight, that if I have raised the issue between the grasping boss and the servant of the people, the mighty voice of the people will be heard resolute and true. It always has been heard in the cause of right."

MURPHY SHARED IN PROFITS MADE BY SYNDICATES

Mutual Life President Put Money Into Transactions Along With Company.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

New York, Oct. 29.—The legislative investigation committee at the close of yesterday's session adjourned until next Tuesday, after one of the most sensational weeks of the inquiry. The examination of President Richard A. McCurdy of the Mutual Life was concluded with the exception of some details which he is to supply next week. His testimony yesterday afternoon was of a technical nature.

President McCurdy testified that he carried $200,000 in the Mutual and was also insured in the Equitable, Washington and Connecticut Mutual. He stated that he paid $4,500 for his apartments in the Grosvenor building. A long list of syndicate deals was submitted to which President McCurdy participated personally, as well as the Mutual Life. He stated that he entered these transactions on equal terms with the Mutual as members of the syndicate.

Robert H. McCurdy, manager of the Mutual, and son of its president, was asked to explain his charges for traveling expenses last year. He made three trips about the country, the expense of which aggregated $2,500 and were paid for by the Mutual. On one of these trips he had a private car and was accompanied by his father, mother, wife and the latter's maid, but said that the expense for these were paid for by himself individually. He could not tell why the expenses were so large, but promised details later.

ASHES OF IRVING ARE INTERRED

Immense Crowd Attends Funeral of Greatest Actor at Westminster Abbey.

MANY DISTINGUISHED MEN AS PALLBEARERS

Nobility of England, Foremost Authors, Artists and Actors Honored, Departed Tragedian—Representatives of King and Queen Present.

(Journal Special Service.)

London, Oct. 29.—The ashes of Sir Henry Irving were buried today at Westminster Abbey, a great throng attended the service, thousands being unable to enter on account of the crowd.

The pallbearers were Sir Squire Bancroft, the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Tenison, Sir Charles Wyndham, John Lane, Lord Burnham, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, George Alexander, Beerholm Tres, Sir Lawrence Alma Tadema, Sir James Fawcett, Forbes Robertson, Arthur Pinero, William Burdett-Coutts.

The services were conducted by Canon Duckworth, Rev. Joseph A. Robinson, Dr. Weldon and Archbishop Wilberforce. Representatives of the king, queen and Prince of Wales were present.

Among those who attended the funeral was General Booth of the Salvation Army. Magnificent floral tributes were received from thousands and the entire populace united in expressing their sorrow and regret over the demise of the greatest of English actors.

The funeral procession started from the house of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, which had been placed at the disposal of the Irving family on account of the inconvenience of starting from the apartments which had been occupied by the tragedian, on Stratton street, where there was no opening.

The ashes were interred in a spot alongside Garrick's grave, directly beneath the statue of William Shakespeare, near the bodies of Dr. Samuel Johnson and Charles Dickens.

SNOW AND COLD WEATHER CAUSES MUCH LOSS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Baker City, Oct. 29.—The cold weather of the last week, with the accompanying snowfall, has caused a loss of hundreds of dollars to the farmers and ranchers throughout the valley. Cattlemen say that a number of animals which were caught out on the range, unprotected from the sudden change in temperature, suffered severely. Those who had not yet completed harvesting are reported to have lost considerable by the sudden lowering of the thermometer. This is the first time in many years that snow has been known to fall so early in the Powder river valley.

THREE ACCIDENTS OCCUR NEAR CENTRALIA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Centralia, Wash., Oct. 29.—Three serious accidents occurred near here yesterday. Guy Phelps, an estimable young man employed in a logging camp on Skookumchuck river, about 10 miles from here, was caught between two logs, mashing his leg below the knee, and was brought to the hospital here, where his leg was amputated at the knee. A. M. Lemeley, working for the Martin Lumber company, at its logging camp, had his nose completely amputated by the

The Market Basket

The frosts have come and with them the end of the fresh vegetable supplies from nearby sections. One result is seen in the rapid advance in the price of tomatoes. The string beans have seen better days, but not better prices, since the present season began. Potatoes were nipped slightly, but for the most part they were helped by the cold spell. The grape season is now practically over and present supplies lack most of the quality so prevalent of late in the local fruit. Peaches are looking rather seedy and prices are high.

Housewives have been much interested in the sugar market of late. They had every reason to expect a severe advance in the price when the announcement came that the market showed an advance of 15 cents per 100 pounds. This was the latter part of last week. On top of this there came the news that the advance of the present week that another advance of 15 cents had been made in the wholesale price, thus adding 30 cents to the price per sack.

New nuts are now coming in for the holiday trade. There are chestnuts from Ohio, which sell at 40 cents a pound, and the California nuts, which sell for considerably less. The former are small and are much sweeter than the larger ones. New Brazil nuts are also in the market and are selling at 20 cents a pound. There are almonds from the south that look as fresh as if just gathered and their quality is generally better than last year's product. These, too, retail in the market at 20 cents a pound. The markets have not yet received their supplies of 1935 walnuts, but they are now due and will soon be on sale. The walnut market this season is firm and it is now believed that the retail price for "the nuts" will be around 20 cents a pound. Of course, we always have fresh peanuts with us. Peanuts become stale quicker than any other nut after being roasted. In the raw state they last some time.

"Give me two pounds of bananas," will soon be heard quite frequently in the retail markets. This is an entirely new deal in the manner of trading. For several years the wholesale markets in this city have been quoting bananas at so much a pound, but retailers have sold them as previously at so much per dozen. It has been found that when any one buys a dozen bananas he invariably picks out the larger ones. This practice has left the dealers with most of their small sizes still on the stalk and the result has been that they generally lost on the fruit.

One of the larger retailers in the city decided to try the new plan of selling by the pound and the practice has always netted him a profit on his goods. Today bananas are quoted in the retail markets at 10 cents a pound, and they are not so very plentiful at that figure. The season for oranges will soon be open in earnest and already some small supplies have arrived from California points. The first car of oranges to arrive from Jamaica came in the latter part of the week, but there was practically no sale for them on account of their small size. On the Atlantic seaboard small sizes sell readily.

Such strawberries as are now arriving from Watsonville remind one of summer time. Quality is fine and price is not high—only 20 cents per one-pound box. They're worth the money, too.

falling limb of a tree, and a young man by the name of Faulkner lost one of his hands on the Eastern Railway & Lumber company's road.

New Mill to Begin Work.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Dallas, Oct. 29.—The construction of a new sawmill in the outskirts of Dallas will soon be in operation. The new mill will turn out 50,000 feet of lumber a day. A. C. Cope, a Portland lumber man, will be the manager. The Dallas people had to give a bonus of $2,000 to the company.
