

ALL TO UNITE IN STATE LAND BOARD AID WORK ISSUES DEEDS

Y. W. C. A. Committee Donates
Desk Room to Association to Further Work.

MANY GIRLS STILL NEED ASSISTANCE

If Charity Is Carried on by Travelers' Aid Association Instead of Y. W. C. A. Many Women's Organizations Will Lend Help.

The Y. W. C. A. Travelers' Aid committee met yesterday afternoon and decided to offer desk room in its building to the Travelers' Aid association when the latter gives up its rooms in Sixth street the first of the month. There has been much misunderstanding about the continuance of the work and some have thought that it was to be placed under the auspices of the Young Women's Christian Association. This is not the case, for that organization is giving its support merely as one of the many organizations that have made Travelers' Aid work possible this year and the offer of desk room is merely a contribution, saving some $40 or $50 a month in rent, heat and light. It remains for the Travelers' Aid board to accept or reject this offer, which will come at an early call meeting.

The Travelers' Aid association has not yet made any decision about the continuance of its work. Shortly before the opening of the fair all women's organizations in Portland were asked to give their aid to the work during the fair season and their response was generous. It is the wish of the association to continue the work on the former broad basis of assistance, and letters have been sent out to all the organizations formerly represented, asking if they wish to assume the responsibility of continuing it on the same basis. Replies have been in the affirmative so far.

The question of the resumption of the work under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. will not come up unless the independent basis is rejected, for all such organizations that interest of people not represented in the Y. W. C. A. be sustained. The support offered by that body is only from the same standpoint as the rest, including the Jewish council, the Catholic Aid society and a number of others which will contribute aid.

The need for the work, instead of decreasing with the closing of the fair, has grown, and Mrs. Baldwin receives on the average of 15 calls a day for help. All such requests are carefully examined before aid is given and inquiry is made into the position held by the girl, her wages and expenses. The sum lent are almost without exception returned and Mrs. Baldwin says that she acts merely as a clearing-house. November 1 four of the helpers will be dismissed and it is expected that the present heavy work then will have declined.

Papers for More Than Ten Thousand Acres That Have Been Held Up Granted.

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN DID NOT FAVOR ACTION

Establishes Precedent That Will Affect More Than Hundred Thousand Acres Alleged to Have Been Fraudulently Obtained in Oregon.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Oct. 23.—By the issuing of deed to 10,500 acres of land which have been held up for some months because of alleged fraud in the original applications, the state land board yesterday placed itself on record and established a precedent which will affect more than 100,000 acres of land.

When the Marion county grand jury was in session last spring, it examined a large number of applications for the purchase of school lands, which bore evidence of fraud. All of those which had to do with lands outside of this county were turned over to the state land board with the suggestion that it make an investigation. This was done in a number of cases. Some applications were thought to be fraudulent because no one could be found bearing the name signed to the applications. Those, of course, were forgeries, but Judge Burnett has recently held that the forging of applications for the purchase of land does not constitute a crime under the statute.

Other applications were thought to be fraudulent because a large number of applications had been assigned to one individual, when in making application the applicant must swear that he is taking the land for his own use and that he has not made any contract, either expressed or implied, for the transfer of his interest in the land. The list of lands to which deeds were issued yesterday were of this latter class.

The action of the board was not unanimous, as Governor Chamberlain was convinced that the original applications had not been made in good faith and voted against the acceptance of the final payment and the granting of the deed.

Dunbar and Moore, however, held that the people were in existence whose names appeared in the application, that the state was losing nothing and that the lands were now in the hands of "innocent purchasers."

Governor Chamberlain maintained that the spirit of the statute was violated if one or two rich men were permitted to secure control of land which was intended to go to the actual settlers.

Four men received deeds to the 10,500 acres yesterday and the deeds were issued as follows: M. A. Nicholas six parcels, 2,821 acres in all; William E. Wheeler, two parcels, 3,200 acres in all; Nelson P. Wheeler, 3,200 acres; William B. Merserian, two parcels, 1,280 acres in all.

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE SUIT IN THE ARMY

(Journal Special Service.)
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 23.—The most sensational suit for a divorce ever filed in this city in years came to light when it became known on Monday last that Mrs. Edith Terry Furnell, one of the most widely known Bluegrass belles, had filed in the circuit court a petition for absolute separation from her husband, Dr. Julius M. Furnell, a contract army surgeon in the Philippines.

The Furnells were married in August of last year. They journeyed to the Philippines, where Mrs. Furnell only remained a short time and then returned to this city. Immediately there spread all sorts of rumors. These culminated in the petition for divorce.

Mrs. Furnell charges her husband with drunkenness, wasting her estate, cruelty and neglect that rendered the life of the plaintiff unendurable.

Mrs. Furnell gained some notoriety by making a short appearance on the stage under the name of Marion Parker. She took the leading part in a musical farce, "The Show Girl."

TOBACCO DEALERS ARE SCORED PRACTICALLY AN ENDLESS CHAIN

Presiding Judge Frazer Says
Practice of Selling Weed to Minors Must Be Stopped.

HEREAFTER NO EXCUSES
WILL BE CONSIDERED

Judge Says He Will Make Fines So Heavy That Convicted Dealers Will Tell Others and Illegal Traffic Be Discouraged.

Presiding Judge Arthur L. Frazer announced from the bench today this morning that the selling of tobacco to minors must be stopped. He said that the fines would be made heavy as a warning.

Otto Volker pleaded guilty to having sold tobacco to John Parker, aged 17 years, and was fined $25. He paid without a word of excuse. Samuel Lichter, who sold tobacco to Ernest Deboise, aged 16 years, asked that his fine of $25 be reduced to $5. Lichter said he did not know that he was against the law to sell tobacco to one under age and that he was unaware of the age of Deboise.

"I find that $5 fines do no good," said Judge Frazer. "I want to fine these tobacco dealers who sell their wares to minors to make them sore so they will obey the law and tell the others about it. They may have excuses or no excuses, the fines will be imposed just the same."

"Every tobacco dealer that is brought in here tells the same story. This practice must stop. Lichter, your fine is $25. Lichter has little money and a family of five children. He was unable to pay his fine, but was permitted to go and search for some friend to lend him the needed cash to pay the fine."

E. F. Giblin pleaded not guilty to having sold tobacco to Arthur Tullison, a minor.

JAPS LOTTERY CLOSED

Wakfield wrote we would never have been deceived like we were," said an angry woman who took chances at it each. "And it was through him that permission to conduct the lottery was obtained. The fair management was notified by honorable Japanese before the game was started, and through Mr. Wakfield's efforts they were permitted to operate."

Wakfield wrote a personal letter to Woodward, Clarke & Co. endorsing the plan. The letter concludes with the following: "These gentlemen (R. Fukagawa, president, and S. Takata, secretary and treasurer of the society), have given assurance that each purchaser of a membership ticket in the Society of Japanese Art Admirers will receive for same Japanese goods of real value."

Thousands Victimized.
It is estimated that between 8,000 and 9,000 tickets were sold by representatives of the Society of Japanese Art Admirers. In the raid this morning Sheriff Word secured a list of stubs that were detached from the tickets that had been issued to the value of $5,000 of them, and each represents $1.

Yumeto Kushibiki, proprietor of "Fair Japan," declares that he will see that the holder of each ticket receives a prize of at least $1. He insists that he is in no way connected with the promotion of the society, but feels a moral obligation to the public. Mr. Kushibiki, with two others, were Japanese commissioners to the Lewis and Clark exposition. The title was conferred through officials connected with the fair. They received no appointment from the government at Tokyo.

Loss to Be Made Good.
"I had intended attending to the matter at the Japanese tea house this evening. But now that the sheriff has closed it, however, I shall do just how I can when I will make good to the public. It will be nothing out of my pocket and I will not make the presents myself. But I will make the promoters of the society do it. Both promoters are responsible men and are in the city."

Diligent inquiry and search failed to reveal the whereabouts of either of the promoters. However, warrants for their arrest have been issued and officers will continue the search. There was intense excitement in the Japanese tea house when Sheriff Word and Deputies Grussal and Downey entered this morning. The officers arrived in time to prevent what threatened to result in a riot.

Tight Narrowly Averted.
A woman who had secured a prize of trifling value was so angry that she removed a shoe to throw at a girl employed as a clerk. Another woman hurled a bundle of worthless prizes at another clerk. The girls, being the counter declare that they feared personal violence until the officers arrived.

Four weeks ago Mr. Ito, one of the Japanese commissioners, called upon President Gilman and disclosed his connection with the promotion of the Society of Japanese Art Admirers. He declared that the plan was not a good one and was not approved by the best Japanese citizens. It is believed that commissioners in their official capacity would assume no responsibility in connection with the lottery if it was permitted to operate. Notwithstanding the warning given by Mr. Ito, permission to operate the lottery was finally granted through Mr. Wakfield's department. Efforts will be made to contact those who are really responsible with the Japanese clerks, who will be punished.

REDUCED PRICES MEAN BIG SALES, AND BIG SALES PERMIT REDUCED PRICES.

Sales of Exposition Pianos Continue. Reduction of From 30 to 60 Per Cent From Last Cash Retail Price. Used Pianos Greatly Reduced. Sale of Used Pianos and Organs.

After a foundation of quality, economy is the first rung in the ladder of success. The Eilers Piano House have appreciated this and have furnished every end to economic, adopting all methods that would enable them to sell the best pianos at the lowest prices. To accomplish this, the Eilers Piano House buys pianos in quantities amounting to train loads, not in lots, dealing with the manufacturer direct on a monthly shipment and a cash basis, thereby receiving the greatest discounts. In shipping these pianos by the special baggage system, originated by the Eilers Piano House, instead of in a weighty box, another saving of several hundred dollars on every car is effected. Numerous other unique and money-saving facilities are thus employed by Eilers Piano House.

Coupled with the above advantages, is the policy of Eilers Piano House of small profits and quick sales. The advantages secured in buying in the Eilers way are given to the retail buyer, resulting in much lower prices on reliable, standard pianos than can be obtained elsewhere. This in turn brings about a great volume of business, which in itself makes it possible for Eilers Piano House to sell to each individual buyer at a very slight advance over the cost to the manufacturer. These, then, are the reasons we are able to carry so many choice and popular makes and find customers for all.

Boston's Best.
The Chickering, that glorious old make with an irrefragable record of over 83 years, of faultless construction and with a tone that has stamped it the WORLD'S BEST—this piano, with specimens are included in this sale, particularly Granda, Quarter Granda, Baby Granda, and Parlor Granda.

New York's Best.
The Weber, the favorite of musicians, made by the strongest and most wealthy concern in the world and used exclusively by such organizations as The Metropolitan Opera, Company of New York City, the greatest aggregation of the world's most famous artists.

Chicago's Best.
The Kimball, made in the largest and most up-to-date establishment in the world, and heartily endorsed by scores and hundreds of great musicians; also by leading schools and colleges who have used it. Kimball pianos in elegant art styles, art nouveau, Gothic, Renaissance, Colonial and modern styles, are included in this exposition sale and come under special decrees.

We do not apologize our great trio, but we sell here also the Steck, an old-time favorite, justly classed with the world's best; the Lester, whose tone quality and high standard of construction is a credit to the entire piano industry; the Hazelton, the old New York aristocrat; also the Hindsley, Hobbs, M. Cable, Steinmann, Clarendon, Milton, and many others of high merit.

The Pianola Piano.
The Pianola Piano, as its name indicates, is a combination of a piano and a Pianola in one complete, compact instrument. The Pianola Piano has been aptly styled "The First Complete Piano," for it is the first piano ever produced which can be played with artistic effect by everybody, irrespective of any previous study or knowledge of music. In the light of this Twentieth Century creation, all previous pianos, requiring a long and tedious period of practice before their owners could use them seem incomplete. Several Pianola Pianos were used at the Exposition in the various state buildings. They are absolutely good as new and they will also go in this sale.

All Must Go.
In used pianos we have a wonderfully large assortment just now. Most of them were received in part payment of costly Granda, Exposition style Uprights, and Pianola Pianos. All of these instruments are in thoroughly fine condition and backed by the guarantee of Eilers Piano House.

Come, with your telephone or call on Eilers Piano House, Retail Department, 251 Washington street. "A Quarter Block of Fine Pianos."

Charges of conducting a lottery and of obtaining money under false pretenses have been preferred against those who have been arrested and similar charges will be made against the promoters, for whom warrants have been issued. Heavy penalties are attached to the crime in case of conviction.

In the announced list of winners of valuable prizes Miss Waldon of Oregon City is said to have won the screen valued at $1,000. She is a school teacher at Oregon City, and was presented by a friend with ticket 3294, which is said to be the lucky number. She will come to Portland this afternoon.

H. D. Kilham of 104 East Nineteenth street won the vase which was said to be worth $80. He says it is a large water tank, worth probably as much as $4. He also held several other tickets which brought him prizes of no value.

What of That?
"I am afraid such an ordinance as that would be too drastic," said the cautious alderman. "We couldn't enforce it."
"Certainly not," said the other, surprised at the objection. "But we could make the usual bluff at enforcing it once in a while, couldn't we?"

FORCED OUT

Terrible Calamity That Has Be-fallen a Large Clothing House!

William Gruber, Omaha's largest clothier, with an established reputation of over 30 years for carrying only the highest grades of men's, boys' and children's clothing, shoes and furnishings, was forced from his building, which was leased over his head without previous notice, just at the time when his indebtedness for this season's goods was due.

Not being able to find another location in Omaha, adequate to dispose of his large stock at this unfortunate time, he was compelled to move his stock where he could realize on it quickly to save his good name, and chose Portland as the best place, freight rates being cheaper than to points in the interior.

His immense stock of $108,000 worth of men's, boys, and children's clothing, shoes and furnishings, etc., has been moved into the large storeroom, 173 Third street, two doors from Yamhill street, Portland, Oregon, where this magnificent stock will be sold out at retail for

Lady Baltimore

By OWEN WISTER
Author of The Virginian

IT WAS at King's Port—not its map name, of course—that Mr. Wister found Lady Baltimore and laid the scene of his love-story of the Carolinas. Imagine the most charming of Southern cities; old and shabby, hushed and gray—but peopled with a high-bred society more exclusive and self-sufficient than that of any court in Europe; a town where the atmosphere and the small talk of the forties are still preserved. In this rarified atmosphere rear a native lover, and at last confront him with a fiancée who spends her summers with the Newport "smart set" playing bridge, drinking high-balls and smoking cigarettes.

A bull in a china-shop would be a more welcome guest than was this young woman when she descended on King's Port. Was it any wonder that the old town was set by the ears, that the young man wondered if he hadn't made a mistake, and as many social tangles presented themselves as a dozen chapters would scarce unravel?
