THE OLDS, WORTMAN & KING STORE

"I want plain facts, and I want plain words." James Whitcomb Riley.

"And every word must be backed up with the goods." Olds, Wortman & King

THE OLDS, WORTMAN & KING STORE

T'S a small little world, after all, that we live in. In another column -directly across the page-is printed the reproduction of a post-card written home to us from Belfast, Ireland, by a lady school teacher of our city who was touring Europe last summer and copped in at the famous "Richardson" Linen works of Belfast. There she saw the workmen putting labels on boxes marked "OLDS, WORT-MAN & KING, Portland, Ore., U. S. A."-"Twas like a glorious whifi MAN & KING, Portland, Ore., U. S. A."—"Twas like a glorious whift of Oregon ozone right off the tip of the top of "Hood Hill" to the traveler. And she was so pleased she wrote us of the incident. We were delighted with the attention and we know you'll be interested to know how one Portland woman investigated "Richardson" Linens in their home. And "Richardson" Linens are the best in the world—best flax, best weaving, best bleach, best finish, sold thro' Portland's best house to Portland's best people for use as "best." Ireland's "best" pays tribute to Oregon's "best" in the OLDS, WORTMAN & KING "different" THANKSGIVING OFFERINGS.

Startling Sale of Smart Suit Silks

MERCILESS SLAUGHTER OF A $20,000 OVERSTOCK! PROFITS SACRIFICED! COSTS CUT INTO! HANDSOME NOVELTY SUIT SILKS AT YOUR MERCY! READY FOR THE ONSLAUGHT AT

8 A. M. MONDAY New $1.00 Suit Silks at 49c

All that is human is bound to err—but a blunder confessed will sure redress a multitude of Portland women in beautiful, rich and shimmering Silks the coming week. Our silk man grew over-enthusiastic with the tremendous early season trade and bought too many Silks—result, an overstock. We never carry goods of any sort from one season into another, so forego all profits and take a heavy loss—all at once—that means a gain to every silk buyer who takes advantage of the sale. We've divided the Silks into three lots and spread them over long tables running thro' the Silk Salesroom in the Annex, making buying easy for all. Prices are slashed this way—all $1.00 and $1.25 values in all colors and styles—

WORLD'S GREAT LINEN COUNTRIES CONTRIBUTE THEIR BEST TO OUR

"THANKSGIVING OFFERINGS"

A GREAT STORE AND ITS STOCK (First Floor—Linen Shops). Look anywhere—everywhere—there's no other linen stock so beautiful, no other linen stocks so good as at this store. We've given linens splendid store space and prominent mention this week in honor of our great ANNUAL THANKSGIVING OFFERINGS—ready tomorrow with thorough preparedness. We've gone into every linen country of the world and chosen their best. Where other houses go to the jobbers and importers, we go abroad—to the makers. That means a first vital ECONOMY. That economy helps us to sell a damask regularly at 85c the yard that other stores advertised as their "best dollar value." Ireland, Scotland, Germany, Belgium and France—with Scotland and other old world provinces all contribute to the stocks from their choicest stores. But the "Richardsons" of Belfast are chief providers—in fact, they provide in many ways for the making of other good and famous linens that Portland stores advertise and sell. Many of the world's famous linen makers go to the Richardson factories for help in certain parts of their work; in fact, the Richardsons have been the pillars that minor linen manufacturers have leaned on for more than a hundred years. No house is so famous for linens—none so well known; Richardson linens and damasks are the standard for all the world. Honest old Irish Quakers they—and back five generations ago we find the family making linens—the best then, with stoady improvement each succeding year—they're best now. They live to progress, and constant enlarging with betterment is everlastingly going on at their factories—now among the largest, most modern on earth. The Richardsons do every part of their linen. work, from gathering the raw flax to shipping the finished materials, standing only for best goods, using every known improved modern process in spinning, weaving, bleaching and finishing—a feat few other linen makers even attempt. The linens you buy elsewhere would not be possible but for some help given by the Richardson factory—and you pay tribute for that expense entailed. We go to first hands—the Richardsons themselves—save all that's to be saved—for you. The only Portland house that can sell you linens at their first price. Complete lines of staple and decorative linens in splendid assortment. Luxury without extravagance, rich fine table linen, superb designs, unequaled for artistic elegance in the history of damask weaving. Linens for the flomes and linens built for such hard usages as fall to the lot of table coverings for hotels, restaurants and boarding-houses-linens from the vineclad bills along the Rhine-German silver bleached damasks, for those who prefer-but-altogether an aggregation of the handsomest, most sturdy, lasting linens made in the world at prices positively lower in every instance than any other Portland house can afford to sell. Full bordered damask table cloths in all sizes for round, square or oblong tables, with or without napkins to match. Single or double linen table damasks by the yard, from 54 to 90 inches wide, with or without napkins to match. Separate napkins in breakfast or dinner sizes in a wide range of qualities. Dainty, beautiful designs in floral and art effects, doilles, trays, table tops and scarts in immense assortments. The stocks are too large for detailed price mention—suffice to say, the GREATEST VALUES ON THE PACIFIC COAST FOR DEPENDABLE LINENS.

Belfast, Ireland, August 18, 1905. OLDS, WORTMAN & KING, Portland, Oregon

Portland, Oregon.

'Dear Sirs: You cannot imagine our surprise and delight, when being shown through the large establishment of Richardson Sons & Owden, of Belfast, to see them putting your labels on your special orders. As we passed through the handkerchief department, we watched them folding the handkerchiefs and putting them in boxes, and to our delight your label was put on the boxes. We could not resist the temptation of writing a note, which was put into your box hoping you will receive it. Respectfully yours.

KATE E. YOUNG.
