

SOCIETY EXPECTS A QUIET WINTER SEASON

LAST week was a little busier than the foregoing weeks. Society matrons have begun to pick up the broken threads of social intercourse. The departure of such important figures as the Lewises, the Flanderses, the Wilcoxes and the Wilsons has been the occasion for a good deal of entertaining. Many flowers have been sent in to the departing, and "God speed" and "bon voyage" have been on the lips of not a few friends.

Those who are to remain here say that so few will be left this winter that they will have to entertain in self-defense, and yet they look forward to a winter of quiet pleasure. A number of out-of-town guests have given a reason for entertaining the past week as well.

Two events of public interest and of much importance this week will be charity teas; one given Wednesday at the Woman's Exchange for the benefit of that organization, and the other at the Irvington club for the benefit of the home. Front matrons are patronizing both affairs. The former will be strictly a charity tea and the latter a card tournament. Since the exchange tea was announced in another column of this page further information has been received concerning the assistants. Miss Felling will be aided in receiving by Mrs. H. L. Pitcock, Miss Atwood, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Hamilton and the members of the executive committee. Mrs. J. G. Gaudin, who has been in charge of the candy table, will have the help of Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. David Robertson and Miss Kathleen Burns. Tea will be poured and lemonade served.

Of course the Eames concert was the biggest event of the week and everybody went. There were beautiful gowns and beautiful cloaks and bonnets, and it was called by many the prettiest concert Portland has ever seen. However, it is true that there were few parties that evening and most people went in "singles" and "twos" because, as one young woman said, "the tickets were so high that they were all glad to get there themselves," without wanting to take any others.

Much interest is being manifested in the Thanksgiving activities emanating from the University of Oregon. The big football game with the Multnomah club will be played on that day, as has been the custom since the birth of football in the state. The game is always more largely attended by the fashionable element than any other of the year and the lemon yellow and the red throwed, flannelette at each other from many a trolley and coach as they are crowded even to the dinner table. The evening will serve to keep the state college in mind, for the glee and mandolin clubs will give their annual concert at the Marquam. It doubtless will be an important social event for the patronesses are chosen from the front ranks of music and society circles. Mrs. Robert Treat Platt, whose sister, Professor Lucilla Clay Carson, is the head of the English department of the institution, is actively interested and will enlist the support of many of her friends. The list of patronesses has not yet been announced definitely.

The Halloween jollities practically led in the entertainments of last week. There were so many smaller parties for apple-bobbing and dark-walking that surely not a young person in town can now be ignorant of his or her fate. Pretty luncheons and dinners were numbered among the Halloween festivities and many companies who did not indulge in the pastimes peculiar to that day and night looked upon charming decorations suggested by the day anyway.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

The Thursday Afternoon Bridge club of last year was reorganized last week at the home of Mrs. W. C. Bristol. The members this year are Mrs. Winslow Bradford, Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. Samuel B. Archer, Mrs. Arthur Spencer, Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff, Mrs. George Schalk, Mrs. W. A. Hathaway, Mrs. Alan Welch Smith, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Frank Doolley and Mrs. A. L. McCully. The club will have fortnightly meetings.

A clever Halloween entertainment was given by the Minute Men in the parlors of the First Congregational church on Tuesday night. The fine night and the popularity of the hosts brought out a throng of guests. In the midst of greetings the lights went out, the wind howled, windows rattled, ghosts moaned and guests shivered and looked askance at each other. A dim light, slowly deepening, revealed a ghostly procession from John Kendrick Bangs' household filing slowly past. A sepulchral voice announced each distinguished spook. This novel entertainment terminated in a ghost dance, weird as a glimpse into Hades. An amusing feature of this was a surprise sprung upon the ghosts. The perpetrators were a party of girls who donned ghostly robes and mingled with the dancers. The ruse was not discovered until, in the final shriek, the treble of feminine voices was detected and the original spooks fled.

Refreshments were served from a table loaded with fruit and flowers and most artistically decorated with tiny jack-o'-lanterns over incandescents.

The Halloween celebration at the White Temple was a decided success. The more than 100 young people in attendance were united in their expressions of appreciation of the various features. The hall was transformed with profuse decorations. There were dozens of jack-o'-lanterns adjusted over the lights burning, large quantities of beautiful autumn leaves, bunches of his grains and long oblique festoons. An exceptionally good program was rendered. There were readings by Mrs. Edna Lewis, particularly vocal solos by Miss Mills and Claire Montagu, piano solo by Miss Grenier. A genuine "ghost walk" with "all lights out" was presented by members of the Alert Bible class. The particularly mischievous feature was "The Old District School," given in pantomime, with Miss Ans Baird as schoolmistress and Mrs. William Gray, Miss Opal Hall and Miss Edna Lewis as pupils. Dr. Brougher also professed entertainers, with one of his imitatable ghost stories. Miss Daisy Stites, president of the B. Y. P. U., under whose auspices the evening was given, passed to the lower temple, where many of the merry Halloween sports were started. Apples, coffee and cake were served.

A most interesting reception was held at the White Temple Friday evening, given by the ladies of the missionary societies. It marked the termination of a close membership contest, in which evening and most people went in "singles" and "twos" because, as one young woman said, "the tickets were so high that they were all glad to get there themselves," without wanting to take any others.

One of the pretty luncheons of the week was that given at the Portland Friday for Mrs. Charles Kohn, who has just returned from two years abroad. The hostesses were the members of the whist club of which she was a member and covers were laid for 19. The table was a beautiful mirror-top with low banks of fern and orchids and a regular intervals were cut crystal vases of Bridemaids roses. The place cards were very unique representations in "Ussia" effects of dainty maidens, which were imported from Europe. The guests, besides Mrs. Kohn, were Mrs. A. Meier, Mrs. Isam White, Mrs. Julius Mayer, Mrs. Sol Rosenfeld, Mrs. Her-Edna Lewis, Mrs. Albert, Mrs. L. Lowman, Mrs. Sigmund Frank, Mrs. Marcus Fleischer, Mrs. Albert Feldenhimer, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Charles Rosenfeld, Mrs. L. N. Fleischer, Mrs. E. N. Lipman, Mrs. Julius E. Meier, Mrs. Adolphe Wolfe, Mrs. Charles Feldenhimer and Mrs. S. Lipman.

Miss Anna L. Finley and her brother, A. L. Finley, gave a post Halloween dinner Wednesday evening. The decorations were red and yellow and included Halloween emblems. The guests were Miss Ella Miller of Oakland, California; Mrs. W. W. Youngson of Ellensburg; Mrs. W. J. Youngson of Ellensburg; Mrs. C. L. Dillinger, Mrs. W. M. Stanton, Mrs. C. T. Prehn and Mrs. John Thurn. The club members are Grace Stanton, Anna Dillinger, Julia Thurn and Nell Dorney.

The Tuesday Afternoon club was entertained last week at 344-Hall street by Mrs. William Marshall. A social hour preceded the program, during which a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Warren S. White. The program began at 2 o'clock, the subject being Scott's "Marmion," and was under the direction of the hostess. Members responded to rollcall with quotations from the poem. A character sketch of Marmion was read by Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Miles gave a word picture of "Constance and the Convent." The battle of Flodden was described by Mrs. Gilman, who also spoke briefly of the historical account of Flodden. Mrs. Cropper gave some criticisms of "Marmion," illustrated by readings. Mrs. Liff read a review of "Utopia," postponed from a previous program. The club will meet next week with Mrs. George Dunham, Forty-first and Clinton streets, at 12:30 o'clock.

The Irvington Tennis club gave a yellow domino party at the clubhouse, Halloween. Only members were invited and it was an evening of much jollity and informality. Some of the guests played cards and others resorted to Halloween tricks. Dancing was no small feature of the entertainment.

St. Helen's hall has instituted the custom of monthly faculty teas and Thursday afternoon the first one was given. The alumnae parlor was decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums and ferns. A number of friends called and enjoyed meeting the instructors and the pupils.

Mrs. Herbert Holman entertained with an afternoon of whist Friday. There were 12 tables and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Charles C. Smith and Mrs. Howell. Mrs. Holman was assisted in the duties of hostess by Mrs. A. L. Pesse and Mrs. Jack Cranston.

Mrs. J. P. Robinson of King's Heights entertained with 10 tables at cards yesterday afternoon. Five tables were devoted to bridge and the other five to "500," prizes being awarded for both games.

Mrs. J. D. Sutherland and her daughter, Mrs. Roland Mills, entertained a few of their neighbors informally Tuesday evening with a few Halloween sports.

The Misses Anna and Jessie Farrell received informally yesterday afternoon in honor of their sister, Mrs. W. W. Youngson of New Jersey, and their cousin, Miss Ella Miller of Oakland.

About 30 of her friends and neighbors accorded a pleasant surprise to Mrs. Wilde one evening last week at her home in Archer Place. Games and music were enjoyed and refreshments served.

A delightful affair Tuesday evening combined the observance of Halloween with the celebration of the fifth wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Alan Welch Smith. Their bridal party of five years ago surprised them at their home and brought fitting presents for a wooden wedding. Much amusement was caused by the toys presented. The rooms were decorated with jack-o'-lanterns and most of the refreshments late in the evening were served in small pumpkins. What was played and the score cards were pieces of wood decorated with bride figures. Miss Ella Miller won the women's prize, a little red chair, and E. S. Townsend, the men's prize, a Noah's ark filled with wooden beasts.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Loucks, Mrs. Alexander Muir, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Little, Mr. and Mrs. A. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, Mrs. J. E. Bennett, Mrs. W. W. Youngson of New York, Misses Anna and Jessie Farrell, Miss Ella Miller of Oakland, California; Miss Lou Webster, R. S. Townsend, L. F. Stele, Dr. Wicks and James A. McKinnon. Almost all these guests were of the bridal party. It is said that the Smiths had the largest wedding Portland has ever seen.

Mrs. Jeff Miller of Vancouver avenue entertained a few of her friends informally Tuesday with duplicate whist in honor of Miss Florence Kidder of New York City.

The meeting of the Unitarian alliance Wednesday afternoon was an interesting one and Mrs. J. P. Fager's talk on water color in art was much appreciated. She displayed a number of her own paintings, including "Mount Hood," "Mountain and Meadow," "River Scene" and "Centennial Dome." A picture of the lower Columbia entitled "Ship at Anchor," by Captain Cleveland Rockwell, was much admired.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hartzell Fisher.

A jolly crowd of 80 gathered at the home of Miss Julia Eder, 1235 East Taylor street, Tuesday evening. The house was artistically decorated with autumn foliage and pumpkin blossoms and a pumpkin goblet arched from every nook and corner. A progressive game was played with pumpkin seeds, Mrs. Bertha Adkins and Mr. Dodge taking the first prizes and Miss Kate Hartman and Mr. Madigan the booby prizes.

Other prize winners were Miss Sallie Madigan and Mr. Conner, Mrs. F. E. Allen and Mr. Payne. An old-fashioned supper was served at midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Downing gave a box party at the Eames concert Monday. Their guests were Mrs. L. V. Stearns, Mr. Hollis and Mr. Lazarus.

Mrs. George F. Russell entertained a large company of friends Monday afternoon at bridge. Mrs. W. L. Brewster received the first prize, a handsomely bound book, and Miss Montgomery the second, a carved Japanese box. Among those present were: Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mrs. R. Lea Barnes, Mrs. Ernest Tucker, Mrs. Fred Page, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mrs. W. L. Brewster, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Mrs. Frank Hart, Mrs. John A. Shepard, Mrs. John K. Kollock, Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Richard Nunn, Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, Mrs. J. E. Montgomery, Mrs. Stewart B. Linthicum, Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Walter London, Mrs. James Ross, Mrs. James McCracken, Mrs. George Whiteside, Mrs. G. E. Jackson, Mrs. F. N. Pendleton, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. F. D. Chamberlain, Mrs. L. H. Parker, Mrs. A. L. Maxwell, Miss Hoyt, Miss Kathleen Burns, Miss Mrs. Honeycomb, Mrs. George Montgomery, Miss Clementine Wilson, Miss Alice Sansbury and Miss Eleanor Ode.

Mrs. E. H. Brooke entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon at the Waverly links. Mrs. T. Barlow, her sister, from Omaha, was the honor guest. There were ten tables and the prizes were won by Mrs. Arthur C. Minott and Mrs. Hannah Robertson. The first prize was a handsome Japanese bronze from the exposition. The clubhouse was decorated uniquely in Halloween fashion and at each table were paper-mache pumpkin favors.

The guests were: Mrs. C. F. Beebe, Mrs. Benjamin Wialar Morris, Jr., Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mrs. Nettie Brooke Parks of Vancouver, Mrs. Barlow, Mrs. W. L. Brewster, Mrs. E. T. C. Stevens, Mrs. R. Lea Barnes, Mrs. Hannah Robertson, Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Mrs. Zera Snow, Mrs. Richard Koehler, Mrs. Walter J. Burns, Mrs. Arthur C. Minott, Mrs. Frank Hart, Mrs. Warrig, F. Houghton, Mrs. Carl Harbough of Seattle, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. John A. Shepard, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mrs. F. G. Sykes, Mrs. Tom Kerr, Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. Hamilton Brooke, Mrs. Morton Insley, Mrs. George Whiteside, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. Fred Page, Mrs. F. N. Pendleton, Miss Felling, Miss May Felling, Miss Morris, Miss Hoyt, Miss Myrick, Miss Gilsan, Miss Frances Lewis, Miss Flander and Miss Sibson.

Mrs. George Flanders gave a luncheon Wednesday in honor of Mrs. M. T. Barlow, who is the guest of Mrs. E. H. Brooke, and her son, E. M. Montgomery, Mrs. Captain and Mrs. Cabell of Vancouver, Miss Anderson, Miss Hazel Dolph, Commissioner Zeggio of Italy, Captain Anderson and Mr. Van Anderson.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery entertained at dinner Thursday evening. Her guests, besides her daughter, Miss Mary Montgomery, and her son, E. M. Montgomery, were Captain and Mrs. Cabell of Vancouver, Miss Anderson, Miss Hazel Dolph, Commissioner Zeggio of Italy, Captain Anderson and Mr. Van Anderson.

The organization of the Portland branch of the Consumers' league at the Hotel Portland parlors Tuesday afternoon offers a new field of interest to many. Miss Mary Montgomery was elected president; Mrs. U. S. G. Marquam, first vice-president; Miss Martha Hoyt, second vice-president; Mrs. H. W. Corbett, third vice-president; Miss E. K. Trevis, secretary; Miss Helen Wilson, treasurer. The board of directors, which will have monthly meetings beginning next Friday, has for its members Mrs. W. E. Ayer, Miss Margaret Burke, Mrs. H. J. Corbett, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. S. B. Linthicum, Mrs. Millie H. Trumbull and Mrs. Elmer Colwell. A number who are interested in the work were appointed honorary vice-presidents. They are Mrs. Lucia Faxon Addison, Judge A. L. Fraser, Mrs. Thomas Elliot, Mrs. H. B. Green, Mrs. W. E. Ladd, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. J. E. Montgomery, Rev. Dr. Morrison, Rev. Dr. Hill, Mrs. W. J. Honeyman and Dr. Stephen S. Wise.

Dr. and Mrs. Holt Wilson quietly celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Thursday. Many beautiful gifts of silver were sent in and the house was a mass of flowers. Mrs. Wilson did not entertain, but several of her intimate friends called during the afternoon and in the evening there was a large family dinner, partly as a farewell to Mr. Wilson, who left yesterday for New York.

Mrs. Warren Houghton will entertain the newly organized bridge club Wednesday. There are only eight members and these entertain in alphabetical order, this being the third meeting. The members are Mrs. Whitney Boise, Mrs. Charles E. Cheney, Mrs. Warren

Prunder the florist has removed to new store at 145 Sixth street, between Alder and Morrison.

KEISTER'S
LADIES' TAILORING COLLEGE.
A school where ladies can learn to draft their own patterns and cut and make their own dresses. Write for booklet.
302 and 406 Alisky block, cor. 3d and Morrison

TALK NO. 2—SEASON 1905-6
"He loves no plays as thou dost; he hears no music," said Julius Caesar. Imagine that applied to modern education! What would life be without music and dramatic art? It would be robbed of two of its great pleasures. This is the age of the specialist. Look up

The Western Academy of Music, Elocution, Oratory and Dramatic Art
Northeast Corner
Second and Morrison Sts.

Write, Call or Phone.
RATES SATISFACTORY

What Is Taught?
Vocal, Piano, Violin, Mandolin and Guitar, Elocution and Dramatic Art, Languages, Law, Painting and a School of Social and Fancy Dancing.
Has This Talk Interested You Enough to Know Us?

Houghton, Mrs. Morton Insley, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Miss Susie Stott and Miss Charlotte Whalley.

WEDDINGS.

Perhaps the prettiest wedding of the week was that of Miss Elizabeth Lorsta Hill to Horace Hartzell Fisher Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton D. Hill, 223 Beach street. Rev. E. S. Muckley of First Christian church, pronounced the ceremony and there were many guests in attendance. The prominent members of the Woman's club, of which the bride is an active member, were present.

The decorations were of unusual beauty, with profuse quantities of smilax sent by friends from southern California. The reception room was entirely in green and white and a pretty canopy made entirely of smilax trailers marked the place where the bridal party stood. White roses and carnations carried out the color plan. The hall was massed with Oregon grape and the veranda was canopied and decorated with cedar boughs. In the sitting room yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the smilax. The dining room was in pink, with carnations and smilax on the table.

Miss Flora Dunham played the wedding march and immediately before the ceremony James McKinnon sang "Because." The Misses Edna and Luella Haight attended as bridesmaids and Mrs. H. B. Hill, the bride's sister-in-law, as matron of honor. Robert Van Patten Fisher, the groom's brother, attended him. Luther Siano and T. J. Stewart were usher and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

The bride was gowned in white organdy with a Spanish lace yoke and bertha and wore a tulle veil. Her bride roses were carried in beautiful shower effect. Mrs. Hill wore pearl gray lacedowne with pink garnitures and carried pink roses. The maids were one in lavender with lavender chrysanthemums and the other in pale blue with white chrysanthemums.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by a number of the bride's girl friends. Mrs. Fisher is well known as the leader of the elocution department of the Woman's club and instructor in the same art at one of the prominent conservatories here. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will be at home after December 1 at 353 1/2 Jackson street.

Miss Lorena Ackerman and Maurice Goodman were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rose Ackerman, 128 North Eighteenth street, Wednesday evening. Dr. Stephen S. Wise performed the ceremony. Only relatives and a few friends were in attendance.

The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion. A bower of autumn foliage and white tulle was arranged for the bridal party. Oregon grape and fern decorated the hall and drawing room and the dining room was festooned with smilax streamers. The table was elaborately ornamented with smilax and white roses and the centerpiece was a handsome autumn basket of fruits and foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodman left the same (Continued on Page Twenty.)

him. Luther Siano and T. J. Stewart were usher and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

WEDDINGS.

Perhaps the prettiest wedding of the week was that of Miss Elizabeth Lorsta Hill to Horace Hartzell Fisher Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hampton D. Hill, 223 Beach street. Rev. E. S. Muckley of First Christian church, pronounced the ceremony and there were many guests in attendance. The prominent members of the Woman's club, of which the bride is an active member, were present.

The decorations were of unusual beauty, with profuse quantities of smilax sent by friends from southern California. The reception room was entirely in green and white and a pretty canopy made entirely of smilax trailers marked the place where the bridal party stood. White roses and carnations carried out the color plan. The hall was massed with Oregon grape and the veranda was canopied and decorated with cedar boughs. In the sitting room yellow chrysanthemums mingled with the smilax. The dining room was in pink, with carnations and smilax on the table.

Miss Flora Dunham played the wedding march and immediately before the ceremony James McKinnon sang "Because." The Misses Edna and Luella Haight attended as bridesmaids and Mrs. H. B. Hill, the bride's sister-in-law, as matron of honor. Robert Van Patten Fisher, the groom's brother, attended him. Luther Siano and T. J. Stewart were usher and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

The bride was gowned in white organdy with a Spanish lace yoke and bertha and wore a tulle veil. Her bride roses were carried in beautiful shower effect. Mrs. Hill wore pearl gray lacedowne with pink garnitures and carried pink roses. The maids were one in lavender with lavender chrysanthemums and the other in pale blue with white chrysanthemums.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by a number of the bride's girl friends. Mrs. Fisher is well known as the leader of the elocution department of the Woman's club and instructor in the same art at one of the prominent conservatories here. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will be at home after December 1 at 353 1/2 Jackson street.

Miss Lorena Ackerman and Maurice Goodman were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Rose Ackerman, 128 North Eighteenth street, Wednesday evening. Dr. Stephen S. Wise performed the ceremony. Only relatives and a few friends were in attendance.

The home was very prettily decorated for the occasion. A bower of autumn foliage and white tulle was arranged for the bridal party. Oregon grape and fern decorated the hall and drawing room and the dining room was festooned with smilax streamers. The table was elaborately ornamented with smilax and white roses and the centerpiece was a handsome autumn basket of fruits and foliage.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodman left the same (Continued on Page Twenty.)

Opportunity Sale
Mr. H. B. Litt is now in New York with full
PURCHASING POWER
For four of the largest specialty houses of the west handling
Ladies' Outer Garments
Always in touch with the ever changing market, our stock is constantly replenished from the latest creations of New York's most famous designers.

Our increased purchasing power enables us to put on sale the cream of this season's
Model Garments
At less than cost of manufacture, comprising the entire stock of COSTUMES, CLOAKS, SUITS AND SKIRTS made by J. C. Stratton & Co., Bonwit Bros. and R. R. Laird & Co.

H. B. LITT
FOURTH AND WASHINGTON STREETS.

NEW AND CORRECT IDEAS
Winter Millinery
The very latest and swellest idea for smartly dressed young ladies for either street or dress occasions is the FELT FLAT, artistically bent and trimmed with ribbons, plumes or fancy feathers and ornaments, or anything fancy may suggest, according to what one wishes to pay.
NEW FLATS just received in all the wanted colors, and the price is less than formerly. We'll make them to your order, or have a large number already trimmed up at $3.00 TO $6.00

BECKER'S, Third and Salmon

TALK NO. 2—SEASON 1905-6
"He loves no plays as thou dost; he hears no music," said Julius Caesar. Imagine that applied to modern education! What would life be without music and dramatic art? It would be robbed of two of its great pleasures. This is the age of the specialist. Look up

The Western Academy of Music, Elocution, Oratory and Dramatic Art
Northeast Corner
Second and Morrison Sts.

We can give you all the advantages of liberal education. Last season we had 365 pupils, and since September 4, 1905, our new pupils number 154. Our academy has 14 teachers, with classes day and evening. Our best recommendation is our students, who now hold church, concert and professional engagements. That's why our school is the best equipped and most liberally patronized west of Chicago.

Write, Call or Phone.
RATES SATISFACTORY

What Is Taught?
Vocal, Piano, Violin, Mandolin and Guitar, Elocution and Dramatic Art, Languages, Law, Painting and a School of Social and Fancy Dancing.
Has This Talk Interested You Enough to Know Us?

WILLIAM M. RASMUS, Principal, Elocution and Dramatic Art.
J. ADRIAN EFFING, Principal, Vocal Department.

Miss Emily L. Kahn, Fiancee of Felix Bloch.