

GRAFTING POSSESSES FACE DEFEAT

Murphy Claims Tammany Victory But Refuses to Give Figures, Many Repeaters Arrested.

Tainted Money Is Nebraska Issue, Bay State Votes on the Tariff, Maryland on the Negro Ballot.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Nov. 6.—Interest in the elections that will take place in a dozen states tomorrow centers in the municipal contests in New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco and Ohio, where fights have been made to smash the machines and end grafting regimes. But four states elect governors and state officers—Massachusetts, Virginia, Rhode Island and Ohio.

In New York the close of the campaign sees all parties confident of success. A bitter campaign has been waged against Tammany by Hearst, with good prospects of the latter's election. Jerome's election is all but conceded. For the first time in many years Tammany refuses to give figures on the result, but claims the election for McClellan.

Philadelphia has witnessed a stirring campaign, where the reform forces, headed by Mayor Weaver, have good prospects of success in their efforts to oust the Republican machine from control. In San Francisco the adherents of the fusion candidate, Partridge, feel confident of downing Schmitz, behind whom is arrayed "Boss" Abe Ruef, the 3,200 saloons of the city, the police and fire departments, organized labor and the "gang."

In Ohio a great effort is being made to out Boss Cox from state control. The prohibition question cuts a large figure in the result, and church people generally will vote against Herrick. In Cleveland, Cox is fighting for his political life, and in Cleveland Tom Johnson seems certain of reelection. A stirring contest is being waged in Maryland, although a governor is not elected this year, the question to be decided being Senator Gorman's amendment to disfranchise the negro. In Massachusetts tariff reform is declared for by both parties, but the Democrats have demanded reciprocity with Canada, which has been the keynote of their campaign. In Nebraska an interesting fight is waged, with "tainted" money as the issue. Regents of the State university are to be elected and the Bryan candidates favor the return of Rockefeller's donation and would force the resignation of Chancellor Andrews.

In Salt Lake City the new American party is waging war upon the Mormons. In Virginia Republicans will try for their first time to carry the state with white votes.

In Rhode Island state issues only are involved, former Governor Garvin being a candidate for reelection against Governor Ute.

In Indiana municipal elections are held and in Pennsylvania judges of the supreme court are to be chosen.

Tremendous crowds turn out for the election in New York, Nov. 6.—The most chaotic and puzzling campaign in the history of the city is over, and tomorrow evening will be cast and counted. All candidates, with the exception of Jerome, have ceased talking, and now the organizations will try to get in their silent work. As a climax to the campaign, Superintendent of Elections Morgan will today apply for warrants for hundreds of men, charging them with having registered fraudulently. In trying to determine whether or not it would be policy to endorse the woman's suffrage movement, the Ministerial alliance of Portland exhausted three hours this morning in discussion which sometimes threatened a rupture. The discussion ended in a project for a joint debate to take place one month hence, during which it is anticipated, some one will make the "fur fly."

St. Petersburg, Nov. 6.—Everything is quiet in Odessa today, business is being resumed, vessels are being loaded and there is every indication that the scenes of massacre and bloodshed are over. The total dead during the rioting of the last week is estimated at from 6,000 to 7,000, and throughout southern Russia from 20,000 to 40,000 Jews were killed or injured. Some plundering continues today, but the city is practically calm.

PORTLAND STEPS LIVELIER NOW

W. B. Jerome of the New York Central Gets a Surprise on His Return Here.

W. B. Jerome, general agent of the New York Central railroad lines at Chicago and in all territory west of that city, who is in Portland on his semi-annual trip to the Pacific coast, says a change has come over Portland since the Lewis and Clark exposition.

"The people move faster. I am quite sure I see a difference in the way they walk down the street," he said. "There is a livelier air. People seem to be in more of a hurry."

"Portland always has been a solid city. In former years, if a man came here from the east he looked about and believed he was in New England. He almost had to ask about the location on the map before being sure he was in the far west. Then, after remaining a few days, he was sure the people were New England people, and he was moved to ask where they hailed from."

"The exposition benefited the entire Pacific coast," he said. "When I came through Los Angeles the hotel men there told me they never had such an enormous business as that of last season. At San Francisco it was the same story—greater crowds of visitors than ever before. Denver had 20,000 more visitors this year than ever before in her history. Hotels all through the coast country were overflowing with business all summer."

FEAR YELLOW FEVER EPIDEMIC IN HAVANA

(Journal Special Service.)
Washington, Nov. 6.—Senator Culom, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate, called upon the president this morning and lodged a complaint against the Cuban government for not keeping its promise to maintain the city of Havana in a sanitary condition. He said that he was informed by business men that the Cubans had built no sewerage system since the American evacuation. American residents fear a yellow fever epidemic.
