Oakland, Nov. 9. — Although the lants outbatted Oakland more than to to one yesterday, it was necessary for the home team to make a half dozen errors before McCredie's men could laim the contest, 3 to 2. Garvin was in the bex for Portland and held the iters down to five mife hits. Garin was inaccurate in throwing to bases, three errors being charged to him. Portd's runs came on errors by Devereaux Richards and hits by Schlafty and McLean. Van Buren scored the win-ning run in the ninth on two hits and an error. Portland had 12 men left on bases, and McCredie was the only Giant les the pitcher who failed to get a The score: PORTLAND.

he had the advantage of playing with the pick of the players on the squad and was supported by Sperry and Snedi-gar. Bush and Richardson are well matched at left tackle, but the former's magnificent kicking makes him a very valuable man to have on a team. Stow, who has been playing at right tackle, and Foster, who has played left guard in a number of the preliminary games, are just as good as the men picked for these places, and in case of accident these places, and in case of accident to Force or Gray the team will not be weakened a bit.

The other men seem to be so far ahead of their rivals that only disabil-ity can keep them out of the game.

The poor condition of the Multnomah club cleven today is a great source of joy to the college footballists up and down the Willamette valley and throughout the entire northwest. The wretched showing made by the clubmen against Astoria, when a tie game resulted, has raised the hopes of the collegians to a height far greater than Mount Blanc, besides filling them with a sublime and supreme confidence that is certainly refreshing.

The question that is being discussed now by the Willamette followers is not which team is going to win, but how Stanford's Many Changes. in the Sherman Indian game and is only able to walk now with the aid of a cane. It looks now as if Berkeley will administer a sound thrashing to Stanford on Saturday in the annual intercollegiate game. The outcome is awaited with great interest.

The water polo teams at the Multi-nomah club are displaying great inter-est in that sport at present. It is quite a treat-to sea the youngsters perform in the tank. Professor Murray has cor-tainly done wonders with the swimming classes at Multinomah. There is a possibility of Coach Over-field playing behind the line in Satur-day's game. If he decides to do so, the back field, with himself. Owens and

James, ought to make some sort of an impression upon the opponents. If Overfield doesn't play half he will be found at right tackle, McMillan playing left tackle, That looks good, too, doesn't it? Why students at universities and col

Why students at universities and col-leges throughout the northwest persist in calling their institutions "schools" is really unexplainable, excepting that school instead of college ideas are taught by them. The University of Oregon football eleven has been re-ferred to as a school team by an under-graduate of that institution. Wake up, "prep." schoolers, and get into college.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., who attended the Goodman-Corbett fight, had this to say of the contest: "It was a great bout, the finest I ever saw. Both men proved ring generals, and there was just enough cleverness thrown in with science to make it a most interesting battle to watch. Boxing is my favorite sport. I like football, but that doesn't compare with this game. I take in every bout and expect to be in Chelsea for the coming ones. In fact, I'll walk 100 miles to see a good set-to such as that one." that one."

Coach Hesselman of Georgia Tech, formerly of Oberlin, has a novel way of teaching his football men how to avoid fumbling. If a striving half-back makes a fumble, he is immediately shunted to the side lines and a sub takes his place.

To the offender the coach hands out a new football freely anointed with grease. An assistant takes the victim in hand and they travel to the fence, where the fumbler gets busy.

He is compelled to bounce the ball against the fence and catch it cleanly just 100 times. The other fellow is there to keep count. If he falls on the hundredth bound he commences all over again.
