Police Raid Notorious Place Kept by James Randle and J. Gibson.

FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL IS ONE OF THE INMATES

Two Women and Two Men Are Arrested, and Proprietors of Place Taken in Custody-Gritzmacher Starts Crusade of Extermination.

Police attention having been directed to the "ledging-house" conducted by James Randle and J. Gibson, at Second and Taylor streets, through a replevin suit filed for possession of a trunk in Justice Reid's court, it was kept under surveillance for several nights by Acting Detective Hellyer and evidence was secured warranting a raid, which was made last night by Acting Detectives Hellyer, Kay and Jones, with surprising results.

In the house when the raid took place at 3 o'clock this morning was found Jennie Leghars, a 15-year-old girl, in the company of T. C. Wilson. The girl was partly intoxicated.

Lulu Wilson, Sally Tomlin, W. D. Porter and J. Barton were placed under the statement of the Porter and J. Barton were placed under arrest and charged, with statutory offenses.

Randle and Wilson were formally charged with conducting a disorderly house by the authorities and were arrested on warrants. Their bonds were placed at $100 each.

A serious charge has been placed against Wilson. The court has refused to fix a bond in his case.

"It is a good thing we got an intimation as to the nature of this place," said Chief of Police Gritzmachen. "The result of the raid shows it. result of the raid shows it to be one of the worst dives of the kind in the city. We intend cleaning out such places wherever we can obtain evidence."

The price of flour is showing an ad-ditional advance this week, quotations at wholesale being 15 cents a barrel higher. Retail, values are correspondingher. Retail, values are correspond-ingly advanced. Higher prices in the wheat market and a failing off in the oriental demand for cheaper grades are responsible for the rise here. Taking it all in all, however, the housewife living on the Pacific coast has but little cause for complete. These that the cause for complaint. Those that do not bake their own bread readily can buy it at bakeries at 5 cents a loaf. Over in England or in other parts of Europe bread until recently cost twice as much. According to the London Daily Mail of October 5, bread at 6 cents per loaf, Instead of about 10 cents, it is claimed will be the probable result of an invention in the form of a break-making machine now on trial in London. London alone consumes 6,000,000 pounds of alone consumes 6.000,000 pounds of bread a day, so, that the invention may effect a daily saving of $60,831.25, or over $21,899,250 per annum, to the peo-ple of London alone. Simply stated, the invention is a series of ingenious ma-chines which convert wheat into loaves ready for delivery without human aid, and at a relatively other means of

and at a rate that puts other means of production out of the field. It is not only a labor and time saving It is not only a labor and time saving invention—it naight also be called a machine-saving machine, so greatly does it simplify the process of bread making. For instance, at present the miller grinds his wheat perhaps as many as 15 times to obtain the best flour. By the new method the wheat is ground only once. This grinding gives three products—flour, middlings and bran. The foremost is conducted to the bin, the bran is mechanically carried and automatically weighed into sacks, while abe middlings pasts into tepid water, by which all the floury part is washed out. This water, impregnated with nutritive material, flows into the kneading pan, in which the dough is left to rise for one hour and a half or two hours, is then shaped into loaves, and 40 minutes later an electric carrier delivers the hot bread to the throbbing motor cars that wait impatiently to carry it through London.

We are now securing practically all of our supplies of fresh vegetables from California points. The cold weather has put the Oregon growers out of business for the time being—the hothouse institutions being the only exception. Tomatoes from California are now coming quite lively and are quoted high. String beans of various kinds and colors are coming from the same section and cost considerably more than did the local product a short time ago. Local hothouse lettuce and California head lattuce are shown in profusion, both be-

LANE NAMES COMMITTEE TO WRESTLE WITH FILLS

Mayor Lane has appointed members of different organizations interested in the improvement of East. Portland a committee to meet Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock for the purpose of considering the proposition of dredging the harbor and dumping the sand and gravel in the sloughs on the east side. The committee follows:

John Driscoll, P. L. Willis and C. F. Adams of the Port of Portland; George C. Flanders, S. E. Josephi, S. L. Woodward and Joseph Pacquet of the East Side Improvement association: W. M. Ladd, R. Koehler, Portland Seed company, Southern Pacific Railway company and W. L. Boise, east side property-owners; R. L. Sabin, M. Fleigchner and Richard Wilson of the strestecomand Richard Wilson of the street committee of the city executive board, J. B. C. Lockwood and D. W. Taylor, civil engineers, and the members of the city

"If the city ever intends to improve the harbor and fill the sloughs of the east side, now is the time to do it," said the mayor this morning. "The people have become interested in the proposition and with concerted action plan seems feasible."

Society in Business.

"An Observer" in M. A. P. Royalty often observes the role of a shop assistant. Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyll, takes endless pains in suiting her bazaar customers; the Duchess of Connaught also does brisk business and Princess Christian is a tireless worker. It is now nearly 20 years ago since the late Lady Granville Gordon started a hat shop. Mrs. Maxwell Heron, wife of a well-known Scotch laird, joined the famous dressmaking business of Elise in Regent street. Mrs. Jack Cumming tried the same experiment in Dover street, under the name of "Machinka."

It is an open secret that Lady Wim-borne is the chief proprietor of a book shop in Doyer street. Then Mrs. Patrick Heron Maxwell runs a florist business with success, and Miss Kerr, an un-married daughter of the late Lord Frederick Kerr, keeps a servants' registry in Lower Belgrade street. The Countess of Warwick no longer maintains a lingerie shop in Bond street, but the hostel at Reading now affords ample proof of her plucky, enterprising character. The Duchess of Abercorn has a

CHICAGO TEAMSTERS AGREE TO STRIKE NO MORE

Drivers Appoint Joint Arbitration Committee Whose Rulings Are Compulsory.

(Journal Special Service.)
Chicago, Nov. 10.—The teamsters, heretofore the backbone of every Chicago strike, since their recent disastrous defeat, have decided not to engage in any more strikes. They are favorably considering a proposition advanced by their officers to appoint a joint arbitration committee with their employers, to which all questions will be submitted and arbitration be made compulsory.

It is realized that strikes and riots are doing Chicago vast damage. Many enterprises are moving away and extra-ordinary efforts are being put forth to dismiss as many teamsters from the service as possible. The subway will deprive thousands of employment and large employers are moving to railroad spurs where they will need no team-sters.

In view of this attitude the team-sters are welcoming arbitration and will refuse to join any more sympathetic strikes. Heretofore they have engaged in almost every strike, strain-ing a point if necessary to get into the
