Former Governor Tells Friends He Will Not Try for Chamberlain's Place

RUMOR HE HAS BOUGHT THE PENDLETON TRIBUNE

This Would Enable Him to Turn Paper's Batteries on Judge S. A. Lowell—Present Governor's Popularity Makes Longing Ones Shy.

T. T. Geer, ex-governor of Oregon, has officially informed his friends that he is a candidate for United States senator and will enter the primary election contest for the office.

A story has been current for some weeks that Mr. Geer is negotiating for the purchase of the Pendleton Daily Tribune from E. P. Dodd.

Marion county republicans also are agitated over the report that Professor W. C. Hawley of Willamette university is a candidate for congress from the first district.

The success of Congressman McCleary of Minnesota, who was a professor in the normal school of Mankato, in the second district of that state, is said to have inspired the Willamette university faculty man to strive to emulate his example.

It is said that the decision of Mr. Geer to select the senatorial office for his choice was due largely to the growing impression that the republican nominee who opposes Governor Chamberlain for reelection will have an uphill road to travel.

OKANOGAN

Secretary Hitchcock Refuses to Approve Two Reclamation Propositions.

WOULD RESERVE FUNDS FOR EMERGENCY CASES

Tietion Scheme Is Also Killed—Officials Now Considering the Sunny-side Canal Project in the Yakima Valley to Cost Million and a Half.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Hitchcock today declined to approve the Tietion and Okanogan irrigation projects in Washington. Secretary Hitchcock refused to approve these projects on the ground that the cost of reclamation would be about $1,500,000, which is more than the reclamation fund could stand at this time.

He admits that $1,500,000 is not 51 per cent of the total amount of funds contributed by the Washington reclamation fund, but insists that to begin work on the Tietion and Okanogan projects would leave him without a reserve fund with which to meet emergency cases in Washington.

Secretary Hitchcock insists that it would not be businesslike for him to go ahead and expend the Washington portion of the reclamation fund without reserving a balance with which to meet emergency cases. For instance, he believes in always keeping a good sum of money on hand with which to relieve distressed homesteaders by buying up neighboring lands, thus alleviating conditions and protecting homesteaders. No other reason is assigned for the defeat of these two projects.

There is now pending before the secretary the Sunny-side canal project, which involves the purchase of the Sunny-side canal in Yakima valley and which is now in private hands. This project contemplates the reclamation of 40,000 acres of land and it is estimated the total cost will be $1,500,000.
