

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE BAZAAR AND THE CHARITY DINNER

THE season of receptions and the like is going out and the season of bazaars and charity dinners is coming in. Soon everyone will be engaged in sewing for fairs and hunting little waifs to appreciate the good things they are given to eat. Perhaps no season of the whole year is more thoroughly enjoyed than this, when matron and maid put aside their own enjoyment and seek pleasure and happiness for those less fortunate. The dates have been set for a number of bazaars and from now till Christmas the time will be full of them, some lasting a day only, others extending through a week. Fairs always have been liberally patronized by Portland people who fancy hand-made articles for simple gifts, yet have not the time or inclination to make them.

Two large public events last week took out two afternoons for society, for almost everyone attended the Woman's Exchange tea and the Patton home card tournament. Both were successful social affairs. The former was especially so, for the people who fancy hand-made articles for simple gifts, yet have not the time or inclination to make them.

The Nichols-Bryan nuptials in Virginia were a matter of interest because both Miss Bryan and Mr. Nichols have been for some time prominent figures in all local social doings. Miss Laura King's marriage will take place about Thanksgiving time, though the date is not yet definitely announced.

Card clubs are being added to the list every week, and bridge, "500," and what are rivals in popularity, though bridge seems to have a little the advantage. At this is the season when the clubs there should be some experts in all. Bowling clubs are reorganizing for the winter.

The football season is the occasion for a number of small football luncheons, at which clever decorations are used. Interest in football is now at its height and representative people are attending the games.

The farewell concert of Madame Norelli next week doubtless will be a greater success than even her former one. The madame has appeared only twice during the season, but her performances have been met with unlimited enthusiasm.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Easily the leading event in east side society this season was the afternoon at the Irvington clubhouse Thursday for the benefit of the Patton home. The affair was patronized by some of the leading women of the city and a large number of interested friends attended. The only cause for regret was that the rooms were small and the crowd so much larger than expected, that enough people to fill thirty more tables had to be turned away. The guests were received by Mrs. Sol Hirsch, Mrs. Theodore Nicolai, Mrs. Charles W. King, Mrs. George W. Hoyt, Mrs. M. Spaulding and Mrs. Ann Van Rensselaer. Five hundred was the game for the afternoon and the first prize, a piece of hand-painted china, was won by Miss Henry-Lester, and the second, a bit of Bohemian glass, by Mrs. J. Patterson. Refreshments were served after cards at the small tables. The committee in charge of the card tables and refreshments consisted of Mrs. D. M. Spaulding, Mrs. J. H. Burgard, Mrs. A. L. Ramsey, Mrs. A. Shannon, Mrs. D. H. Ramsd, Mrs. A. Daly and Miss Lucy Nicolai.

The clubhouse looked very pretty with its autumn leaves and draped flags. The board is delighted with the social and financial success of Thursday's entertainment and plans another larger entertainment for the evening, sometime after the holidays.

The Monday History club was entertained last week by Mrs. Amadeo Smith. Rollcall was responded to by members with bits of current events. Mrs. G. Tipton conducted the study of Russian history. A talk on "Napoleon in Russia" was given by Mrs. Alan Welch Smith; a paper on "The Two Annes," C. E. Goodwin, and one on "The Subjugation of Poland," by Mrs. James Bell.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. A. King Wilson gave a luncheon at her pretty country home near Oswego for the members of the Ladies' Aid society of Taylor Street Methodist church. The afternoon was spent in sewing aprons for the homekeepers' bazaar, to be given November 24. At a meeting of the society Monday afternoon it was decided to give such a bazaar and a dinner and the members are busy preparing for it.

Mrs. Alan Welch Smith gave a luncheon for eight Monday evening at her home. Ella Miller of Oakland, and Mrs. W. Youngson of New Jersey, who are the guests of the Misses Farrell of Portland Heights. The table was very pretty with graceful lavender scones and the hostess' antique lace garlands made a pretty effect with the polished table. Besides the two honorary guests and their hostesses there were Misses Anna and Jennie Farrell, Mrs. Nelson A. Louchee, Mrs. Alexander Muir and Mrs. George Cooper.

Miss Buckenmeyer and Mr. Ringler gave a pleasant dancing party at Ringler's hall on Tuesday evening. The ball was prettily decorated and there was a large attendance. Lemonade punch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Spenser entertained the Thursday Evening Whist club last week at their home, 285 North Twenty-third street. This is an informal club of last year which met for reorganization. There are three tables and the club meets fortnightly.

Miss Ruth Gabrielson of Salem entertained with a Halloween party for Miss Marguerite Chamberlain, daughter of Governor Chamberlain. Miss Chamberlain has been visiting for some time in Salem, where she is popular with the young people.

A very enjoyable musicale was given at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Chipman, 544 Clinton street, Friday evening, November 3, by Miss Mabel Baker, mezzo-soprano, and Mordant A. Goodnough, pianist. Miss Maud Bell, also a pianist, and Miss Hallie Baker, reader, assisted. Both Miss Baker and Mr. Goodnough are artists of local repute and the program they gave consisted of selections of a high order. Miss Baker leaves shortly for Chicago. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. A. G. Dayton of 890 Broadway, entertained the Illinois Study Club November 8. The paper of the day, "Some of the Great Men of Illinois," was read by Mrs. H. L. Torrington. Discussion, social hour and refreshments closed the meeting.

A pleasant party was given at the home of Mrs. Bailey, 595 East Alder street, Friday evening. The evening was spent in playing games and one of the features was a guessing contest, in which first prize was won by Gilbert Osborn and the second by Anna Lautenschlager. This was followed by a taffy pull. Those present were the Misses Hazel Bakney, Anna Lautenschlager, Hazel Goshorn, Gladys Wiggins, Wilhelm Cooley, Jessie Sharp and Marie Bales, and Gilbert Goshorn, Elmer Goshorn, Harold Magnus, Lloyd Goshorn, Jack Carson, Charles Moser and George Palmer.

Mrs. Samuel M. Mears entertained at luncheon Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Benjamin Wistar, Mrs. M. S. Wistar and Her other guests were Miss Louise Morris, Mrs. George Good, Mrs. Zera Snow, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Miss Felling, Mrs. Frank Vincent DuMont and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis.

Mrs. Arthur C. Minott entertained a few of her friends at bridge Tuesday afternoon and Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd secured the first prize, a handsome bridge set and Mrs. E. Lea Barnes, the second, a Japanese bowl.

The guests were Mrs. Morton Inasley, Mrs. John A. Shepard, Mrs. J. Wesley Ladd, Mrs. Frank Hart, Mrs. John Eben Young, Mrs. Stewart B. Lintthicum, Mrs. Hubt Lewis, Miss Hoyt, Miss Stott, Miss Whalley, Mrs. C. J. Reed, Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Miss von Destimon, Mrs. Alice von Destimon, Mrs. E. Lea Barnes and Miss Louise Fleming.

Mrs. Stewart B. Lintthicum entertained a few friends at bridge Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Warren Houghton entertained the Bridge club last Wednesday afternoon.

Shepard, Mrs. Robert Allard and the Misses Clara Dahl, Mrs. Henry Jones, Miss Alice Sibson, Mrs. George Taylor and Mrs. Hannah Robertson.

Among the enjoyable occasions of the week was the birthday party given in honor of Mrs. C. E. Johnson, at her home, 643 East Seventeenth street, Tuesday afternoon. After a pleasant social time refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. O. K. Backe, Mrs. H. K. Backe, Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. John Hull, Mrs. Freden, Mrs. Bergman, Mrs. Charles E. Boyd, Mrs. G. Tipton, Mrs. Leonard, Mrs. the Misses Clara Dahl, Huldah Nelson, Lily Freden and Ethel Huld.

The Woman's exchange undoubtedly has many warm friends in the city who are determined to put forth their best efforts in the interest of this charitable institution. This was evident last Wednesday as crowds of women swarmed into the room for the exchange on Tenth street "to do their little best" in supporting the movement.

Every one was delighted with the happy atmosphere of this place, which has become so popular with Portland's best women. Miss Felling, president of the exchange, and Mrs. H. L. Pittock, president of the Woman's Union, of which the exchange is a part, received the guests at the door. Assisting them in the various duties of hostesses were Mrs. I. N. Lipman, Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Hamilton, Miss Atwood, Mrs. E. Johnston, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Martin Winch, Miss Gille, Mrs. H. C. Bowers, Mrs. Curtis Strong, Mrs. Lee Hoffman, Mrs. Edward Ehrman, Mrs. Frank Hart and Mrs. Z. Backe.

The tea table was perhaps the most attractive spot in the room. All the "fixings" were of brass and Oregon grape and yellow chrysanthemums. The social time made an effective centerpiece. Mrs. Gordon Voorhies, Mrs. George F. Russell and Mrs. Signaud Frank poured tea and there were few moments when no one was waiting for refreshments.

Mrs. J. G. Gault had charge of the candy table and introduced the idea of selling also bunches of violets and roses. It left the booth rather bare looking at the close of the afternoon, but realized a neat additional sum. Mrs. Hunt Lewis, Mrs. David Robertson and Miss Kathleen Burns assisted at the table.

To keep in mind one of the predominant purposes of the exchange as a medium of sale for women's handwork, a table of jams, jellies and preserves was arranged attractively to tempt the purchasers. Mrs. E. H. Northrup and Mrs. S. A. Brown presided there, needlework counter also was arranged and Mrs. Tannahauer, Mrs. Leon Hirsch, Mrs. Whiteside and Mrs. A. J. Meier exhibited.

The music of the afternoon was played by Miss Fannie Amsterdam, the symbolon player, whose talents have made her so popular in the Hungarian orchestra at the Portland hotel.

Miss Felling entertained a few friends at luncheon Thursday in honor of Mrs. M. E. Barlow of Omaha, Nebraska, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Brooks.

Mrs. George Dunham entertained the Tuesday Afternoon club last week at her new home at Richmond. A delicious luncheon was served at 1 o'clock by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Chipman.

A brilliant piano number by Mrs. Mabel Baker was given with pleasure, after which quotations were given from Tennyson's "Queen Mary."

"The Reign of Edward VII" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. J. D. Hayes. Mrs. Hayes read a paper describing the reign of Queen Victoria. Continuing Mrs. H. S. Hudson read a paper on the personality and character of Mary. The counter reformation was spoken of by Mrs. Merwin Pugh and others.

The club will meet next week with Mrs. Harry E. Chipman, 848 East Thirty-third street, at 1 o'clock.

The Rose club was entertained in a delightful manner by Mrs. W. D. Allard at her home, 522 Fourth street, on Tuesday of last week.

What was played at three tables. Score cards, refreshments and decorations were served. The guests were Miss Bertha Wagner, Miss Pearl

Madame Jennie Norelli will be a court concert given under her patronage at Bucharest.

Madame Norelli was born in Sweden and spent her childhood there till she was sent away to perfect her splendid voice. When she was invited to her native country, and there she appeared at court concerts year before last. After her Roumanian season next winter she will go to Sweden on the invitation of King Oscar and will sing at two court functions, besides giving other concerts. Sweden loves its native prima donna and Madame Norelli loves Sweden, thinking there are the most critical and the best audiences on earth. After the spring season in London the madame will have a rest during the summer, to prepare for a tour of India and Australia the following year, where she has several times been invited to come.

The farewell concert, Tuesday evening, November 12, will then be the last chance to hear Madame Norelli for two years in Portland, though she hopes to return at that time. She is fond of Portland and thinks their audience delightful, and she feels that this is her home. Her little daughter, who shows marked talent for music and has a sweet voice, will accompany her on this tour.

Miss Millie Perkins and Miss Helen Copeland. The splendid list of patronesses shows the interest that is being taken in the forthcoming recitals. There is no doubt that these artists are a welcome addition to the musical talent of the city, and an artistic rendition of Liza Lehmann's beautiful song cycle, "The Persian Garden" and "The Daisy Chain," is confidently looked for. The locale of the recital will be Mr. Goodwyn's studio, 69 North Eighteenth street. The accompanist for the series will be Frederick W. Goodrich, who has had much experience in this class of musical work.

Miss Beatrice Hidden, sister of Reginald Hidden, many years Portland's favorite violinist, has just returned from two years' study in Berlin and will make her home in Portland. Miss Hidden studied with Xavier Scharwenka and he considers her highly talented and an extremely clever performer.

Miss Ethel M. Lytle, soprano; Miss Ethel M. Shea, contralto, and Miss Sylvia W. McGuire, reader, gave a concert at Vancouver, on last Wednesday evening which was an artistic success. They expect to give a series of recitals during the season.

The music department of the Woman's club met with Mrs. E. C. Frost Thursday afternoon. Solos by Mrs. J. S. Hamilton, Miss Irene Flynn, Mrs. F. M. Branch and Miss Anna Rankin; a duet by Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Emily Hampson, and the chorus work made a delightful afternoon. The department will meet with Mrs. J. W. Sweeney, 521 Irving street, next Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"If With All Your Hearts" ("Elijah") was beautifully rendered at St. Mary's cathedral last Sunday evening by Arthur L. Alexander.

The song cycle, "Elijah," by Von Flititz, was given by the pupils of Mrs. Walter Reed at the last meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon class. Miss Kathleen Lawler sang the first two numbers, "Stilles Lied," "Rosenweige" and "Heimliche Gruesse"; Miss Alice Juston, "Am Strand"; "Kinderstimmen" and "Mondnacht"; and Mrs. Reed sang the last three numbers, "Wandertraume," "Anathema" and "Ergebung."

Miss Ruby Agnes Kenyon and Alnah A. Wilder of Roseburg were married Monday evening with a simple ceremony at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Graham, 802 East Flanagan street. Dr. T. L. Elliot pronounced the ceremony.

The rooms were decorated with Oregon grape, ferns, chrysanthemums and roses. Miss Pearl Kenyon attended her sister as bridesmaid and wore white and carried pink roses. The bride was in cream white and carried bride roses. Little Corinne Hutchinson, in white, was maid of honor and carried white roses. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Gardner. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served.
