

HORSE SHOW OPEN IN NEW YORK

Great Professional and Society Event of America's Aristocracy of Wealth.

THIRTY-SEVEN THOUSAND OFFERED AS PRIZES

Owners Must Drive Their Own Steeds to Win Recognition—Many Cups Offered for Different Classes of Animals.

(Journal Special Service.)

New York, Nov. 12.—This is the opening day of the 21st national horse show at Madison Square garden, an event which annually attracts thousands of lovers of fine horses to this city.

From 40 to 50 the number of classes to be judged was increased from year to year until it has reached 137 this year.

Another valuable cup is that offered by the American Coaching club for the best road team, four-in-hand, to be shown to a coach and driven by the owner who, as a coachman, must be approved by the committee.

Then there is the Hunter's cup, offered by Alfred B. MacLay, for hunters that have been hunted at least eight times in the last year with some recognized pack of hounds.

Another favorite cup is the Aldie challenge cup for the best hackney or half-hackney, mare or gelding, bred in America, to be shown in single harness to appropriate vehicle.

The horse show will last all week and there will be three sessions every day, beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning and ending at midnight.

California Sportsmen Appreciate Oregon's Game and the Southern Part of State Is Alive With Huntsmen—How Bear Hunters Are Equipped.

(Journal Special Service.)

Grants Pass, Or., Nov. 12.—This year sportsmen are taking a lively interest in the lower Rogue and Bear Camp regions, three parties from Los Angeles having already outfitted and hit the trail.

Bear camp is reached by road and trail from Grants Pass by way of Galice. It is about 45 miles down Rogue river from Grants Pass. At Galice the wagon road ends and the hunter must take the mountain trail.

Bear camp and the lower Rogue is no auto-touring country. He who hires there for big game must be content to rough it a while.

Another valuable cup is that offered by the American Coaching club for the best road team, four-in-hand, to be shown to a coach and driven by the owner who, as a coachman, must be approved by the committee.

SOUTH PORTLAND TIES WITH BUNKER HILL

The South Portland team played the heavy Bunker Hill eleven to a standstill yesterday morning, the score being 0-0.

The first half South Portland clearly outplayed their opponents. Bunker Hill took a decided brace in the second half and honors were evenly divided.

The star warriors were Wagner, Churchill, Foley and Barry for South Portland; while Kennedy, Jackson, Ryan and Mensing shone for their colors.

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The Giants managed to break even with the Comets at Oakland yesterday. In the first game the Portlanders outbatted Van Halgren's team 5 to 3, yet McCredie's men did not on the bases with remarkable consistency.

(Journal Special Service.)

Newport, Nov. 12.—Prince Louis of Battenberg and his staff were guests today at a reception and luncheon tendered them by the chamber of commerce.

The other event of the day was the sailing of the British jackets to the Cony Island. Twelve hundred American sailors entertained an equal number of British sailors, and Prince Louis, Admiral Evans and several hundred officers of the American and British ships visited the men while they were at dinner.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chehalis, Wash., Nov. 12.—The city council at its last meeting considered the matter of the proposed electric franchise asked for by the Centralia-Chehalis Electric & Power company.

The company has agreed to establish and maintain a local service in the city as well as between Chehalis and Centralia if it is given a franchise.

No action was taken on the franchise asked for by James Rich and his associates. They wish for a line through the city merely and do not figure on a local system.

Both of these companies want the use of the same streets in this city and the council went over the ground yesterday with representatives of both companies.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Ontario, Or., Nov. 12.—There has been a meeting for a mass meeting at the city chamber next Tuesday evening for the purpose of nominating a mayor, treasurer and three councilmen to be voted on at the Ontario city election, which takes place the first Monday in December.

The three councilmen whose terms expire are J. M. Brown, Ward Caulfield and John Landingham. Mayor J. A. Locke is now serving his second term and in all probability he will be re-nominated for mayor at the meeting Tuesday evening.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., Nov. 12.—Three divorce suits are pending in the local courts. Elizabeth Switzer wants a separation, charging cruelty. Eliza Russell asks for divorce from Milton Russell on the grounds of desertion.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Chemawa, Nov. 12.—The Chemawa football team will play the Stevens eleven on Willamette field in Salem tomorrow afternoon.
