camp, her husband and seven children, in a state of poverty and distress that probably is not equaled in all Portland. The family's income consists of $5 a week carned by a 17-year-old son and $1.50 a week received from a tonact wag occupies one of the three rooms. The father and mother and the seven obliders occupy the other two rooms. In the squalid kitchen yeaterday afternson Judge Frazer held a session of the inventile court to learn why the children did not attend school and why they slept in boxes and in the streets. The seasion was attended by three probation officers. The reason for holding the session there was that Mrs. Camp protested that she could not visit the courtroum because of a sick child.

Mrs. Camp is charged by various organizations with permitting her children to grow up in crime and ignorance. Specific charges against the children were directed toward Arthur and Lloyd, sged 10 and 11, who were accused of throwing stones through the windows of a Chinese laundry.

A Good Forcible Argument

That is always striking and generally makes a hit with those who can tumble to a good thing, is the offer to give money back if not satisfactory. Most of the money we have received has been satisfactory, however, but we will cheerfully give it back to a customer who does not think that our goods are worth far more than the money paid for them.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Albany, Or., Nov. 14.—A series of evangelistic meetings is being conducted by Rev. J. J. Evans, pastor of the Christian church. A chorus choir, composed of all the singers from the different churches in the city, led the singing under the direction of Mr. S. N. Steele of the First Presbyterian church. The meetings will continue for three The meetings will continue for three weeks and the local pastors will take turns in preaching.

The local churches conducted a similar campaign last winter when all the churches joined and a revival of religion, unknown in the history of the city, resulted and the present meetings are a result. During the services it is ex-pected that the campaign for local op-tion for next spring will be commenced.

ADVISES DIRECTORS TO HIRE SAME TEACHERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Salem, Or., Nov. 14.—How to arrange matters so as to allow the Drain Normal school to furnish and have control over the public school teachers of the district, and thus receive the district's share of the public school fund, is agitating the directors of the Drain district and the school superintendent of Douglas county. They appealed to the attorney-general yesterday, and in the opinion he renders in reply he holds that the best thing for them to do is for the directors to hire the same teachers as the normal school. Then they can be paid from the school fund.
