NORTHERN TEAM HAS IMPROVED RAPIDLY

Early Season Was Full of Disappointments, but After Fraternity Van Buren, if. Squabble Was Settled, Better Work Resulted Immediately.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 16.—Encouraged by the victory over the Sherman Indian team last Saturday, the University of Washington team is working hard for the Webfoot game. Washington's only chance to lay claim to having a good team this season depends upon the winning of the two Oregon games. The northern team has been defeated by the University of Idaho by two place kicks. She will not meet Pullman and her only college games remain with the two Oregon institutions. Washington is out of the race for the championship of the northwest by her defeat at the hands of Idaho, and she is now making every effort to put into the field a team that will wrest the honors from the rival Oregon eleven. To goad Washington on to make desperate efforts is the fact that the colleges of the northwest are backing Oregon and are desirous that Oregon shall win. In the Idaho-Washington game the students from Pullman

A writer in the Seattle P.-1. of yes-terday does the usual juggling stunt with a comparison of scores and evolves a winning team by figuring that Wash-ington has won 64 points to her oppo-nent's 24, while the Oregon team has won only 53 to her opponent's 11. There-fore Washington is the stronger team

Coach Cutts' eleven will line up with five freshmen players. But few veterans will be there to steady the team. Cutts has spent the year developing green material into seasoned players, and in addition has had every disadvantage to buck against that could come up against a coach.

To open the season, Dean, a player of last year, had his collarbone broken the first week; he was followed by two more strong men who joined the ranks with broken shoulders. These three men were out for the season. Then came the mixup in the squad when four came the mixup in the squad when four of the players went out on a strike and disorganized the team for a week. These accidents, coupled with a number of smaller ones, kept Cutts changing his lineup all through the season, which accounted for the poor showing previous GOLD BOND BOWLERS

The Oregon men are veterans and have played together for two seasons and should be able to put up the stronger game, but Cutts has developed such a wenderful defense that it will be hard to score upon his team.

The game in itself was comparatively clean; if Columbia university's hotheaded sons of Erin did lose their heads once in a while and slugged a bit, Hill Military academy was too busy to feel it. The only unpleasant feature was the way Columbia university's rooters attempted Columbia university's rooters attempted to prevent Hill's signals from being heard, when Columbia university was in dire straits and sorely pressed in the vicinity of her seven-yard line. this quite sportsmanlike? Columbia Won Toss. Columbia Won Toss.

Columbia won the toss and Hill Military academy kicked off to Columbia university's 10-yard line. Twice Columbia made her yardage and then gave Hill Military academy the ball on her own 30-yard line. Hill Military academy could not advance the ball further than Columbia's 18-yard line and Columbia university made. bia university made a desperate effort to get into the cadets' territory. Thus the ball changed hands for 15 minutes, when Columbia university punted from her own 46-yard line and Hill Military academy fumbled the punt, Columbia university recovering the ball.

With Hill's goal but 40 yards away Columbia threw every ounce of strength and speed into her attack and advanced steadily to the 18-yard line. The disease commenced by small, watery pimples breaking out on the back of my hands, which itched, burned, and pained awful, as if an electric battery was being held against my body. Clarke, the right tackle, will play full-back, and Hurlbert will take his place at tackle. The academy team hopes to make most of its gains through the center of the line, as the playing of the High school ends in their previous games, shows that it is practically impossible for them to get around, and as this form of attack is always slow and tedious, the academy's hope is to Seattle's Official Makes Rank Ruling Against Sherman and the Indians Leave the Field.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Nov. 16.—The football game between the strong team of the Seattle here yesterday resulted in the Indians here yesterday resulted in the Indians leaving the field near the end of the second helf. The game was very slow and the club players were hard pushed. In the first half Dr. Roller broke through the Indian line and successfully evading the safety fullback ran 75 yards for a touchdown. In the second half the Indians let their ends be drawn in and Poller meds another long run around the Indians let their ends be drawn in and Roller made another long run around the end for the second touchdow. Score, 12-0. The Indians now received the kickoff and tore through the club line for a touchdown. Here the squabble occurred. The S. A. C. team hotly contested the advance of the Indians, but the red boys planted the ball where the tip end of it touched the goal line on the third down. Referee Frost ruled that this was not a touchdown and gave the ball to the clubmen, overlooking the fact that the Indians had carried the ball a foot and a half past the necessary five yards, and the down should be the first. The linesman declared the down The Multnomah club men became very ambitious last evening and responded to Coach Overfield's orders splendidly, turning out and participating in a creditable practice.
