

WASHINGTON MEN HOPE TO WIN

Coach Cutt's Eleven Rounding Into Form With Hopes of Beating Oregon.

PUGET SOUNDERS HAVE VERY STRONG PLAYERS

Injuries Have Been Healed, Social Differences Adjusted and Now Every Man Thinks of Nothing but Football.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 17.—Coach Cutt and his bunch of pigskin boosters are doing everything in their power to develop a winning team for tomorrow's game with Oregon. The team thought they had been going through a strenuous practice heretofore but the workout they are getting this week makes all former practices look like a hobnob of an easy life. From 1:30 in the afternoon until dark the entire squad is busy on the field and after an hour over roast beef in the training quarters signs are run and secret plays are given in the gymnasium. Enthusiasm is running high among the students and from a view of the gridiron when the boys are making sport of the second eleven's desperate efforts it looks like their zeal is well founded.

Cutt opened the season with the Harvard style of play and persistently stuck to it until the back field was well trained in line blocking and then without changing his style of play he began to originate and put into operation trick plays and a variety of end runs. The value of the new play was demonstrated in the Sherman Indian game, when Shaw tore off 25 yards around the other end. Not until the last week has the team been strong on offense but with the completion of a strong defensive team Cutt went to work on the offense and as a result but from three to six plays are necessary for the variety to score against the scrubs and the second eleven were unable last night to make five yards in six downs.

Two of the strongest players who were not in the game Saturday are now out of the hospital squad. Babcock, a 305-pound man, is back at guard, having recovered from a case of boils. Tilly is again in suit and his ankle will need no more attention. Homer Tilly is without doubt the best player in the back field and knows more football than any man on the team. He is a Portland boy and at one time played on the Multnomah Juniors' football team. This white-headed little lad will play the game and steady the team in Saturday's contest.

Cole, the 155-pound quarterback, is the best addition to the team since the opening of the season. With Cole receiving Crim's passes, Washington's weak point of fumbling has been eradicated. But three fumbles marred Saturday's game.

When Cutt looked upon Freshman Grimm at the beginning of the year he said: "That big fellow is a former" but Grimm in the game with Whitman was placed at end and failed to make good. The coach still worked upon this 190 pounds of muscle and Grimm is now regarded as a rival of Dan Pullen and Tom McDonald.

No injuries are keeping any of the players off of the team except Jim Eshland. This tower of strength injured his knee in the Whitworth game over a month ago and by playing in subsequent games has kept it in poor shape so that he is now standing on the side lines and it is doubtful if he will get into the game against Oregon.

GIANTS TAKE ONE MORE FROM WILSON'S MEN THE INDIANS ARRIVE FOR TOMORROW'S GAME

The Webfooters Continue Their Winning Streak by Hitting the Ball With Good Results. Riverside Redskins Hopeful of Scalping a Few of the Multnomah Braves on Gridiron.

(Journal Special Service.) San Francisco, Nov. 17.—Those Giants are corkers. Yesterday they took another fall out of Uncle Henry's Seals. Early in the game the visitors got busy with the willow and this, with Atan's fielding, kept the Webfooters in the limelight. The Seals filled the bases in the ninth, but it did no good. Sweeney and Mitchell played good ball. The score:

PORTLAND
Abs.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.E.	Total
Van Buren	4	1	4	7	2
McHale	3	1	1	0	0
Mitchell	4	1	3	3	3
McDede	4	0	3	0	0
Sweeney	3	1	1	0	0
Garvin	4	0	3	0	4
Totals	25	5	17	10	19

(Special Service.) San Francisco, Nov. 17.—The San Francisco Giants and the Portland Webfooters will meet at 2:30 o'clock. The Indians are a husky aggregation and capable of playing a great game of football. While Multnomah has not yet got her team in shape, there is an impression about the club that Multnomah should be able to hold their own against the red men. Owing to injuries Multnomah will be compelled to play a number of substitutes. Frank Loperagan will referee and Mr. Webster of the University of Minnesota will umpire the contest. The lineup will be:

SAN FRANCISCO
Abs.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.E.	Total
Waldron	4	0	0	1	0
Mohler	3	0	2	2	2
Hildebrand	4	0	1	0	0

PENDLETON TO TACKLE BAKER HIGH PLAYERS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Nov. 17.—For those who will go to Baker City for the eastern Oregon championship football game which is to be played tomorrow, there will be a one-rate fare on the railroad provided 100 people go. The above rate has been secured by the management of the Pendleton High school football team.

From the record of the Baker City team so far, and from reports received from there, it is known that the Pendleton team will be up against opponents worthy of their steel when they play against the Baker City team. Consequently every effort is being made by Coach Dan P. Smythe to bring his team into shape to withstand the onslaughts of the Bakerites.

THE JOSE VILA BOWLERS BEAT ROBERTS TEAM

The Jose Vila and Roberts Bros. teams bowled their initial games in the Commercial Tenpin league tournament at the Oregon alleys last evening. The Jose Vila team took the first two games and Roberts Bros. won the last game with the fine total of 851 pins. Capen of the Jose Vila team had high score for the evening, and also high average. Both teams bowled well and with a little more practice together will produce some fine totals. Following is the scores:

Player	(1)	(2)	(3)
Jose Vila	220	158	148
Capen	180	158	155
Stubbins	175	135	135
McMonies	175	135	135
Wagner	165	135	135
Ullman	160	158	135
Total	884	755	749

HO, FOR HUNT CLUB CHASE TOMORROW

The Hunt club members will hold a paper chase tomorrow afternoon. The start will be made at 2 o'clock sharp back of the Thompson school, in Albina, and the finish will be some spot on the Peninsula. The club had hoped to have their bounds here for this chase, but there has been a delay getting them. Jenkins and Strain are the bars for tomorrow's chase and they claim that it will be one of the best of the season.

The next important event of the Hunt club will be the annual open paper chase on Thanksgiving for the club cup. On this occasion all members of the club turn out for a try at the cup, and it is expected that this year's chase will eclipse all others in point of interest and competitors.

FOR THE TITLE OF THREE STATES

Whitman and Idaho Will Play for Tri-State Championship Tomorrow at Moscow.

IDAHO HAS SPLENDID RECORD THIS YEAR

While Whitman Has Not Made Such a Good Showing as Her Rival, Yet Coach Smith Has High Hopes of Capturing the Contest.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 17.—Tomorrow afternoon the championship in football of the three states of Washington, Idaho and Montana will be decided on the University of Idaho gridiron at Moscow. At that time the Whitman Knights of the gridiron will meet the Moscow boys in a battle for the supremacy of these three states. Neither team has yet been defeated by a college team this season. Idaho has met and defeated successively Montana, University of Washington and Washington State without a single touchdown scored against her. Whitman has defeated Montana and tied Washington, although outplaying her. From comparative scores, indications are that Idaho is somewhat superior, but such data is not always reliable as a basis for conclusions. Idaho is reported to weigh about 164 pounds to the man, Whitman will be almost exactly the same, not varying more than two or three pounds either way, at most.

Coach Smith of Moscow last week to witness the great game between Idaho and the Pullman boys. While he has not said much about the game at that time, the way he has been working the Whitman squad since his return is sufficient indication that he thinks a mighty hard game is in view. Regular, faithful and consistent practice is required every evening and the boys are doing some wonderful work in perfecting their plays. In addition to the afternoon practice, signal drill is held almost every evening to the exclusion of a late hour. Nothing that coach or team can do will be left undone to win this game with Moscow for the championship of three states.

There will probably be very few changes in the lineup from the way the team played against University of Montana. The line is now exceptionally strong and the men all average two or three pounds heavier than in the last game. Dimmock at right tackle, who was out of the Montana game, is counted one of Whitman's best ground-grainers and also enjoys the distinction of being the heaviest man on the team. Together with Captain Penger at left tackle, the team will be very strong in all plays where the tackles cut any figure. Bill the whirling hairdo, who was also out of the Montana game, is fully recovered from his injuries and may be expected to make many yards against the Moscow giants. Rigby and John Lyman, who were out of practice last week from minor injuries, are again out in suits and will be in their places at full and end in the game on Saturday.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Referee Frost, who officiated in the S. A. C. Indian game in Seattle on Wednesday last, stated that the much-discussed touchdown claimed by the Indians was not a genuine one. The play was a set of fells off the white line. Frost had better read up the rules on what constitutes a touchdown. A touchdown is made when any part of the ball, over or behind the line, and there declared dead in the possession of the attacking side. This is not the first nor the second, nor the third "Frost," nor will it be the last, that good Seattle sports inflict upon visitors in the sound city, if the visitors so permit. We know Seattle of old.

Robert Fitzsimmons, who says that, next to Jim Jeffries, he is the best boxer in the world, is a guest at the California hotel, San Francisco. He arrived yesterday. He looks robust and says that he never felt better in his life.

For the benefit of the "muckers" who are engaging in football work in this city, with an aim to popularity, and who kick and growl over any decision made by an official, the following account of Umpire Edwards' action in the Harvard-Penn game on Saturday last should be of interest: Fumbles were no more frequent than penalties. Umpire Edwards was the strictest official seen on the gridiron in many a day. He had eyes for everything. He ruled Fakes of Harvard and Sheble of Pennsylvania off the field for slugging and imposed penalty after penalty for holding and offside playing. He was impartial and observant, and watched closely every attendant that came on the field to prevent any sly giving of advice. There was but little rough work, the strictness of Edwards having a wholesome effect. Of the two men who were disqualified, Harvard furnished the first offender. Parker was summarily chased early in the first half, and Sheble in the second half. The game otherwise brought out a dearth of ethical falls from grace.

The sturdy Oregon football team from Eugene arrived in Portland last evening and spent several hours as the guests of the Multnomah club. Captain Latourrette's men look every inch football players and are gentlemen to boot. They met the strong University of Washington eleven at Seattle and a great game is looked for. Coach Shortle looks for a hard contest and is hopeful of the outcome.

A dispatch from Seattle this morning says the Oregon team arrived all right and went at once to Hotel Washington. It is raining in Seattle today and the mud is so deep that the gridiron was muddy. The Washingtonians are cock sure of victory and are betting 5 to 4 on the outcome. Chester Morphett of Stanford and C. M. Best of Lafayette will officiate.
