Hillsboro Citizens Adopt Platform and Name Candidates for a Dry Epoch.

REFORM DECLARED TO BE ESSENTIAL TO WELFARE

Outlook Is for a Warm Contest Between Prohibition and Wet Elements—Mismanagement in City's Finances Is Openly Charged.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., Nov. 17.—The entire town is wild with excitement over the coming city election to be held December 4. Yesterday at a mass-meeting of citizens the following preamble and platform were adopted: Secre Liquor Element. "Whereas, the liquor element has for years had complete control of our city; and whereas, it has notoriously failed to redeem its pledges, in that, notwithstanding it has steadily maintained a ruinous tax rate, it has at the same time failed to do anything in the line of public works commensurate with the funds at its disposal, and has year by year loaded the city with an enormous debt which has grown to proportions now almost hopeless; and whereas, it has debauched, and continues to debauch, some of our citizens, and places temptation in the way of the young, bringing the city into disrepute, and keeping out desirable persons, who would otherwise contribute to the peace, happiness, tranquility and prosperity of the citizens of Hillsboro, and realizing that these are synonymous with virtue, we pledge ourselves unalterably opposed to the liquor traffic and kindred evils, and if elected, will use the power vested in us to remove them and establish a clean city; to secretly guard the home and in every possible way, so much as in us lies, to advance the moral and financial welfare of every citizen by passing and administering pure, just and equitable laws. "We pledge ourselves so far as possible to reduce taxation and the debt which now hangs like a dark cloud over our city. "We ask the support of all good citizens who stand for the integrity of the home, for manhood and womanhood, for peace and prosperity and for present and future good, growth and advancement. The ticket nominated at this meeting is composed of S. S. Barnes, mayor; J. R. A. Carille, G. V. Doughty, councilmen; John Wilke, recorder; John Hawkins, treasurer. "A household necessity, Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Heals burns, cuts, wounds of any sort; cures sore throat, croup, catarrh, asthma; never fails.

WORK BEGINS ON BIG IRRIGATION DITCH

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Baker City, Or., Nov. 17.—Active work is now in progress on a new irrigating ditch, which has its beginning in the canyon of the Powder river above Baker City, and will follow that stream through Baker on to the 7,000-acre tract of the Umatilla project recently purchased from the Patterson syndicate. County Surveyor C. M. Foster, who made the survey, is in charge of the work and is expected to complete it as early as possible. The ditch is also carrying on their irrigation projects covering something more than 2,000 acres.

RULERS OF THE WORLD

Meat-Eating Nations are the Leaders in Every Branch of Human Achievements. The ruling nations of the world are meat eaters and history records that they always have been so. Vegetarians and food cranks may explain this in any way they choose, but the facts remain that the English, French, Russians and Germans are meat-eating nations, and they are also the most energetic and most progressive. The principal food of the heroic Boer soldier, known as Biltong, is a sort of dried beef, affording a great deal of nourishment in a highly concentrated form. The weak races of people are the rice-eating Chinese, Hindus, and Siamese, regarded since the laws of Moses as nonprogressive, superstitious and inferior physically and mentally to the meat-eating nations who dominate them. The structure of the teeth plainly indicates that human beings should subsist upon a variety of meats, fruit and grains, and it is unhygienic to confine one's diet to any one of those classes to the exclusion of another. Meat is the most concentrated and most easily digested of foods, but our manner of living has been so unnatural that the digestive organs refuse to properly digest meat, eggs and similar nutritious and wholesome food, but it is the stomach lacks, from disease or weakness, some necessary digestive element; hence arising indigestion and, later on, chronic dyspepsia. Nervous people should eat plenty of meat, convalescents should make meat the principal food, hard-working people have in their stomachs a sort of meat, but at least once a day, and to insure its perfect digestion, they should take after each meal, because they supply the peritone, diastase and fruit, which lack in every case of stomach trouble. Nervous dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, gastritis, sour stomach, gas and acidity are only different names for indigestion, the failure to digest wholesome food, and the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cures them all because, by affording perfect digestion, the stomach has a chance to rest and recover its natural tone and vigor. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the real household medicine. It is pleasant for the stomach ache of the baby as it is for the imperfect digestion of its grand sire. They are not cathartic, but a digestive, and no pill habit can ever follow their use; the only habit Stuart's Tablets induce is the habit of good digestion and consequently good health.

NIGHT OF TERROR THEIR LOT

Two Hundred Passengers Pass Hours of Anxiety on Crippled Boat.

STEAMER BREAKS DOWN NEAR HELLOGATE ENTRANCE

Panic Prevails and Women With Difficulty Restrained From Leaping Into Surging Waters—All Are Safely Landed.

(Journal Special Service.) New York, Nov. 17.—After a night of terror just above Hell Gate, 200 passengers on the steamer Warren landed this morning. The steamer started last night for Fall River. Her machinery broke and the Captain intended to repair it and proceed, but Coast Service Agent Wessels of San Francisco, who was aboard, told the captain that he was disobeying the law. An indignation meeting was held in the cabin and the passengers forced the captain to return to the dock. A terrific gale was blowing, the lights on the vessel were out and steam from the broken boilers creeping through seams in the decks created a panic. At one time the excitement became so intense that several women were with difficulty restrained from leaping overboard, as the escaping steam and intense darkness led them to believe that the vessel would be blown up or was already sinking. However, hard work on the part of the captain and crew, aided by the color heads among the passengers, restored order and the vessel reached port with all on board safe and uninjured.

BLACKMAILED

John McGuinness, Equitable clerk, stated that the purchases in the stationery and printing departments in 1904 of the Equitable amounted to $274,000. Louis M. Bailey, in whose name the trustee account was carried, stated that he had been a clerk for 15 years and that George H. Squira asked permission to place an account in his name. Building operations were also being carried on by the Equitable Life in his name. He said he had executed no declaration of trust to the society, neither had he done so during the building operations. He said that Frank B. Dewey, former controller, had a monopoly of writing the fire insurance upon properties upon which the society held a mortgage.

Depew Is Recalled. Senator Chauncey M. Depew was recalled. Attorney Hughes said that two letters in connection with the vouchers were placed in evidence this morning. The letters were sent by John A. Nichol to Depew. The first was dated 1895. An extract read: "Our friend who usually gets around this time of year, is not here as usual." Depew did not recall the "friend's" name, but thought that he had some kind of claim against the company. "Our friend up the river is getting cantankerous again and wants to know you-know," read the second letter. Depew said that both persons mentioned were the same and declared that he was not a politician and thought he was not a politician. Dewey said he knew nothing of the Clunie matter in California. He was excused. Gags E. Tarbell of the Equitable was called upon to give evidence, saying that he participated in them personally and did not know that the Equitable was in until after he was in. He said he had nothing to do with the case since March 1 and had wrongfully retained about $1,000 belonging to it. This money is said to have been expended largely for costly dinners, flowers and fashionable equipages. "We urged him often to send us the money," testified Zwick, "but he said he was hard pressed for coin and would do so as soon as he could. We delayed taking action on account of his boldness, who wanted time in which to see if the money could not be obtained from his relatives." Practically the same testimony was given by the Pacific coast manager of the company, who came here from San Francisco. Pease was not placed on the stand. Freeman contended that as his client acted as agent for other companies and kept all money in bank without separate accounts the funds were "mixed" and Pease could not be held to have embezzled from any one of them. Briefs were submitted on this proposition. "After considering the testimony and the arguments advanced in the briefs," said Judge Cameron, "I have reached the conclusion that no joint ownership of the money in bank existed and that the money claimed belonged to the St. Paul Fire & Insurance company, with the exception of $300, perhaps, which might have been due the defendant as commissions. "Taking the various court decisions into consideration I think sufficient facts have been shown to warrant me in holding the defendant to the grand jury."

M'CURDY RETRENCHES.

Cuts His Own Salary in Two and Gives That of Others. (Journal Special Service.) New York, Nov. 17.—The special meeting of the board of trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company yesterday President Richard A. McCurdy announced that a vigorous retrenchment in high salaries was the order of the day and that he had voluntarily requested that his salary be cut in twain and that he receive $15,000 a year instead of $30,000. The salaries of other executive officers will come in for a good slice and the saving to the company will approximate $150,000 a year.

BUILDING YELLOWSTONE RAILROAD TO BEAR CREEK

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Red Lodge, Mont., Nov. 17.—With the arrival of eight carloads of steel and more en route, the delivery within two weeks of 25 carloads of western ties from Roseman and the landing at Bridger of four carloads of Japanese laborers, nothing now stands in the way of the early completion of the Yellowstone Park railroad to Bear Creek, which is to tap the great coal mines at that place. The grading of the road is practically finished, but President F. A. Hall met with many obstacles in his efforts to have the road completed by October 1, as expected. Work at the Bear Creek mines has been temporarily suspended until the road is completed. Three large veins were opened up during the summer and enormous quantities of coal piled in front of the tunnels ready for shipment. The company is in a position to deliver 500 tons per day when the railroad can handle it.

Chehalis Citizens' Ticket. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chehalis, Wash., Nov. 17.—A citizens' ticket has been nominated to be voted for at the city election which will be held in Chehalis, Tuesday, December 5, as follows: Mayor, David Stewart; clerk, W. A. Westover; treasurer, Arthur S. Cory; attorney, W. E. Bishop; health officer, Dr. George H. Doves; all nominees for councilman at large, one year, J. E. Sandison; for councilmen, two-year terms, George R. Walker, L. Lawrence and E. Hartman. A total of 285 voters has registered.

Twenty-Two More for Today and Tomorrow

Who wants the beautiful Haselton Electric self-playing Piano at $150—A Chickering, The Idaho Piano and the Maine building beauty? Don't delay if saving of money is an object. In spite of inclement weather, nine Exposition Pianos were sold yesterday. If we can make it twelve more today and ten more tomorrow, the Exposition sale will be at an end. Special interest will be excited in the beautiful Haselton Piano, which plays by means of an electric motor, can be attached to any light socket, and plays perfectly. You turn the knob on the Haselton, and the music. Don't imagine it is "grind-organ" music—the contrary, critics its playing as you would a virtuoso. You will not be disappointed, its phrasing is perfect, it uses also both soft and loud pedals. The instrument received the highest award, of course. Price is $150, and you'll admit it's worth twice that when you have seen and heard it. A beautiful Chickering Grand should find a home today—won't take it at $115 or? A superb Schumann, used in the Idaho building—take it at a discount of 35 per cent. Only one of the Pianola Pianos remains and the beauty in the Maine building. Prices are 30 per cent off regular price. Several used Pianos for a song. Take the Newton for $55; others for $75, $100, $115. Some Square Pianos, $25, $45, $55—Pay $3 a month. A couple of Phonographs underprice. Just remember this sale ends the chance to secure that noble educator and entertainer, a discount Year's library subscription goes with each. If you want a fine Piano, don't let this opportunity go by unheeded. If you do not wish to pay all cash you can arrange for monthly or even semi-annual installments at these closing-out prices plus simple interest. Tomorrow will end it. Come! Come today or this evening. E. H. F. L. & Co., 351 Washington St., cor. Park.

PEASE MUST FACE GRAND JURY

Judge Cameron Holds Contention of His Counsel Weak and Unavailing.

DINNERS, FLOWERS AND RIGS HELD RESPONSIBLE

Society Man and Choir Singer Admits Shortage of Nineteen Hundred Dollars—Claimed Several Moneys Were Mixed in Same Bank.

Lauren Pease, society man and church choir singer, is to face the grand jury on a charge of larceny by embezzlement. He was held to answer this morning by Police Judge Cameron. He is at liberty on a bond of $3,500, the sureties being W. B. Gage and Mark W. Gill. The case was argued several days ago on preliminary examination and briefs afterward were submitted on a law point by Deputy District Attorney Haney for the prosecution and Attorney Frank Freeman for the defense. Judge Cameron held the contention of the defendant's counsel to be weak and supported neither by precedent nor the weight of evidence. W. Zwick, general manager of the St. Paul Fire & Marine Insurance company, for which Pease acted as local agent, testified that the defendant had not made a remittance to the company since March 1 and had wrongfully retained about $1,000 belonging to it. This money is said to have been expended largely for costly dinners, flowers and fashionable equipages. "We urged him often to send us the money," testified Zwick, "but he said he was hard pressed for coin and would do so as soon as he could. We delayed taking action on account of his boldness, who wanted time in which to see if the money could not be obtained from his relatives." Practically the same testimony was given by the Pacific coast manager of the company, who came here from San Francisco. Pease was not placed on the stand. Freeman contended that as his client acted as agent for other companies and kept all money in bank without separate accounts the funds were "mixed" and Pease could not be held to have embezzled from any one of them. Briefs were submitted on this proposition. "After considering the testimony and the arguments advanced in the briefs," said Judge Cameron, "I have reached the conclusion that no joint ownership of the money in bank existed and that the money claimed belonged to the St. Paul Fire & Insurance company, with the exception of $300, perhaps, which might have been due the defendant as commissions. "Taking the various court decisions into consideration I think sufficient facts have been shown to warrant me in holding the defendant to the grand jury."

Held Up and Robbed in Heart of Butte

(Journal Special Service.) Butte, Nov. 17.—Joseph Schuster was held up and robbed last night by three masked men when within a few blocks of the Northern Pacific depot and relieved of over $100. Schuster made a desperate resistance but was quickly overpowered and a sponge saturated with chloroform was placed against his face. The robbers then went through his pockets, taking everything of any value and then threw him unconscious into an alley, where he lay for two hours. Schuster says his home is in San Francisco and was on his way to the train when he was held up.

MAKES RAID ON FUNDS OF INSANE PATIENTS

Board of Control Appropriates Money at Steilacoom to Buy Land. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seattle, Wash., Nov. 17.—Money taken from the clothing of inmates in the Steilacoom asylum at the time of their incarceration and supposed to be kept in the institution safe has been taken by the state board of control to complete the purchase of land adjoining the asylum grounds. In the safe at the asylum is $3,213 belonging to patients in confinement. The board has appropriated $900 of this amount, allowing the books and office records to show that it was "borrowed." The only record of the purchase of the land is found in the financial statement of the institution for September. The property adjoins the asylum grounds and it is said has been procured by the board for pasture. Thus far no provision has been made for the reimbursement of the inmates' fund, which was raided to acquire this strip of land. The board has held that it had no money in the maintenance or other funds that could be used, and as the legislature will not meet to appropriate more money, the dilemma will continue indefinitely. It may be that if the board has a surplus by the end of the fiscal year the inmates' fund can be reimbursed. Otherwise it will be short when the legislature meets. No one can supply your Thanksgiving dinner with better wines, liquors and cordials and at more reasonable prices than D. Germanus, 228 Morrison street.

PENLETON MEN WORKING FOR UMATILLA PROJECT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Pendleton, Or., Nov. 17.—The board of managers of the Pendleton Commercial association held a meeting last evening to take action regarding the matter of the rejection of the East Umatilla national irrigation project by Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock. Strong hopes have been placed upon this project by the people of Umatilla county. A number of the citizens from Echo attended the meeting, among them being A. C. Crawford, O. D. Test and J. F. McNaught, who own land that will come under this irrigation project. A letter was written to the secretary of the interior asking him to take steps in carrying this matter through. Linneman Injured. FRUIT GROWERS WILL MEET AT LA GRANDE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., Nov. 17.—Preliminary arrangements have been perfected in La Grande for the meeting of the Northwest Fruitgrowers' association, which will be held here from January 2 to January 5. As La Grande and vicinity is considered one of the best fruitgrowing sections in the northwest, the association which met in Boise last year concluded to hold its next meeting in this city. Prominent fruitgrowers from all sections of the country will be in the city for this occasion, and it is the intention of the Grand Ronde citizens to make the meeting a grand success.
