FIND HUGE FRAUDS IN IDAHO LAND

Legislative Committee Experts Find State Land Accounts in Hopeless Tangle.
LAW FREELY VIOLATED IN DISPOSAL OF TIMBER
Money Placed to the Credit of the Wrong Fund—In Lewiston Alone There Is Evidence of Twenty-Three Thousand-Acre Discrepancy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Boise, Ida., Nov. 28.—At the last session of the legislature a committee was appointed to investigate the condition of the state land department and report its findings to the house. The committee was composed of Representatives Powers, Moore and Fuld, and Chairman of Finance, Francis of Shoshone and Christensen of Blinnham.
After spending two weeks the committee made a partial report to the effect that the records of the land office were in such a hopeless tangle, owing to a lack of systematic bookkeeping, that it was impossible to make an intelligent report and asked that the committee be permitted to continue the investigation after adjournment and that a sufficient appropriation be made for the employment of experts to examine the books. In a partial report submitted it was stated that under the various granting acts of congress the state had been donated 968,000 acres of land for the various state and educational institutions, the same to be selected by the proper officers of the state and the proceeds to constitute a permanent fund for the support and maintenance of the institutions. As to how much of these lands had been sold, how many acres had been sold and just what had become of the proceeds it was impossible to make even an approximation.

BOGEY MAN MAY GET BAD BOYS

School Directors Ask Mayor Lane and Council to Appoint a Truant Officer.
JUDGE FRAZER AND CLUB WOMEN TAKE UP MATTER
Juvenile Court Man Says Boys Who Play Hokey Should Not Be Suspended but Should Be Forced to Go to School Regularly.

Portland may soon have a truant officer to assist the school authorities in compelling boys and girls to attend school.
At the meeting of the board of school directors last night a resolution was adopted directing Chairman L. W. Bilton on behalf of the board, to ask Mayor Lane and the city council to appoint such an officer to be under the direction of the city superintendent of schools.
Judge Frazer of the juvenile court and a delegation of women from the Federation of Women's clubs appeared before the school board and made an appeal for the appointment of a truant officer. Judge Frazer said Mayor Lane had said that he was of the opinion that the city council would pass an ordinance creating such an office of truant officer and appropriate funds with which to maintain it.
If the directors would do their duty when a pupil plays truant we would not have so much trouble," said Director Wittenberg. "All that a child who has been suspended has to do is to have the directors sign a reinstatement blank and return to school to play hokey again whenever he feels disposed."
"No reinstatement blanks should be required," replied Bilton. "I have had as high as 30 cases of truancy before me in one day. We have a compulsory educational law and the way to enforce it is not to expel the truant, but to see that he goes to school. There are whole families of children whom the school officials never heard of, and it is from such families that the majority of our juvenile court cases come. Those children are permitted to roam the streets."
In the majority of these cases the heads of families are to blame. The law provides that whoever directly or indirectly encourages delinquency is subject to fine or imprisonment. A lecture delivered to the parents with threats of fine or imprisonment is nearly always sufficient to have them send their children to school.

ASHLAND POLITICAL POT BEGINNING TO BOIL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Ashland, Or., Nov. 28.—As a result of a conference between a committee of the local business and high license men, who are well known advocates of high license, another city ticket has been nominated to be voted for at the ensuing city election.
It is headed by G. S. Butler, a large real estate holder and high license man, for mayor. J. S. Smith, a former Methodist preacher and member of the anti-saloon league committee, is the candidate for recorder. The councilmen named are: First ward, J. M. Baerling; second ward, J. Syd McNair; third ward, J. E. Young; C. H. Thomas, assistant cashier of the Bank of Ashland, is named for treasurer.
A third ticket is expected to appear soon, which will be committed to the principle of municipal ownership.
The objection frequently heard to the Butler ticket is that Mr. Butler's opposition to municipal ownership is specific and well known. A few months ago the people voted that a municipal lighting plant by a very large majority. The present council has not issued the bonds nor taken any steps to erect a plant.

WALLA WALLA SALOONS DEFY CLOSING LAWS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Walla Walla, Wash., Nov. 28.—The reform leaders failed to make a move against the saloonkeepers who kept their places of business open Sunday and it is believed that the moral crusade is going the way of many other reform movements unless the moral element makes some move toward punishing the offending saloonkeepers at tonight's council meeting. The leaders of the movement still assert that they have just started on the work of cleaning up Walla Walla, but the fact that no move was made yesterday to arrest saloonkeepers for violating the Sunday law, is taken by many to mean that the attempt at a reform movement is at an end.

THE HILL

Attractive and Strictly Modern New Resident Hotel.
The new luxurious hotel on Washington street—Lucetta Place—is filling a long-felt want in Portland. The building is thoroughly modern in every respect, having hot and cold water, steam heat, electric lights and telephones in each room, and elevator service day and night. There are a number of rooms, both single and en suite, with private bath, on each floor, and several general baths. Mrs. S. V. Hill, the proprietor, needs no introduction to the Portland public, she having been to a great extent responsible for bringing the resident hotel business in Portland up to its present high standard. The kitchen is in charge of G. W. Woods, one of the best chefs in the far west, and a very efficient crew of colored waiters are giving the best dining-room service ever offered to Portland people. The Hill is giving all the luxuries of the higher-class American-plan hotel, together with the comforts of home life. Mrs. Hill is being assisted in the management by C. L. Morgan, an eastern hotel man of wide experience.

FAMOUS BUTTE CONTEST THROWN OUT OF COURT
Butte, Mont., Nov. 28.—The old and noted suit of Mrs. Katie Blume to recover possession of a one-story brick structure and a portion of a lot valued at $75,000 at Main and Broadway, in the heart of the business district, was thrown out of court by Judge Bourquin yesterday. Mrs. Blume and her attorneys falling to appear when the case was called through apparently some misunderstanding.
