The lumber sent coastwise during the monti, amounts to 13,345,000 feet which, added to that exported, makes a grand total of 18,966,749 feet of Ore gon fir, greater than the business of last month by nearly 7,080,000 feet. This is also close to the record in the port trade.

Another feature revealed by the records at the custom house is the large number of vessels which entered during the month. Including coasters, there were 70, nearly half of which brought either full or part cargoes.
This is the biggest fleet that ever came up the Columbia river in the brief space of 30 days.

Fourteen vessels cleared for foreign ports during the month, 11 of which carried flour, grain and general freight. Three were lumber carriets. In the Three were lumber carriers. In the fleet were five steamships, two fewer than sailed during the preceding month. Many ships are in the harbor receiving flour and grain cargoes for Europe and the orient and it is believed that December will make even a greater showing than the month which is just drawing to a close. The shipments to ports across the sea in detail are as follows:

amount to $305,352.

leared for Dublin of flour, worth $61,260; 26.788 bushels of wheat, valued at $21,450, and 46,948 bushels of barley, worth $23,450, bringing the total up to $108,150.

SEAWORTHY AGAIN.

in Collision.

Thoroughly overhauled and with new cabins, the steamer Aurelia, Captain Erricson, reached port last night from San Francisco after an absence of more than a month. Shortly after her arrival at the Bay City on her last trip from Portland, the steamship Umatilla backed into the Aurelia and damaged her to the extent of about $6,000. Her house was broken into kindling wood and she was rendered unseaworthy.

Captain Erricson says that at the time of the accident the Aurelia had just started to go across the bay to Gakland, when the Umatilla creshed into her. The oscaping steam almost suffocated the officers and crew. Fortunately the passengers had been landed, or it is thought that some of them would have been injured. The steamer was taken to a drydock and was under repairs until and averlis belong to the other day for Portland.

first time that she has ever met with a serious mishap. On this trip she brought 100 tons of general merchandise and had almost a full list of passengers. Coming up the coast she was forced to buck a strong southeast wind the most of the distance, and the officers say heavy seas were running. The Roanoke was not sighted, although it is supposed that the Aurelia passed her in the night off the California coast.

After her freight has been discharged the Aurelia will begin receiving energy for the return voyage. She will take out grain and lumber and is scheduled to sell Saturday night.

TO INVADE RUSSIAN FIELD.

After a rough passage across the Pacific from Japan, the British steamship Epsom. Captain Cox. arrived last night. coming by way of Victoria. British Columbia. Aside from the several gales encountered, which toseed the vessel about on the turbulent waves as though she were a mere plaything, nothing else of incident occurred during the voyage. Apprised of the numerous robberies which have occurred on the ships in the harbor during the past week or two, the officers have determined not to permit any suspicious characters on board.

The Epsom made fast to Montgomery

The Epsom made fast to Montgomery dock No. 2, where she will be loaded with a grain cargo by Kerr. Gifford & with a grain cargo by Kerr. Gifford & Co. for Marseilles, France. She is a big carrier and will take out fully 7,000 tons. This will be the first shipment of grain sent from Portland to southern Europe during the past five years. It is a territory which has hitherto been supplied with wheat and flour almost exclusively by Russia.
