OREGON CITY BEGINS FORTIETH YEAR

Modest as to Own Achievements but Has Much Good Comment on Clackamas.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Oregon City, Nov. 30.—The Oregon City Enterprise, of which L. L. Porter is owner and editor and John W. Cochran, managing editor, with its issue today, enters upon its fortieth year. The paper was established in 1866 and has been published continuously and regularly ever since. For practically all of this time it has occupied its present building. In its editorial salutory the Enterprise very modestly has little to say of its own achievements and a great deal of comment to make on the material advances possessed by Oregon City and Clackamas county. Among other things, it says:

"There are few other localities in which the capital can find so desirable a place for investment in which sure and satisfactory returns are more certain than is offered in Clackamas county. With an almost unlimited water power, there is offered wonderful opportunities for manufacturing industries. No richer or more productive soil is cultivated than that in this county and under intelligent management no more remunerative crops are garnered. No section offers greater inducements to the homeseeker."

Maddock has already announced that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff and he wishes to enter that race without any municipal entanglements.

NO IMPASSABLE OBSTACLES TO PANAMA CANAL

Chairman Shonts Says There is Nothing That Cannot Be Accomplished at Isthmus.

(Journal Special Service.) St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 30.—Chairman Theodore P. Shonts of the Panama canal commission has just made a flying visit to St. Louis. Shonts said that he had not received official word of what kind of a canal the board of engineers favored.

"I can't say what I or other members of the canal commission favor," said Shonts. "In fact, I don't know what kind of a canal we do favor. We are keeping our minds in a receptive state. Of course, it is expected there may be some disagreement. In all probability there may be two reports."

"They have had a great time talking about impassable obstacles on the Isthmus. I want to say this: There is not an obstacle, either in the way of building a sea-level canal or a lock canal, that we cannot climb over or cut through. We will build a sea-level canal if the government wants us to do so."

MANY CONSUMPTIVES HELPED

State Hospital in Astoria Shows Encouraging Figures—105 Patients Discharged.

The trustees of the New York State Hospital for Incipient Pulmonary Tuberculosis in the Adirondacks have issued their completed statistics for the first year, which is as follows: There were admitted 207 patients; more than half of whom were incipients. There were no deaths. Of the 105 patients discharged, fifty-two were apparently recovered. Twenty-six arrested cases are reported. Sixteen improved, while eleven left without any improvement. The treatment consists mainly of outdoor air, wholesome food and rest. Patients have three full meals a day, and 90 of the 105 gained an average of 10.57 pounds each. This is certainly most encouraging and shows that incipient consumptives at least can be cured.

There is another treatment perhaps almost as good. Stay home, use cold baths in the morning, get as much outdoor exercise as possible, a generous diet and the continuous use of Scott's Emulsion will doubtless check the progress of the disease and may permanently cure. At any rate it is easy to try it.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Nov. 30.—Thanksgiving is being universally observed in the capital city. Special services were held in all the churches this morning and this evening a big union service will be held at the First Congregational church. All the schools are closed and programs appropriate to the day were given yesterday afternoon in the different buildings throughout the city.

Special turkey dinners were served at all the state institutions. At the blind and reform schools the special exercises were held last evening. At the latter institution football and other forms of athletic sports were indulged in. At the mute school a basketball game was played this forenoon and this evening there will be an entertainment, followed by a party for the children.

The 1,400 patients at the asylum were treated to an old-fashioned turkey and chicken dinner at 3 o'clock, and this evening a number of the attendants will present for their amusement the drama, "Hickory Farm." The prisoners at the penitentiary were given their best dinner for many a day and were afterward treated to a concert by the prison orchestra.

The first team of the Willamette university is closing the football season by playing the Chemawa Indians on the varsity field this afternoon, while the third team is trying conclusions with the Dallas juniors at Dallas. The second team of the high school is playing the Woodburn high school at Woodburn and another one of the school teams is playing at the reform school.

Church Services, Followed by Football Games Between High School Teams. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Eugene, Or., Nov. 30.—Thanksgiving day is being observed in Eugene in the usual manner. This forenoon the churches of the city held union services in the First Baptist church. Rev. L. E. Rockwell, pastor of Humphrey Memorial Methodist Episcopal church, being the speaker of the occasion.

This afternoon a football game between the Eugene and Portland high school teams is being played on the university gridiron. Tonight a grand military ball will be given by Company C at the armory.

Church Services, Followed by Football Games Between High School Teams. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Vancouver, Wash., Nov. 30.—Despite the fact that City Clerk Harris states all was harmony at the nonpartisan mass meeting last week, when a city ticket was nominated for the coming election, the petition circulated putting in nomination a second ticket has been signed by nearly every business man of Vancouver. In fact, it is not known that any refused to sign it and a majority were highly pleased at the idea. As the time for the election grows nearer it is evident that the main contest will be for the city clerkship. This office is well worth making a fight for, as with it goes the justice of the peace. The combined office carries with it a good salary and fees. While J. E. Harris, the present incumbent, who is on the first ticket for re-election, is out electioneering for himself, his opponent, A. J. Bigham, is depending upon the work of his friends, who are out in force. The fight for the office promises to greatly increase the total number of votes cast. Both sides are out scaring up people who care nothing for politics and seldom vote.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value in maintaining the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestine and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh. All drugs and charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form, or rather in the form of large, pleasant-tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a convincing way the condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the benefit of it is that no possible harm can result from their continued use; but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, indigestion, flatulence, and to purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the timely use of these lozenges; but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better results from Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."
