FIRST HIGHWAY BRIDGE TO SPAN THE COLUMBIA

Great Northern and People of Wenatchee Unite to Build Structure.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Wenatchee, Wash., Dec. 7.—Within six months there will be constructed a highway steel bridge across the Columbia river at a cost of $120,000. Work on the structure will be begun as soon as material can be secured and will be pushed to completion, which it is estimated will take about a year from the commencing of work. After a conference of the leading business men of this city capitalists of Seattle and officials of the Great Northern railroad it was decided that the railroad, the Wenatchee Development company and the Wenatchee Canal company would furnish $100,000 of the $120,000 needed to build the bridge, provided that citizens of Wenatchee would furnish the remaining $20,000. In two days the money was subscribed by business men of the valley. The bridge will be a toll bridge, but on account of the increased traffic which it will bring it is expected that the toll will be 25 per cent less than is charged by the ferry. The promoters say that they will sell the state or county is ready to take the bridge from their hands. The bridge will carry an inverted siphon connected with the present high line ditch and will furnish water to irrigate about 20,000 acres on the east side of the Columbia river. The bridge that is to be built is the first highway bridge to be built across the Columbia river in this state.

The land purchased is in the southeastern part of Grant county and the northeastern part of Harney county, and is reported as being heavily timbered. The Sumpter Valley railway is building into the country in which this land is situated, and it is the intention of these parties to "put up" several sawmills in this section.

Unconscious. From Puck. "She's the most unconscious girl I ever saw." "Well, why shouldn't she be? She's pretty and knows it; she's clever and knows it; and she's good and knows it. What has she to be conscious of?"
