FRESH FISH ON A SCARCITY

Salmon and Halibut Ranging a Half Cent Higher—Fishermen Take Holiday.

POTATOES AND ONIONS ARE QUOTED QUIETER

California Celery Due Coming Week—Chickens Very Firm—Eggs Coming Considerably Faster—Scarcity of Cabbage and Cauliflower.

Front Street, Dec. 15.—The principal features of the Portland wholesale market today are: Salmon and halibut scarce. Cabbage market very firm. Cauliflower scarce and high. Eggs in fair demand. California steamer due tonight. California celery due next week. Household market quiet. Chicken market very firm. Egg receipts still enlarging. Slight advance in cranberries. Turkey receipts slow in coming. Potatoes and onions quiet. Hops have speculative movement. Veal market a trifle advanced.

Fish Market Ranges Higher. With the approach of the holidays fishermen are desisting in catching fish in preparation to take a few weeks' vacation, or until after the New Year. This is resulting in a scarcity of fish in the market and salmon from the Columbia was rather scarce today. Both fish are now quoted at 7 1/2 a pound, an advance of 1/2 in recent quotations.

Cabbage Market Very Firm. With a scarcity of cabbage at a low ebb there is a firmness in the market and the best product is quoted stiff at 1 1/2 a pound.

There is a temporary scarcity of oranges and prices are held a trifle firmer. A car is due to be distributed along the street late in the day.

Cauliflower is very scarce and prices are held firm and generally higher. A car of California cauliflower and celery is due to arrive in from Los Angeles in time for the Christmas trade.

An advance of 60c per barrel is shown in cranberries today. Prices are ranging between $13 and $14 a barrel. The latter quotation is the most in vogue.

The California steamer is due to arrive, this evening from Los Angeles. The steamer is in good arrival. Trade is quite heavy, all arrivals being cleaned up at the local market.

Potatoes and Onions Are Quiet. There is a quiet tone to both the potato and onion markets and few transactions are reported. Fancy potatoes are even harder than ever in purchase and poor stocks are not wanted. There is only a fair degree of strength shown in the California onion demand and this tone is reflected here. Prices in both markets are unchanged.

Egg Receipts Still Enlarging. This continues to be an increase in the arrivals of local fresh eggs in the Portland market. The increase is easily noticed and the tone of the market is not quite so good as a result. The trade in general believes in lower prices.

Chicken Market Very Firm. Exceedingly good form is shown in the chicken market today. Prices are still very high and demand is increasing. Once in a while a fancy lot brings a fraction over the printed value. However, the bulk of the trade is in those generally quoted to the dealers. Geese and ducks are very slow in coming and both of these markets show an improved feeling. Prices remain the same.

Spamified Tons in Hops. In the hop market the tone is very queer, one day the market being brisk, while another day it is dull. The demand for hops is in the front of demand. Independence continues to be the source of high prices and a sale at 1 1/2 is reported. There is a general lack of buyers, but one "long" firm is buying to keep prices from sagging. It is now estimated that about 25,000 tons of hops are to be sold this season.

Veal Market a Trifle Advanced. On account of the lighter receipts during the past few days there is considerable improvement in the veal market. The veal market is especially slow in coming and the price today for the first-class product is 7 1/2.
