WEDNESDAY'S WHEAT MARKET.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—Today's wheat market was unsettled and nervous throughout, apparently having no fixed tendency. Undoubtedly the government report to come today caused some evening up by the small traders, but it was evident there was but little wheat for sale at any time. The break came altogether through short selling, but such sales met with but scant encouragement. The tone would seem to suggest that the market is in a position to respond to news of a favorable character.
