Salem's right end for 25 yards. After a play or two Multnomah lost the ball on a fumble. Salem's advance was stopped and Bishop punted. There were no material gains made thereafter dur-ing the half, both hides punting fre-quently. On kicks Stott and Jordan were down the field like hawks and the Salem men had their troubles in run-ing båck the ball. In the second half the ball surged to and fro until the latter part, when with the haavy penalities inflicted by Olinger the place kick was made possible and accomplished. During the few remain-ing minutes of play there was nothing of importance done.

In everytiging except age. Eastern racing men already are mak-ing plans for next season's work. It is pointed out, by the way, that the season will be one day short. The first day on which racing in New York may be carried on fails of Sunday. This 's a blessing in one way. It gives an off day for the racing crowd to make the shift from Bennings to New York. With this exception there is not likely to be any important changes from the sched-ule of last season. There is little doubt that the Westchester association would any important changes from the sched-ule of last season. There is little doubt that the Westchester association would like to swap dates with the Brooklyn Jockey club, but such a change is really impracticable under existing conditions. Bacing Dates Again. The question of racing dates for the Empire City track of James Butler is likely to be a source of trouble to the Jockey club next season again. Last year he was denied dates for reasons that the Jockey club stewards believed just. Chief, among these is the matter of transportation. The means of get-ting to and from the track were so woe-fully deficient as to condemn it even care to use the same utensil provided for the family. WASHER.

ting to and from the track were so wee-fully deficient as to condemn it even with other conditions satisfactory. So far as the public knows no efforts have been put forth looking to an im-provement in this respect. However, if Mr. Butler should again apply for dates, as it is assumed that he will, his application will no doubt be accompanied with assurances that he has taken measures to fulfill all the has taken measures to fulfill all the requirements exacted in such cases.

Naturally, the Empire City folks covet the month of August, when racing is on at Saratoga and when for four weeks there is a cessation of the sport in the immediate neighborhood of New York city. But, as the assignment of dates is entirely within the jurisdiction of the Jockey ciub stewards, they might not take kind-

KEATING AND POLLACK

You see the beacon light of healthful contentment illuminating the evening of your life in a pretty little coltage close to nature's beauties. You see your de-voted spouse sharing the ecstaales of a delicious oid age. Slap! "Hello, Bill, old kid, have a drink?" You are aroused from your rumination by the voice of a dear friend inviting you in to sup of the oil of joy. You can't refuse. In fact, the "buying spirit" becomes contagious, and you reach for the nine dollars in your pants pocket. You meet seven other friends making merry over the rosewood. A voice breaks through the funes of clam juice, "Let's shake!" "Sure," every one answers, and the fluid clerk steers the box and dice over the bar. The game is on. You're not "stuck" the first round. You hap up a drink and shake again. Maybe you're not stuck this time, either. Finally, no matter how the pictures are hung, you get elected to buy. You want to get even. You're stuck again. The craze has gripped you. You forget that such an institu-tion as old age ever existed." The other game is shooting craps.

The other game is shooting craps. There's no sociability in a crap game. The players are only on speaking terms with the dice and nothing is at stake but money. The game is perhaps one of the most popular among modern diseases —barring appendicitis. Newsboys and trust magnates are on a social equality in the seven-come-eleven game and all conventionalities are put aside. A gam-bling joint or a funeral may be chosen as the scene of a crap game with equal propriety. Withal, the merry click of the bones gives us cur hunch to banish worldly care and worship at the shrine of the Goddess of Chance.

All con-testants must be members of some ac-credited amateur club. Chief of Police Collins has given permission for the holding of the boxing matches, notwith-standing the efforts which have been Multinomah rooters a proper and com-fortable feeling. In the second half, within the last 10 minutes of play, Bishop, Rader, Dolan and Nace, advanced the ball on consist-ent plunges, aided by four five-yard pen-alties by Olinger, to Multinomah's five-yard line, where the old guard took a determined stand and stopped up the Stars. A try for goal from placement was ordered and from the midat of a bunch of struggling club players Rader lifted the water-soaked oval two feet, over the bar for a goal. The feat was a worthy one, considering the wrotched condition of the field and the ball and the terrific defense of the clubmen. Rader had the pleasure of performing made from certain quarters to prevent the tournament. One of the specially arranged features will be a match between Fred Gilmore and Ben Linstedt, his conqueror in a recent battle.
