are much seen in the fall displays, in both the dull and shiny leathers. Those made of the latter stock usually have the uppers of a dull finished leather, with buttons of the same kind to match.

The "Fidgin" last is the name of the latest fresh in men's shoes, and is inclined to be rather an extreme cut. The inside edge is cut almost straight, while the outside edge comes to a stop with a practically square cut-off, which tends to give it a "pigeon toe" appearance, from which its name is taken.

Colombia

Democratic Governor-Elect Pattison of Ohio and his wife are strict Methodists and will permit no dancing at the inaugural reception in Columbus.

Dr. Thwing, president of the Western Reserve university, remarked, after recently attending the horse show in New York and finding it to be as much of a party as an equine one: "It is a clothesline instead of a horse race."
