Judge Wolverton has under advisement a suit in equity which involves the title to the land now held by the Elks, corner of Seventh and Stark streets, upon which they recently erected a new home. The contestants to the property, which is valued at about $110,000, are Mrs. M. Cohen, wife of the late Nathan Cohen, and her minor son, Aaron Cohen. When the elder Cohen died he left an estate, including the property in question, against which there was a mortgage for $4,000, held by Joseph Hume. Foreclosure proceedings were instituted. The defendants aver in their complaints that they were not properly made defendants to the suit, as were neither of the three executors of the estate. They claim they still have an equity in the property, as its sheriff's sale was illegal, and ask that the court order that they receive their share.

A branch office is to be established in Portland on February 1 by the National Biscuit company, which has head offices in New York and Chicago, and is capitalized for $55,000,000. At the same time branches will be opened in Seattle, Spokane and Los Angeles. The local office will handle direct the trade emanating from Portland and vicinity. It will be in charge of C. H. Hill, assistant to E. R. Trumbull, commercial agent of the Illinois Central railroad, whose resignation from the road becomes effective February 1.

Declaring that her husband, R. B. Smith, maintained that she was a medium and insisted that she should consult the spirits, Mrs. Rosetta Smith has filed an answer in the circuit court to her husband's suit for a divorce. She also states in the answer that Smith often associated with disreputable persons. Mrs. Smith now asks that she be granted the divorce, alimony and an interest in a lot owned by the couple in Rainier, Oregon. Smith asked for a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

Charles Smith, the wrestler known as "Strangler" Smith, desires it known that his arm was not broken in the accident on board a ship two weeks ago, nor was he removed to a hospital. In the accident his right hand was injured, but he is rapidly improving. He declares that he will be able to meet any antagonist within a month. "The Strangler" declares that he has recently received several challenges from wrestlers of prominence in the northwest.

Detective Hartman, who is in Seattle en route from Vancouver with a Japanese in custody, has wired to Chief Gritzmacher that John Menemee is under arrest in Seattle for burglary. Menemee is wanted in Portland for holding up and robbing V. V. Rand, an insurance man. Mr. Rand was relieved of $44 in money and a gold watch and chain. The watch and chain were worn by Menemee when arrested.

Gas consumers, are you using the new Welsbach gas mantle that will not explode or light at bottom of burner when gas is lighted? Price 25 cents each. Welsbach burners complete, equipped with the above mantle, 75 cents each. Mica chimneys 15 cents each, and all other lighting supplies at the lowest prices. H. W. Manning L. & B. Co., 42 Third St. Tel. Main 2311.

W. A. Cleland, B. M. Pettigrew and H. K. Sargent have filed articles of incorporation with County Clerk Fields for the Chinook Lumber company. The company will develop timber lands in both Oregon and Washington, and will build a railroad between Deep River, Wahkiakum county, Washington, and Willapa bay, Washington. The capital stock is $200,000.

Gee See waits by the Sang Ning river in southern China for the $50 that has been sent to her as all that was left by her husband, Chan Sing Yep, who died in Portland some time ago. With it she will have to provide for herself and minor son, Duck Sing. Chin Wo, who was appointed administrator of the estate of his dead countryman, has made his final report to County Judge Lionel R. Webster.

A Chinook wind thawed the snow and caused washouts on the Northern Pacific road yesterday between Pasco and Spokane. The company ran passenger trains over the O. R. & N. Co.'s tracks while the tracks were being repaired. Perishable freight was declined yesterday. It is expected the regular traffic will be resumed tonight.

Miss Louise Forsyth will give a Shakespeare reading of "As You Like It" at St. Helen's Hall, Tuesday evening, January 30, at 8 o'clock. The proceeds of the entertainment are for the benefit of the St. Helen's Hall gymnasium building fund.

Articles of incorporation for the Exposition Rink company have been filed in the county clerk's office by David T. Honeyman, R. A. Leites and Chester G. Murphy. The capital stock is $2,000.

The Oregon Equal Suffrage association will meet at 2 p. m. tomorrow at 193 Sixth street. Members will please note change of hour.

At a meeting held yesterday by the Portland board of trade to consider the franchise asked for by the Willamette Valley company for a railroad track on First street the board decided that it would recommend that the railroad company be given permission to build an elevated road on that street, provided the company would permit other roads to use the track. The secretary was directed to notify the company of this decision.

Seeking a conspicuous location in the railway terminal yards near the icehouse, last night a thief coolly built a small fire and opened a United States mail pouch, which he had stolen from a truck, on which it was to be conveyed to the 11:45 o'clock Seattle train. More than 300 letters had been opened by the thief before he was discovered by Assistant Yardmaster Ortchild. The latter called to him, whereupon he ran. Sergeant Hogeboom and Detective Vaughn searched for the man as soon as a report was made to the police by Baggagemaster Davis, but he was not found. There is no way of telling whether the letters opened contained valuables or not, as they were thrown into the fire afterward. The affair has been reported to the United States postal authorities and secret service agents will be put on the case.

Judge Fraser yesterday decided that John Rankin had been illegally removed last March from the position of regular sidewalk inspector to that of irregular inspector and the court ordered that Rankin be paid the difference between the salaries of the two positions. Rankin was removed last March by former City Engineer Charles Wanser. The position of regular city sidewalk inspectors pays $75 a month, while that of an irregular inspector pays $2.50 a day actual time.

BUYS BRASS WATCH THEN VISITS MAYOR

Gus Lundine, an unsophisticated country youth, came to Mayor Lane yesterday and complained that he had been bunkoed out of $10 in a second-hand auction house at 8 Third street. To support his statement he produced a large brass watch and chain, which he said he had been induced to purchase, thinking it a good watch.

The mayor took the watch and the number of the auction house and told the young man that he would see that his money was refunded to him.

"This is only one of dozens of such cases which have been brought to our attention," said the mayor. "The second-class auctioneers do business under the protection of a license granted them by the city council. The chief of police has brought the matter before the license committee, with actual evidence that farmers and poor people are being robbed by these men. The councilmen have paid no heed to our entreaties, but continue to license these men to rob the unwary."

Geysers and Hot Lakes.

It is easier to visit New Zealand and the wonderful thermal region than to go to Yosemite or the Yellowstone. The trip on the steamers from San Francisco—which is pleasure sailing the day long—with stops at Honolulu and Samoa, is a delightful experience. The train trip from Auckland to Rotorua, the region of the geysers and hot lakes, is a short one of seven or eight hours. The Waimangu geyser throws a stream 1,500 feet. Round trip ticket permits stopovers en route. First cabin $300, second cabin $210, from Portland to Auckland and return. Ask for folder. C. W. Stinger, 254 Washington street.

FIREMEN WANTED ON EAST SIDE

New Equipment Cannot Be Installed Until Many Candidates Pass Tests.

VOLUNTEER COMPANIES MAY FILL THE BREACH

Suburban Clubs Want Protection at Any Cost and Will Urge That No Delays Be Allowed, Even If Old Call System Is Needed.

The east side office of The Journal is in the store of J. M. G. Miller, 300 East Morrison street. Telephone East 276.

Some method will have to be devised to enable the fire department to secure enough men to supply the three or four new stations on the east side and unless more candidates appear for examination in the next few weeks than are expected the improvement clubs of the various suburbs affected will take up the problem and urge the advantages of the service on young men who would make good firemen.

The adoption by the council of the budget of the ways and mean committee gives the fire department ample funds to establish three new engine houses, another truck company and provide for a better distribution of the apparatus already in service. To man this equipment 30 additional members are needed on the east side and there are no men on the extra list that can be called to fill the breach, the regular force being somewhat short, owing to infrequent examinations and the resignation of a number of firemen.

When it was proposed to install the South Portland engine recently there were not enough men for the station. Some 40 men recently took an examination before the civil service commission for places in the department, but several of these were already members of the department and merely tried for higher places. The usual per cent of the new candidates will doubtless fail the final test and it is doubtful if more than a dozen new names will be added to the rolls. Most of these will be needed to fill vacancies.

Were men available there would be little delay in extending protection to the suburbs, as most of the apparatus required is already owned by the department, being out of commission for various reasons. The truck company could be put in service as soon as a house was available and at least one engine company could be supplied from apparatus on hand. One solution to the problem is suggested by the Multnomah Push club, that stands ready to supply a volunteer company if proper apparatus is furnished. A firehouse is already established on Mississippi avenue and a volunteer company has been organized. A chemical wagon and a hose reel at this house would protect the district, even under volunteer service, which could be replaced by a paid force as soon as men were available. Other suburbs have the skeleton for a volunteer organization and might easily supply their own needs if given apparatus. As several of the chemical companies will be sent to more distant suburbs and replaced by engine crews, the plan of substitution of volunteer forces for regular firemen is considered timely.

Any plan that will enable some of the suburbs, at present dependent upon garden hose and hand grenades, to secure something approaching real protection will be strongly favored by the district associations.

MT. TABOR PROBLEMS.

Three Schools Overcrowded and Supply of Cash Running Low.

The schools of Mount Tabor are crowded. In the central building all the classrooms are utilized, as well as the halls, one class of the smallest children holding its sessions on the stairs. The same condition exists in the Glencoe and North Mount Tabor buildings, though the latter structure was added to the equipment of the district last year. The problems confronting the district for next year are serious, unless it be taken into the district No. 1 at the June election. This merger is what the Mount Tabor board and citizens are pinning their faith to.

Should this not be effected an addition will have to be built to the main building and probably to the Glencoe school as well, and extensive alterations will have to be made in the central building, which needs shingles, paint and plumbing badly. The low levy of the district, only 2½ mills, will not only not allow any of these improvements being made this year, but will not meet the current expenses. There will be about enough money raised by the levy to run the school until the June vacation, but the first three and one half months of next autumn must be provided for, should the district not be annexed to No. 1, by warrants.

NEW CHURCH PROSPEROUS.

Revival at Laurelwood Increases Methodist Congregation There.

Successful revival meetings are being conducted at the Laurelwood Methodist church by Rev. Frank Campbell. Though started but a few days ago, these special services have already drawn audiences that fill the church nightly and several accessions to the congregation are reported as a result. City pastors are assisting in the work, the sermon last night being preached by Rev. Asa Sleeth. The Laurelwood church was organized less than a year ago and when Mr. Campbell took charge last fall, leaving St. Johns for the new field, he was the first regular pastor. When the church was built there were but few families associated in the movement and most of the money for the edifice was raised by the city board of church extension. The congregation is able now to support a pastor and should the present rate of growth continue another year a more commodious building will have to be provided.

ALL FAVOR HIGH SCHOOL.

St. Johns Taxpayers Accept Advice of School Board.

St. Johns is going to have a high school. At a well attended gathering of the leading residents of the place last night the school board placed the matter before the meeting and by an almost unanimous vote it was decided to establish a high school as soon as needed, the time being left to the discretion of the board. Under the terms of the James Johns will, a site for a high school, consisting of a block in the center of the town, has been reserved and there is about $7,000 on hand to apply to such a building, this money being received by the trustees of the estate through the sale of property and being held in trust for the school district. It has been evident ever since the opening of the school this year that the single building would not accommodate the greatly increased attendance, even though its capacity was more than doubled last summer. For a time it was thought the best plan would be to erect a new four-room building in North St. Johns for grade pupils, but it was found the high school was more greatly needed, and when built it will serve to relieve the pressure on the central building, as well as to give the grade graduates a chance to pursue higher courses.

SODALITY ELECTIONS.

Three Societies of St. Mary's Church Choose Their Officers.

Officers of the Senior, Junior and Altar Boys' sodalities of the St. Mary's church, Albina, have been chosen. The boys' society is for the purpose of instructing the altar boys in the various ceremonies and training the choir in the Gregorian chant. Officers of the Senior sodality are: Prefect, Miss Kate Cauley; first assistant, Miss Kate Marren; second assistant, Miss Elizabeth Theis; secretary, Miss Anna Stewart; assistant secretary, Miss May Major; treasurer, Miss Hanna Skelly. Junior sodality officers are: Prefect, Miss Annie Murphy; first assistant, Miss Agnes Smith; second assistant, Miss Monica Curtin; secretary, Miss Minnie Logus; assistant secretary, Miss Kathryn Miller; treasurer, Miss Eva Hinkle; assistant treasurer, Miss B. Van Patten; librarian, Miss Mary Marpert. The Altar Boys' sodality chose the following: President, Herman Deragisch; vice-president, Willie Hogan; secretary, Orlo Wascher; treasurer, Charles Kennedy.
